Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 154.29-050 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The authority, upon adoption of its final approval, may enter into with any approved company an agreement with respect to its tourism attraction project. The terms and provisions of each agreement shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) The amount of approved costs, which shall be determined by negotiations between the authority and the approved company;

(b) A date certain by which the approved company shall have completed the tourism attraction project. Upon request from any approved company that has received final approval prior to or after July 15, 2000, the authority shall grant an extension or change, which in no event shall exceed three (3) years from the date of final approval, to the completion date as specified in the agreement of an approved company. Within three (3) months of the completion date, the approved company shall document the actual cost of the project through a certification of the costs to be provided by an independent certified public accountant acceptable to the authority; and

(c) The following provisions:

1. The term shall be ten (10) years from the later of:
    a. The date of the final approval of the project; or
    b. The completion date specified in the agreement, if this completion date is within three (3)[~~two (2)~~] years of the date of the final approval of the project;
2. Within forty-five (45) days after the end of each half of each fiscal year of the approved company, the approved company shall supply the authority with such reports and certifications as the authority may request demonstrating to the satisfaction of the authority that the approved company is in compliance with the provisions of KRS 139.536 and KRS 154.29-010 to 154.29-060. Based upon a review of these materials and other documents that may be made available, the authority shall then certify to the Revenue Cabinet that the approved company is in compliance with this section; and
3. The approved company shall not receive a sales tax refund as prescribed by KRS 139.536 with respect to any fiscal year if:
    a. In any year following the fourth year of the agreement, the tourism attraction project fails to attract at least twenty-five percent (25%) of its visitors from among persons who are not residents of the Commonwealth; or
    b. In any year following the first year of the agreement, the tourism attraction project is not operating and open to the public for at least one hundred (100) days.

(2) The agreement shall not be transferable or assignable by the approved company without the written consent of the authority.

(3) In consideration of the execution of the agreement as defined in KRS 154.29-010 and notwithstanding any provision of KRS 139.770 to the contrary, the approved company as defined in KRS 154.29-010, excluding its lessees, may be granted a sales tax refund under KRS 139.536 from the Kentucky sales tax imposed by KRS 139.200 on the sales generated by or arising at the tourism attraction project as defined in KRS 154.29-010.

Section 2. KRS 139.536 is amended to read as follows:

(1) In consideration of the execution of the agreement as defined in KRS 154.29-010 and notwithstanding any provision of KRS 139.770 to the contrary, the approved company as defined in KRS 154.29-010, excluding its lessees, may be granted a sales tax refund from the Kentucky sales tax imposed by KRS 139.200 on the sales generated by or arising at the tourism attraction project as defined in KRS 154.29-010. The approved company shall have no obligation to refund or otherwise return any amount of this sales tax refund to the persons from whom the sales tax was collected. The term of the agreement granting the sales tax refund shall be ten (10) years, and this time period shall commence on the later of:

(a) The final approval for purposes of the inducements; or

(b) The completion date specified in the agreement.

(2) Any sales tax collected by an company as defined in KRS 154.29-010 on sales transacted after final approval but prior to the commencement of the term of the agreement, including any approved company that has received final approval prior to July 15, 2000, shall be refundable as if collected after the commencement of the term and applied to the approved company's first fiscal year's refund after activation of the term and without changing the term.

(3) The total sales tax refund allowed to the approved company over the term of the agreement in subsection (1) of this section shall be equal to the lesser of the total amount of the sales tax liability of the approved company and its lessees or twenty-five percent (25%) of the approved costs. The sales tax refund shall accrue over the term of the agreement in an annual amount equal to two and one-half percent (2.5%) of the approved cost. Notwithstanding the foregoing two and one-half percent (2.5%) limitation, any unused inducements as set forth in KRS 154.29-010(9) from a previous year may be carried forward to any succeeding year during the term of the agreement until the entire twenty-five percent (25%) of the approved costs have been received through sales tax refunds. By October 1 of each year the Revenue Cabinet shall certify to the authority and the secretary of the Tourism Development Cabinet for the preceding fiscal year for all approved companies for which sales tax returns were filed with respect to a tourism attraction project, the sales tax liability of the approved companies receiving inducements under this section and KRS 154.29-010 to 154.29-060, and their lessees, and the amount of the sales tax refunds issued pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(4)[~~(3)~~]Interest shall not be allowed or paid on any refund made under the provisions of this section.

(5)[~~(4)~~]The Revenue Cabinet may promulgate administrative regulations and require the filing of forms designed by the Revenue Cabinet to reflect the intent of this section and KRS 154.29-010 to 154.29-060.

HB 719, AN ACT relating to collection of taxes.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 134.500 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Uncollectible tax claims shall bear interest at twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date the certificate of delinquency is issued. All tax bills on omitted property that were not turned over to the sheriff in time to be collected or to make the sale provided for in KRS 134.430 and 134.440 shall also be submitted to the fiscal court but shall be carried over as a charge against the sheriff at the time he makes his next regular settlement.

(2) The cabinet shall be responsible for the collection of certificates of delinquency and delinquent personal property tax bills; however, the cabinet shall first offer the collection duties to the county attorney, unless the cabinet determines that the county attorney has previously failed to perform collection duties in a reasonable and acceptable manner. Any county attorney desiring to perform the duties associated with the collection of delinquent tax claims shall enter into a contract with the cabinet on an annual basis. The terms of the contract shall specify the duties to be undertaken by the county attorney. These duties shall include but are not limited to the following actions:

- (a) Within fifty (50) days after the issuance of a certificate of delinquency to the state, county, and taxing district, the county attorney or the Revenue Cabinet shall cause a notice of the purchase to be mailed by regular mail to the property owner at the address on the records of the property valuation administrator. The notice shall advise the owner that the certificate is a lien of record against all property of the owner, and bears interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum, and if not paid will be subject to collection by the county attorney as provided by law.
- (b) The county attorney shall file in the office of the county clerk a list of the names and addresses to which the notice was mailed along with a certificate that the notice was mailed in accordance with the requirements of this section.
- (c) All notices returned as undeliverable shall be submitted to the property valuation administrator. The property valuation administrator shall attempt to correct inadequate or erroneous addresses and, if property has been transferred, shall determine the new owner and the current mailing address. The property valuation administrator shall return the notices with the corrected information to the county attorney prior to the expiration of the one (1) year tolling period provided in KRS 134.470.
- (d) Within ninety (90) days after the expiration of the one (1) year tolling period provided in KRS 134.470, the county attorney shall cause a notice of his intention to enforce the lien to be mailed to all owners whose tax bills remain delinquent. No second notice shall be required for addresses previously determined to be undeliverable and for which the property valuation administrator has not provided corrected information.
- (e) Failure to mail the notices shall not affect the validity of the claim of the state, county, and taxing district. The postal cost of mailing the notices shall be added to the certificate of delinquency and, upon collection, the county attorney shall be reimbursed for the postage. The county attorney shall deliver at the same time a list of the owners whose tax bills remain delinquent to the property valuation administrator. The property valuation administrator shall review this list in accordance with the provisions of KRS 132.220 to establish that the properties on the list can be identified and physically located.

(3) The county attorney who enters into a contract with the cabinet shall have a period of two (2) years after the expiration of the one (1) year tolling period provided in KRS 134.470 to collect delinquent tax bills or to initiate court action for their collection. At the expiration of the two (2) years the cabinet may assume responsibility for all uncollected bills except those with pending court action.

(4) The county attorney who enters into a contract with the cabinet and performs his duties in respect to the certificate of delinquency and delinquent personal property tax bills shall be entitled to twenty percent (20%) of the amount due each taxing unit, whether the tax claim is voluntarily paid or is paid through sale or under court order, and the fee shall be paid to him by the county clerk when making distribution, as provided in KRS 134.480. This fee shall be added to the amount of the tax claims and paid by the persons paying the tax claims. They shall not be paid by the taxing districts or deducted from the taxes due the taxing districts. This fee shall be waived if the certificate of delinquency is paid within five (5) days of its recordation in the clerk's office. If more than one (1) county attorney renders necessary services in an effort to collect a tax claim, the attorney serving the last notice or rendering the last substantial service preceding collection shall be entitled to the fee. When the county attorney's office, in an effort to collect a certificate of delinquency, or delinquent personal property tax bills files a court action which is litigated by the taxpayer, an additional county's attorney fee equal to thirteen percent (13%) of the total tax plus ten percent (10%) penalty, may be added to the certificate or the bill and shall become part of the tax claim.

(5) If a county attorney chooses not to contract for these collection duties or if a county attorney fails to perform the duties required by the contract, the cabinet shall assume responsibility for the collection process. In the performance of those duties, the cabinet shall have all the powers, rights, duties, and authority with respect to the collection, refund, and administration of the amount due on the certificate of delinquency conferred generally upon the cabinet by Kentucky Revised Statutes including, but not limited to, KRS Chapters 131, 134, and 135. The twenty percent (20%) fee that would have otherwise been paid to the county attorney shall be paid to the cabinet for deposit in the delinquent tax fund provided for under KRS 134.400.

(6) Any action on behalf of the state, county, and taxing districts authorized by this section or by KRS 134.470, 134.490, or 134.540 shall be filed on relation of the secretary, and the petition may be sent to the cabinet, which may require revision in instances where it deems revision or amendment necessary. The cabinet shall advise the county attorney in all actions, and may send him special assistance when the secretary deems assistance necessary. A copy of the judgment shall also be sent to the cabinet. The Committee Substitute No. 2 to HB 599 is as follows:

HB 599, AN ACT relating to mining reclamation.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

SECTION 1. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 350 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) If a permittee or operator has been issued a notice or order directing abatement of a violation on the basis of an imminent danger to health and safety of the public or significant imminent environmental harm, and the notice or order requires access to property for which the permittee or operator does not have the legal right of entry necessary in order to abate that violation, and the owner or legal occupant of that property has refused access, an easement of necessity is recognized on behalf of the permittee or operator for the limited purpose of abating that violation.

(2) If a violation other than one described in subsection (1) cannot be abated because the permittee or operator responsible for abatement of the violation has been denied access to the land necessary to allow abatement of the violation, the cabinet shall terminate the notice of noncompliance or cessation order issued for the violation, if the following conditions are met:

(a) Prior to terminating a notice of noncompliance or cessation order under this subsection, and within thirty (30) days of a request by a permittee or operator to terminate a violation based on a lack of access, the cabinet shall verify the denial of access and advise the surface owners of record and the legal occupants of the affected land of the consequences of refusing to allow access to the property for the purpose of enabling abatement of the violation; and

(b) The cabinet shall explain the consequences by certified mail, return receipt requested, and shall make a good faith effort to verbally notify all owners of interest and legal occupants that:

1. Refusal to allow access to the property will result in termination of the violation as uncorrectable;

2. If there is damage that occurs to public or private property due to the uncorrected violation condition on the property, that the property owner may also be responsible under law for any property damage to private or public property that may result from the unreclaimed condition; and

3. While the landowner may seek damages or injunctive relief in an action against the permittee or operator, the refusal to grant access in order to allow abatement of the violation shall result in the state terminating the requirement that the permittee or operator undertake work necessary for abatement of the violation, and that while penalties may be assessed, the performance bond shall not be forfeited on the basis of the violation.

(3) The cabinet shall not terminate any notice of noncompliance or cessation order under this section if the cabinet determines that the denial of access necessary to abate the violation has been procured through collusion between the permittee or operator and the landowner or legal occupant of the affected land who is refusing to allow the necessary access. "Collusion," for the purpose of this section, includes any agreement, understanding, or contract by which the landowner refuses access to the property in return for any consideration, whether involving money or otherwise. Any act of collusion shall subject the permittee or operator to penalties under this chapter for willful and knowing refusal to correct the violation.

(4) No noncompliance or cessation order may be terminated under this section where there is any common ownership or control between the permittee or operator and the landowner or legal occupant. No noncompliance or cessation order may be terminated under this section where there is any other legal relationship between the permittee or operator and the landowner or legal occupant, except where a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that the legal relationship does not provide for a right of access.

(5) Where a violation may impact public or private property other than land for which access has been denied, the cabinet shall direct abatement measures to be taken by the permittee or operator to prevent damage to those lands for which access has not been denied.

(6) Termination of a notice of noncompliance or cessation order under this section shall not affect the assessment of a civil penalty for the violation. Nothing in this section shall affect any person's right for damages or injunctive relief.

The Committee Substitute No. 1 to HB 611 is as follows:

(b) The moneys remaining in the rural development fund after the Phase II supplement fund contribution is taken shall be further allocated as follows:

2. Fifty percent (50%) to the local tobacco assistance fund created in Section 8 of this Act.

(2) Fifty percent (50%) of the moneys received in the tobacco settlement agreement fund from Master Settlement Agreement funding after June 30, 2000, along with accrued interest, shall be allocated in 2000 on the effective date of this Act and each subsequent year on July 1 to the rural development fund created in House Bill 583 of the 2000 General Assembly. In the case of any fund or account created in Sections 1 to 11 of this Act that is terminated with a remaining balance, the balance shall be returned to the tobacco settlement agreement fund, or to the fund or source from which it came.

SECTION 3. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 248 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) There is created in the State Treasury the "Phase II Supplement Fund".

(2) Forty million dollars ($40,000,000) of the moneys credited to the rural development fund as set out in subsection (1)(a) of Section 2 of this Act shall be transferred to the Phase II supplement fund on the effective date of this Act. Additional funds shall be transferred to the Phase II supplement fund as needed from moneys credited to the tobacco settlement agreement fund after June 30, 2000.

(3) The Phase II supplement fund shall be used each year to supplement Phase II payments to tobacco growers and quota owners so that the total amount available for payment is maintained at one hundred fourteen million dollars ($114,000,000) each year. If the Phase II supplement funds, received from the rural development fund from Master Settlement Agreement funding before June 30, 2000, fall below the amount needed to reach the one hundred fourteen million dollar ($114,000,000) level in any year before the end of the twelve (12) year Phase II program, procedures outlined in subsection (4) of this section shall be followed.

(4) If the moneys received into the Phase II supplement fund before June 30, 2000, become insufficient to continue to meet the yearly one hundred fourteen million dollar ($114,000,000) funding level, moneys needed to supplement Phase II funding to maintain funding at the 1999 level of one hundred fourteen million dollars ($114,000,000) per year for each of the twelve (12) years of the Phase II funding program shall continue to be provided to the Phase II supplement fund from funds received in the tobacco settlement agreement fund after June 30, 2000. As Master Settlement Agreement funding becomes available after June 30, 2000, for calendar year 2001 and each year thereafter for the life of the Phase II payment program, the moneys needed for the Phase II supplement fund to assure availability of the one hundred fourteen million dollar ($114,000,000) funding level for that year shall be taken from the rural development fund before any other distributions are made. When a determination is made that funds are needed, funds shall be taken from the rural development fund following the next master settlement payment in January of each year when needed. On the last year of distribution of the Phase II supplement funds, any excess funds beyond those needed to reach the one hundred fourteen million dollar ($114,000,000) level shall be returned to the rural development fund.

(5) The Tobacco Settlement Trust Corporation created in House Bill 96 of the 2000 General Assembly shall provide for distribution of the Phase II Supplement funds. The corporation shall use the same formula and process for distribution of the Phase II supplement funds as it uses for distributions under the regular Phase II payment program, except that the corporation shall send the list of supplement payment recipients to the Revenue Cabinet rather than to the trustee of the National Tobacco Grower Settlement Trust. The Revenue Cabinet shall process the information and issue the checks at no charge to the Phase II supplement fund. Floor Amendment No. 3 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, Thomas Jefferson, the author of the Virginia Statute of Religious Freedom in 1779, proclaimed:

> "Whereas Almighty God has created the mind free, so that all attempts to influence it by temporal punishments or burdens, or by civil incapacitations, tend only to beget habits of hypocrisy and meanness, and are a departure from the plan of the Holy Author of our religion, who, being Lord both of body and mind, yet chose not to propagate it by coercions on either, as was his almighty power to do; that the impious presumption of legislators and rulers, civil as well as ecclesiastical, who, being themselves but fallible and uninspired men, have assumed dominion over the faith of others, setting up their own opinions and modes of thinking as the only true and infallible, and as such endeavoring to impose them on others. . . . Be it enacted by the General Assembly that no man shall be compelled to frequent or support any religious worship, place or ministry whatsoever, nor shall be enforced, restrained, molested, or burdened in his body or his goods, nor shall otherwise suffer on account of his religious opinions or belief. . . ."; and"

Floor Amendment No. 4 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, John Leland, a Baptist clergyman who was influential in the passage of the Virginia Statute of Religious Freedom, stated in a 1791 pamphlet:

> "Every man must give an account of himself to God, and therefore every man ought to be at liberty to serve God in that way that he can best reconcile it to his conscience. If government can answer for individuals at the day of judgment, let men be controlled by it in religious matters; otherwise let men be free . . . [R]eligion is a matter between God and individuals, religious opinions of men not being the objects of civil government nor in any way under its control. Government has no more to do with religious opinions of men than it has with the principles of the mathematics. Let every man speak freely without fear -- maintain the principles that he believes -- worship according to his own faith, either one God, three Gods, no God, or twenty Gods; and let government protect him in doing, i.e., see that he meets with no personal abuse or loss of property for his religious opinions. . . . It is not supposable that any established religion contains the whole truth and nothing but the truth; but supposing it did, which established religion has got it: All bigots contend for it -- each society cries out, 'The temple of the Lord are we.' If all stand upon equal footing, being equally protected by law as citizens (not as saints) and one prevails over another by cool investigation and fair argument, then truth gains honor, and men more firmly believe it than if it was made an essential article of salvation by law. Truth disdains the aid of law for its defense -- it will stand upon its own merits"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 5 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, James Madison stated in his "Remonstrance of 1785" against a proposal by the General Assembly of Virginia establishing teachers of Christian religion in the schools:

> "We remonstrate against the said bill: 1. Because we hold it for a fundamental and undeniable truth, "That religion or the duty which we owe to our Creator and the manner of discharging it, can be directed only by reason and > conviction, not by force and violence. . . ." It is the duty of every man to render to the Creator such homage, and such only, as he believes acceptable to him. 3. Because it is proper to take alarm at the first experiment on our liberties. Who does not see that the same authority which can establish Christianity, in exclusion of all other religions, may establish with the same ease any particular sect of Christians, in the exclusion of all other sects? That the same authority which can force a citizen to contribute three pence only of his property for support of any one establishment may force him to conform to any other establishment in all cases whatsoever? While we assert for ourselves a freedom to embrace, to profess, and to observe the religion which we believe to be of divine origin, we cannot deny an equal freedom to those whose minds have not yet yielded to the evidence which convinced us. . . . such a government will be best supported by protecting every citizen in the enjoyment of his religion with the same equal hand which protects his person and his property; by neither invading the equal rights of any sect, nor suffering any sect to invade those of another. . . . Because the proposed establishment is a departure from that generous policy, which, offering asylum to the persecuted and oppressed of every nation and religion, promised a luster to our country and an accession to the number of its citizens. . . . Distant as it may be, in its present form, from the inquisition, it differs from it only in degree. The one is the first step, the other is the last in the career of intolerance"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 6 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, page 9, between lines 6 and 7, by inserting:

" Section 2. The Finance and Administration Cabinet sell the graven images in the Capitol rotunda, the statues of Abraham Lincoln, Henry Clay, Jefferson Davis, Ephraim McDowell, and Alben Barkley, and deposit the proceeds of the sale in an interest-bearing account which is dedicated solely to the payment of legal fees incurred in defense of unconstitutional legislation enacted by the General Assembly."; and

By renumbering the subsequent sections accordingly.

Floor Amendment No. 7 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"Whereas, Abigail Adams, in a March 31, 1776 letter to John Adams wrote:

> "I have sometimes been ready to think that the passion for Liberty cannot be Eaquelly Strong in the Breasts of those who have been accustomed to deprive their fellow Creatures of theirs. Of this I am certain that it is not founded upon that generous and christian principal of doing unto others as we would that others should do unto us. "I long to hear that you have declared an independancy - and by the way in the new Code of Laws which I suppose it will be necessary for you to make I desire you would Remember the Ladies, and be more generous and favourable to them than your ancestors. Do not put such unlimited power into the hands of the Husbands. Remember all Men would be tyrants if they could. If perticuliar care and attention is not paid to the Laidies we are determined to foment a Rebelion, and will not hold ourselves bound by any Laws in which we have no voice, or Representation. "That your Sex are Naturally Tyrannical is a Truth so thoroughly established as to admit of no dispute, but such of you as wish to be happy willingly give up the harsh title of Master for the more tender and endearing one of Friend. Why then, not put it out of the power of the vicious and the Lawless to use us with cruelty and indignity with impunity. Men of Sense in all Ages abhor those customs which treat us only as the vassals of your Sex. Regard us then as Beings placed by providence under your protection and in immitation of the Supreem Being make use of that power only for our happiness"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 8 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, on May 15, 1818, James Madison wrote to Mordecai M. Noah, a prominent Jewish diplomat, playwright, and journalist, as follows:

> "Sir, - I have received your letter of the 6th, with the eloquent discourse delivered at the consecration of the Jewish Synagogue. Having ever regarded the freedom of religious opinions and worship as equally belonging to every sect, and the secure enjoyment of it as the best human provision for bringing all either into the same way of thinking, or into the mutual charity which is the only substitute, I observe with pleasure the view you give of the spirit in which your sect partake of the blessings offered by our Government and laws"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 9 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, as Thomas Jefferson wrote in his autobiography, in reference to the Virginia Act for Religious Freedom:

> "Where the preamble declares, that coercion is a departure from the plan of the holy author of our religion, an amendment was proposed by inserting "Jesus Christ," so that it would read "A departure from the plan of Jesus Christ, the holy author of our religion;" the insertion was rejected by the great majority, in proof that they meant to comprehend within the mantle of its protection, the Jew and the Gentile, the Christian and Mohammedan, the Hindoo and Infidel of every denomination"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 10 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, James Madison, perhaps the greatest supporter for separation of church and state, and whom many refer to as the father of the Constitution, in his letter to Edward Livingston, dated 10 July 1822, stated:

> "And I have no doubt that every new example will succeed, as every past one has done, in shewing that religion & Govt will both exist in greater purity, the less they are mixed together"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 11 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, President George Washington, in a September 9, 1790 letter to the Hebrew Congregation of Newport, Rhode Island, set forth the American principle of religious freedom as follows:

> "Gentlemen, While I receive with much satisfaction, your Address replete with expressions of affection and esteem, I rejoice in the opportunity of assuring you, that I shall always retain a grateful remembrance of the cordial welcome I experienced in my visit to Newport, from all classes of citizens.
> "The reflection on the days of difficulty and danger which are past, is rendered the more sweet, from a consciousness that they are succeeded by days of uncommon prosperity and security. If we have wisdom to make the best use of the advantages with which we are now favored, we cannot fail, under the just administration of a good government, to become a great and a happy people. "The citizens of the United States of America, have a right to applaud themselves for having given to mankind examples of an enlarged and liberal policy - a policy worthy of imitation. All possess alike liberty of conscience, and immunities of citizenship. It is now no more than toleration is spoken of, as if it was by the indulgence of one class of people, that another enjoyed the exercise of their inherent natural rights. For happily the government of the United States, which gives to bigotry no sanction - to persecution no assistance, requires only that they who live under its protection should demean themselves as good citizens, in giving it on all occasions their effectual support.
> "It would be inconsistent with the frankness of my character not to avow, that I am pleased with your favorable opinion of my administration, and fervent wishes for my felicity. May the Children of the Stock of Abraham, who dwell in this land, continue to merit and enjoy the goodwill of the other inhabitants; while every one shall sit in safety under his own vine and fig tree, and there shall be none to make him afraid. May the Father of all mercies scatter light and not darkness in our paths, and make us all in our several vocations useful here, and in his own due time and way everlastingly happy"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 12 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, Section 5 of the Kentucky Constitution sets forth the Right of Religious Freedom as follows:

> "No preference shall ever be given by law to any religious sect, society or denomination; nor to any particular creed, mode of worship or system of ecclesiastical polity; nor shall any person be compelled to attend any place of worship, to contribute to the erection or maintenance of any such place, or to the salary or support of any minister of religion; nor shall any man be compelled to send his child to any school to which he may be conscientiously opposed; and the civil rights, privileges or capacities of no person shall be taken away, or in anywise diminished or enlarged, on account of his belief or disbelief of any religious tenet, dogma or teaching. No human authority shall, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 13 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting:

"WHEREAS, James Madison, in an August, 1820 letter to Jacob De la Motta, a leader in building a Savannah, Georgia synagogue, stated:

> "Sir, - I have received your letter of the 7th instant, with the Discourse delivered at the Consecration of the Hebrew Synagogue at Savannah, for which you will please to accept my thanks.
> "The history of the Jews must forever be interesting. The modern part of it is, at the same time, so little generally known, that every ray of light on the subject has its value.
> "Among the features peculiar to the political system of the United States, is the perfect equality of rights which it secures to every religious sect. And it is particularly pleasing to observe in the good citizenship of such as have been most distrusted and oppressed elsewhere a happy illustration of the safety and success of this experiment of a just and benignant policy. Equal laws, protecting equal rights, are found, as they ought to be presumed, the best guarantee of loyalty and love of country; as well as best calculated to cherish that mutual respect and good will among citizens of every religious denomination which are necessary to social harmony, and most favorable to the advancedment of truth. The account you give of the Jews of your congregation brings them fully within the scope of these observations"; and"

Floor Amendment No. 14 to the House Committee Substitute to SJR 57, by Representative Stein:

On page 1, following the first "WHEREAS" clause, by inserting;

"WHEREAS, Noah Webster, in his "Sketches of American Policy" of 1785, stated:

> "The American (states') constitutions are the most liberal in this particular (ecclesiastical policy) of any on earth; and yet some of them have retained some badges of bigotry. A profession of the Christian religion is necessary to the states to entitle a man to office. In some states, it is requisite to subscribe (to) certain articles of faith. These requisitions are the effect of the same abominable prejudices that have enslaved the human mind in all countries. . . . If there are any means of promoting a millennial state of society, the only means are a general diffusion of knowledge and a free unlimited indulgence given to religious persuasions, without distinction and without preference. . . . The American states have gone far in assisting the progress of truth; but they have stopped short of perfection. They ought to have given every honest citizen an equal right to enjoy his religion and an equal title to all civil emoluments without obliging him to tell his religion. Every interference of the civil power in regulating opinion is an impious attempt to take the business of the Deity out of His own hands; and every preference given to any religious denomination is so far slavery and bigotry"; and"

On page 1 and 2, after the enacting clause, by deleting Section 1 in its entirety; and

On page 1, after the enacting clause, by inserting the following:

"SECTION . A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 350 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) If a permittee or operator has been issued a notice or order directing abatement of a violation on the basis of an imminent danger to health and safety of the public or significant imminent environmental harm, and the notice or order requires access to property for which the permittee or operator does not have the legal right of entry necessary in order to abate that violation, and the owner or legal occupant of that property has refused access, an easement of necessity is recognized on behalf of the permittee or operator for the limited purpose of abating that violation.

(2) If a violation other than one described in subsection (1) cannot be abated because the permittee or operator responsible for abatement of the violation has been denied access to the land necessary to allow abatement of the violation, the cabinet shall terminate the notice of noncompliance or cessation order issued for the violation, if the following conditions are met:

(a) Prior to terminating a notice of noncompliance or cessation order under this subsection, and within thirty (30) days of a request by a permittee or operator to terminate a violation based on a lack of access, the cabinet shall verify the denial of access and advise the surface owners of record and the legal occupants of the affected land of the consequences of refusing to allow access to the property for the purpose of enabling abatement of the violation; and

(b) The cabinet shall explain the consequences by certified mail, return receipt requested, and shall make a good faith effort to notify all owners of interest and legal occupants verbally, that:

1. Refusal to allow access to the property will result in termination of the violation as uncorrectable;

2. If there is damage that occurs to public or private property due to the uncorrected violation condition on the property, that the property owner may also be responsible under law for any property damage to private or public property that may result from the unreclaimed condition; and

3. While the landowner may seek damages or injunctive relief in an action against the permittee or operator, the refusal to grant access in order to allow abatement of the violation shall result in the state terminating the requirement that the permittee or operator undertake work necessary for abatement of the violation, and that while penalties may be assessed, the performance bond shall not be forfeited on the basis of the violation.

(3) The cabinet shall not terminate any notice of noncompliance or cessation order under this section if the cabinet determines that the denial of access necessary to abate the violation has been procured through collusion between the permittee or operator and the landowner or legal occupant of the affected land who is refusing to allow the necessary access. "Collusion," for the purpose of this section, includes any agreement, understanding, or contract by which the landowner refuses access to the property in return for any consideration, whether involving money or otherwise. Any act of collusion shall subject the permittee or operator to penalties under this chapter for willful and knowing refusal to correct the violation.

(4) No noncompliance or cessation order may be terminated under this section where there is any common ownership or control between the permittee or operator and the landowner or legal occupant. No noncompliance or cessation order may be terminated under this section where there is any other legal relationship between the permittee or operator and the landowner or legal occupant, except where a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that the legal relationship does not provide for a right of access.

(5) Where a violation may impact public or private property other than land for which access has been denied, the cabinet shall direct abatement measures to be taken by the permittee or operator to prevent damage to those lands for which access has not been denied.

(6) Termination of a notice of noncompliance or cessation order under this section shall not affect the assessment of a civil penalty for the violation. Nothing in this section shall affect any person's right for damages or injunctive relief."

(3)~~[(2)]~~Cities may by ordinance designate certain well-lighted streets or parts of the streets as being sufficiently illuminated during certain periods as to make lights unnecessary. In this case subsection (1) shall not apply to vehicles parked in those streets during such periods.".

WHEREAS, in 1992, the Kentucky General Assembly recognized in the enactment of KRS 158.195 that there is nothing in the Kentucky Constitution or the First Amendment to the United States Constitution which requires the rewriting of American or Kentucky history or the suppression or censorship of those histories for any reason, particularly because of any religious references in historic documents; and

WHEREAS, many of the Ten Commandments have been codified in Kentucky's civil and criminal laws and similarly in the legal codes of the other forty-nine states; and

WHEREAS, America's colonial governments adopted the Ten Commandments not as an object of worship or an icon, but as the basis for their civil and criminal law, as illustrated on April 3, 1644, when the New Haven Colony Charter was adopted establishing that "[t]he judicial laws of God, as they were delivered by Moses be a rule to all the courts in this jurisdiction"; and

WHEREAS, William Blackstone, Esq., eminent British jurist, Professor of Law, and legal scholar whose writings shaped the thoughts of the men who wrote the Declaration of Independence and the other founding documents of the Republic which became the authority for much of our original American system of jurisprudence, stated in his "Commentaries on the Laws of England" published in 1765: "[u]pon these two foundations, the law of nature and the law of revelation [the Bible] depend all human laws"; and

WHEREAS, when signing the Declaration of Independence on August 2, 1776, Samuel Adams, the "Father of the Revolution," emphasized the Biblical presuppositions of that document:

> "We have this day restored the Sovereign to whom all men ought to be obedient. He reigns in heaven and from the rising to the setting of the sun, let His kingdom come"; and

WHEREAS, on August 20, 1789, Congressman Fisher Ames from Massachusetts proposed the wording of the First Amendment which was adopted by the House of Representatives in the first session of the Congress of the United States; and his writings clearly demonstrate that the Framers never intended the First Amendment to be so interpreted as to require the removal of the Bible and the Ten Commandments from public school classrooms:

> "Should not the Bible regain the place it once held as a schoolbook? Its morals are pure, its examples are captivating and noble. . . . In no Book is there so good English, so pure and so elegant, and by teaching all the same they will speak alike, and the Bible will justly remain the standard of language as well as of faith"; and

WHEREAS, in an article published in "Palladium" magazine on September 20, 1789, Congressman Ames further amplified his concern that American education should include familiarity with the Bible:

> "We are spending less time in the classroom on the Bible which should be the principal text in our schools . . . The Bible states these great moral lessons better than any other manmade book"; and

WHEREAS, in his "Farewell Address" of September 19, 1796, President George Washington pointed out the connection between the faith of the Nation and its political prosperity when he declared:

> "Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. . . . Let us with caution indulge the supposition, that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that National morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle"; and

WHEREAS, Noah Webster, the author of dictionaries and America's first speller, grammar, and reader (the famed 1783 "Blue-Backed Speller"), articulated the mindset of the Framers who presupposed a Biblical basis for law:

> "The moral principles and precepts contained in the Scriptures ought to form the basis for all our civil constitutions and laws. All the miseries and evils which men suffer from vice, crime, ambition, injustice, oppression, slavery and war proceed from their despising or neglecting the precepts contained in the Bible"; and

WHEREAS, acknowledging the Bible as an integral part of the fabric of our society, on September 11, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a resolution to import 20,000 Bibles from Holland and Scotland, as the colonies were at war with England; and

WHEREAS, on May 29, 1845, the day before his death, President Andrew Jackson stated:

> "My lamp of life is nearly out, and the last glimmer has come. I am ready to depart when called. The Bible is true. The principles and statutes of that Holy Book have been the rule of my life, and I have tried to conform to its spirit as nearly as possible. Upon that sacred volume I rest my hope for eternal salvation, through the merits and blood of our blessed Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ"; and

WHEREAS, on February 29, 1892, the United States Supreme Court, in a unanimous decision which has never been overruled, cited sixty-six authorities which show the Bible's singular influence on America:

> "There is no dissonance in these declarations. There is a universal language pervading them all, having one meaning; they affirm and reaffirm that this is a religious nation. These are not individual sayings, declarations of private persons; they are organic utterances; they speak the voice of the entire group. These authorities were collected to support the historical conclusion that: 'no purpose of action against religion can be imputed any legislation, state or nation, because this is a religious people. This is historically true. From the discovery of this continent to the present hour, there is a single voice making this affirmation . . . we find everywhere a clear > recognition of the same truth . . . this is a Christian nation' "; and

WHEREAS, on May 7, 1911, President Woodrow Wilson, addressing the Tercentenary Celebration of the Translation of the Bible into the English Language, stated:

> "Up to the time of the translation of the Bible into English, it was a book for long ages withheld from the perusal of the peoples of other languages and other tongues, and not a little of the history of liberty lies in the circumstance that the moving sentences of this book were made familiar to the ears and understanding of those peoples who have led mankind in exhibiting the forms of government and the impulses of reform which have made for freedom and for self-government among mankind.
> "For this is a book which reveals men unto themselves, not as creatures in bondage, but as men under human authority, not as those bidden to take counsel and command of any human source. It reveals every man to himself as a distinct moral agent, responsible not to men, not even to those men whom he has put over him in authority, but responsible through his own conscience to his Lord and Maker. Whenever a man sees this vision he stands up a free man, whatever may be the government under which he lives, if he sees beyond the circumstances of his own life . . . Moreover, the Bible does what is so invaluable in human life -- it classifies moral values. It apprises us that men are not judged according to their wits, but according to their characters -- that the last of every man's reputation is his truthfulness, his squaring his conduct with the standards that he knew to be the standards of purity and rectitude.
> "How many a man we appraise, ladies and gentlemen, as great today whom we do not admire as noble! A man may have great power and small character"; and

WHEREAS, President Woodrow Wilson's letter to the soldiers and sailors of the United States during World War I, recorded in the Congressional Record, advised them:

> "The Bible is the word of life. I beg that you will read it and find this out for yourselves -- read not little snatches here and there, but long passages that will really be the road to the heart of it. You will find it full of real men and women not only, but also of things you have wondered about and been troubled about all your life, as men have been always; and the more you read, the more it will become plain to you what things are worthwhile and what are not, what things make men happy -- loyalty, right dealings, speaking the truth, readiness to give everything for what they think their duty, and, most of all, the wish that they may have the real approval of the Christ, who gave everything for them -- and the things that are guaranteed to make men unhappy -- selfishness, cowardice, greed, and everything that is low and mean. When you have read the Bible, you will know that it is the Word of God, because you will have found it the key to your own heart, your own happiness, and your own duty"; and

WHEREAS, before his assassination on November 22, 1963, President John F. Kennedy prepared a major address on the status of American strength and security, choosing his last words from the Bible to reveal the source of America's true security: "Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain"; and

WHEREAS, in his book, "Sources of Power," President Jimmy Carter acknowledged the importance of the Mosaic law as a foundation:

> "As we face changes and challenges, we need to hold on to the things that don't change, the foundations on which we can build our lives despite the uncertainty and danger of the future. God's law is the greatest of these foundations"; and

WHEREAS, the Ten Commandments appear over the bench where the United States Supreme Court Justices sit, thus showing the source from whence our laws and the governmental power of the state are derived; and

WHEREAS, in his November, 1976 interview with Robert Scheer, President Jimmy Carter stated:

> "I think the laws are on the books quite often because of their relationship to the Bible. Early in the nation's development, the Judeo-Christian moral standards were accepted as a basis for civil law"; and

WHEREAS, in his February 22, 1990 proclamation designating 1990 as The International Year of Bible Reading, President George Bush declared:

> "The Bible has had a critical impact upon the development of Western civilization. Western literature, art, and music are filled with images and ideas that can be traced to its pages. More important, our moral tradition has been shaped by the laws and teachings it contains. It was a biblical view of man -- one affirming the dignity and worth of the human person, made in the image of our Creator -- that inspired the principles upon which the United States is founded. President Jackson called the Bible "the rock on which our Republic rests" because he knew that it shaped the Founding Fathers' concept of individual liberty and their vision of a free and just society. The Bible has not only influenced the development of our Nation's values and institutions, but also enriched the daily lives of millions of men and women who have looked to it for comfort, hope, and guidance. On the American frontier, the Bible was often the only book a family owned. For those pioneers living far from any church or school, it served both as a source of religious instruction and as the primary text from which children learned to read. The historic speeches of Abraham Lincoln and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., provide compelling evidence of the role Scripture played in shaping the struggle against slavery and discrimination. Today the Bible continues to give courage and direction to those who seek truth and righteousness. In recognizing its enduring value, we recall the words of the prophet Isaiah, who declared, 'The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand forever.' Containing revelations of God's intervention in human history, the Bible offers moving testimony to His love for mankind. Treasuring the Bible as a source of knowledge and inspiration, President Abraham Lincoln called this Great Book 'the best gift God has given to man.' President Lincoln believed that the Bible not only reveals the infinite goodness of our Creator, but also reminds us of our worth as individuals and our responsibilities toward one another";

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. The Kentucky Department of Education, with assistance as necessary by the Legislative Research Commission, shall electronically transmit KRS 158.195 and this resolution to all public school teachers in the Commonwealth setting forth the legal guidelines established by the General Assembly in this resolution governing elected officials and public school teachers electing to post historic displays which include a depiction of the Ten Commandments.

Section 2. Documents depicting the Ten Commandments may be posted in classrooms by any public school teacher and on other public property, when incorporated into an historical display along with other historic documents as described in KRS 158.195 which may also trace the influence of the Bible on America's Founding Fathers, Presidents, laws, and institutions of government. Each historic document displayed inside a public building or school shall be displayed in a sixteen (16) inch by twenty (20) inch frame, except that the frame containing this resolution and KRS 158.195 may be larger. The purpose of the display shall not be to advance religion, but to advance the important secular purpose of illustrating how the Bible and the Ten Commandments have influenced the faith, morals, and character of American leaders who, in turn, have shaped American law, public policy, and institutions. For that reason, the General Assembly expresses no preference as to which version of the Ten Commandments is displayed or whether the display is in English, Hebrew, or a foreign language being taught in the classroom. To advance the secular purpose of making citizens of the Commonwealth more knowledgeable concerning the founding of America, the intent of the nation's Founders, and the formative influence of the Bible and the Ten Commandments on American leaders, institutions, and law, a copy of this resolution shall be made a prominent part of any historic display on public property which includes any depiction of the Ten Commandments.

Section 3. The General Assembly directs the Kentucky Department of Education, in consultation with the Legislative Research Commission through its director, to institute a "Read to Lead" program, the goals of which shall be to familiarize students with writings and speeches of America's Founders, Framers, and Presidents which show how important the Bible, the Ten Commandments, religious faith, and strong moral character were to those American leaders. The Kentucky Department of Education shall make these historic documents and materials easily accessible to public school teachers on its web site.

Section 4. No fiscal court, city council, school board, or site-based council shall post any historical display set forth in KRS 158.195 which incorporates a depiction of the Ten Commandments until that governing body first sets forth by resolution or policy its secular purpose for erecting the display. This purpose shall not advance religion.

Section 5. Each historic display which incorporates a depiction of the Ten Commandments shall be accompanied by clearly legible copies of this resolution and of KRS 158.195; and the cost of posting and maintaining the displays shall be paid for by voluntary private contributions.

Section 6. The Legislative Research Commission shall remit a sufficient number of copies of this resolution to the Department for Local Government for distribution by the department, in the manner it deems most efficient, to all elected officials of each city and county of the Commonwealth.

Section 7. The Legislative Research Commission shall remit a sufficient number of copies of this resolution to the Secretary of State for distribution by the Secretary of State, in the manner he deems most efficient, to the statewide elected officials of the Commonwealth.

Section 8. The eighty-six (86) inch by forty-two (42) inch monument, with its base, which is inscribed with the Ten Commandments and which was displayed on the Capitol grounds for decades shall be relocated to a site on the Capitol grounds near Kentucky's floral clock and shall be made a part of an historic display which shall include the display of this Resolution.

(2) An inactive license may be reactivated upon application to the board. If a license has been inactive for more than five (5) consecutive years, the licensee shall apply for a new license and shall meet all the requirements in existence for a license under Section 5 or 6 of this Act. That application for licensing shall require:

(a) Evidence of the certificate holder's payment of an inactive status fee; and

(b) Payment of the initial licensing fee..

SECTION 10. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 311 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

The board may issue a temporary permit to practice acupuncture to an applicant eligible for licensing if a complete application for licensure has been submitted and all fees have been paid, including a nonrefundable temporary permit fee. The temporary permit shall be nonrenewable and shall be effective only until the meeting of the board at which a decision is made on the applicant's application for licensing. The permit shall not be in effect for more than ninety (90) days.

SECTION 11. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 311 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

HJR 90, A JOINT RESOLUTION directing the Cabinet for Health Services to take all actions necessary to secure funding for a wage pass-through program to increase salaries for direct care personnel in long-term care facilities and declaring an emergency.

WHEREAS, direct care personnel are a vital link in providing quality care in long-term care facilities; and

WHEREAS, the success of long-term care facilities to attract and retain direct care personnel depends in part on their ability to pay competitive salaries in today's labor market; and

WHEREAS, approximately 75% of Kentucky's nursing facility beds are paid for by the Medicaid program; and

WHEREAS, the level of reimbursement provided to nursing facilities by the Medicaid program makes it difficult for facilities to pay attractive wages to direct care personnel; and

WHEREAS, personal care home services are reimbursed through the State Supplementation Program for Supplemental Security Income and experience similar difficulties attracting personnel; and

WHEREAS, noncompetitive salaries for direct care personnel in long-term care facilities can lead to staff turnover and ultimately affect the quality of care provided to patients;

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. That the Cabinet for Health Services is directed to take all actions necessary, including the obtaining of any necessary federal waivers or the promulgation of administrative regulations, to provide for a salary increase necessary to recruit and retain direct care personnel in long-term care facilities by using any additional funds appropriated for long-term care facilities in the 2000 to 2002 fiscal years to establish a direct wage pass-through program in the Kentucky Medical Assistance Program.

Section 2. The provisions contained in the Executive Budget enacted by the 1998 General Assembly (Part 9, Special Provisions, Section 25(h)) relating to an increase for the nursing facility allocation shall be included in the budget bill to be enacted by the 2000 General Assembly with a requirement that any funding increase be used for a salary increase for direct care personnel as set forth in Section 1 of this Resolution.

Section 3. That additional funds be appropriated to provide for an increase in the maximum monthly payment standard necessary to recruit and retain direct care personnel in personal care homes in the 2000 to 2002 fiscal years by establishing a direct wage pass-through program in the State Supplementation Program as authorized under KRS 205.245.

Section 4. Whereas it is extremely difficult for long-term care facilities to attract and retain direct care personnel, an emergency is declared to exist, and this Act takes effect on July 1, 2000.

The Committee Substitute No. 1 to HJR 90 is as follows:

HJR 90, A JOINT RESOLUTION directing the Cabinet for Health Services to take all actions necessary to secure funding for a wage pass-through program to increase salaries for direct care personnel in long-term care facilities and declaring an emergency.

WHEREAS, direct care personnel are a vital link in providing quality care in long-term care facilities; and

WHEREAS, the success of long-term care facilities to attract and retain direct care personnel depends in part on their ability to pay competitive salaries in today's labor market; and

WHEREAS, approximately 75% of Kentucky's nursing facility beds are paid for by the Medicaid program; and

WHEREAS, the level of reimbursement provided to nursing facilities by the Medicaid program makes it difficult for facilities to pay attractive wages to direct care personnel; and

WHEREAS, personal care home services are reimbursed through the State Supplementation Program for Supplemental Security Income and experience similar difficulties attracting personnel; and

WHEREAS, noncompetitive salaries for direct care personnel in long-term care facilities can lead to staff turnover and ultimately affect the quality of care provided to patients;

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. The Cabinet for Health Services shall take such administrative action as may be available based on appropriated funds to focus reimbursement policy to recruit and retain direct care staff in nursing facilities.

Section 2. The Kentucky General Assembly recognizes the need for the Cabinet for Health Services to implement a prospective payment system for nursing facilities, designed in part to strengthen the ability to deliver quality care.

Section 3. If additional funds to increase the maximum monthly payment standard for personal care home services funded by the State Supplementation Program are appropriated above the Governor's recommended budget amounts for fiscal years 2000-2002, personal care homes shall place a priority on using these additional funds to recruit and retain direct care personnel.

Section 4. Whereas it is extremely difficult for long-term care facilities to attract and retain direct care personnel, an emergency is declared to exist, and this Act takes effect on July 1, 2000.

The Committee Amendment No. 1 Title to HJR 90 is as follows:

By amending the title to read as follows: "A JOINT RESOLUTION directing the Cabinet for Health Services to take all actions necessary to secure funding to increase salaries for direct care personnel in long-term care facilities and declaring an emergency."

HCR 119, A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION creating a task force to study the impact of the certificate of need on the cost, access, and quality of health care in the Commonwealth.

WHEREAS, the original purpose of the certificate of need was to improve the quality and increase access to health facilities, services, and providers, and to create a cost-efficient health care delivery system in the Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, the Medicaid budget has continued to grow, increasing from $2,056,228,000 of actual benefit expenditures during the 1996 fiscal year to projected expenditures of $2,900,856,300 for the 2000 fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, according to the Kentucky State Data Center, by 2020, the population over the age of 65 in Kentucky is estimated to grow to 717,607, which is an increase of 45% as compared with only a 10% growth in Kentucky's total population. This growth will influence the demand for alternative models for health care delivery for the elderly; and

WHEREAS, the certificate of need for long-term care beds is based on the needs of the state as a whole, which has lead to a maldistribution of long-term care beds across the state and a decrease in access to services in some counties; and

WHEREAS, elderly citizens are often admitted to long-term care beds that are located in a different part of the state than their homes, making it difficult to maintain close relationships with family and friends; and

WHEREAS, the current certificate of need stifles creativity in developing humanistic models for delivering health care that are designed to enable elderly couples to spend the rest of their lives together as a family unit when one member receives nursing facility or nursing home level of care; and

WHEREAS, the development of humanistic models for delivering health care has the potential to decrease placement into nursing facility or nursing home beds when it is more appropriate for the individual to receive their care in a less restrictive and less costly environment; and

WHEREAS, the separation of elderly from the family or the spouse creates undue pain, grief, and loss of companionship at a time when family love and support is most needed; and

WHEREAS, it is the responsibility of the Commonwealth to enable the development of humanistic health care services and living options that permit the elderly to make choices regarding where and with whom they wish to spend the last years of their lives; and

WHEREAS, the federal government lifted the requirement that states have a certificate of need January 1, 1987, leading 14 states to repeal or modify their certificate of need laws; and

WHEREAS, there has been much debate on the effect of certificate of need on cost, consumer choice, geographic access, and quality of health care;

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the Senate concurring therein:

Section 1. The Legislative Research Commission is directed to establish a seventeen member legislative task force to study the certificate of need during the 2000-2002 interim. The task force shall meet at least monthly, beginning not later than October 1, 2000, and shall report its findings and recommendations to the Legislative Research Commission no later than September 1, 2001. The task force shall study the impact of the certificate of need on the cost, access, and quality of health care in the Commonwealth, which shall include, but not be limited to:

(1) Identifying the potential consequences of repealing the certificate of need;

(2) Ascertaining if the certificate of need limits consumer choices;

(3) Identifying the limitations that the certificate of need places on the development of alternative humanistic models for delivering health care to seniors;

(4) Determining if the current certificate of need provides the flexibility to develop alternative living models and health care delivery systems that are sufficient to meet the needs of the expanding elderly population;

(5) Describing the impact of certificate of need limitations on families and quality of life;

(6) Determining the potential impact of increasing competition in the health care market;

(7) Identifying components for certificate of need review that would be useful in enhancing the quality of services delivered in health facilities; and

(8) Determining the effect of government reimbursement rates on quality of care.

Section 2. The Legislative Research Commission shall appoint the following members of the Senate and the House of Representatives to serve as co-chairs and members of the task force and shall appoint co-chairs from the membership:

(1) Seven members of the Interim Joint Committee on Health and Welfare;

(2) Five members of the Interim Joint Committee on Banking and Insurance;

(3) Two members of the Interim Joint Committee on Seniors, Military Affairs, and Public Safety;

(4) Two members of the Interim Joint Committee on Appropriations and Revenue; and

(5) One member from the General Assembly at large.

Section 3. Provisions of this resolution to the contrary notwithstanding, the Legislative Research Commission shall have the authority to alternatively assign the issues identified herein to an interim joint committee or subcommittee thereof, and to designate a study completion date.

The Committee on Appropriations and Revenue reported HB 572, HB 911, and HB 996, with Committee Substitute and Committee Amendment attached thereto, with the expression of opinion that the same should pass. Read at length for the first time and ordered placed in the Calendar.

(1) As used in this section, "cluster" shall have the same meaning as in Section 1 of this Act.

(2) It is the intention of the General Assembly to recognize that a strong manufacturing base for the economy of the Commonwealth requires not only modernization of the production process but also an increase in the number of products developed, so that through the creation of new product lines, additional value-added products, and new manufacturing methods the economy will grow and quality job opportunities will increase. The Cabinet for Economic Development shall support this intention through its authority in KRS 154.12-050 and through its strategic technology capacity initiative in Section 18 of this Act.

(3) The Cabinet for Economic Development shall enter into contracts or agreements with the Kentucky Technology Service, Inc., a nonprofit organization with the mission to assist Kentucky small and medium-size manufacturers to become more competitive in the global marketplace. The contracts or agreements shall require the Kentucky Technology Service, Inc., to undertake the following activities:

(b) Deliver engineering, technical, and business improvement services in Kentucky manufacturing facilities, through the network of Kentucky Technology Service locations in the state, that lead to the development of new product lines, additional value-added products, and new manufacturing methods;

(c) Coordinate services for and support the activities of Kentucky manufacturers that need additional projects, activities, and expertise beyond those available through the Kentucky Technology Service, Inc.;

(d) Promote, along with other economic development entities, the development of supplier chains, the linkages among suppliers, and the growth of clusters within the Commonwealth; and

(e) Provide to the Cabinet for Economic Development and Kentucky Innovation Commission a report of the advances made in the manufacturing modernization projects initiated.

Section 20. The General Assembly directs the Kentucky Science and Technology Corporation to conduct an entrepreneurial audit of appropriate statutes, regulations, and policies that may currently provide obstacles to business development in the information technology and knowledge-based sectors, and to report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly, the Governor, and Kentucky Innovation Commission no later than September 1, 2001.

Section 21. The General Assembly directs the Kentucky Science and Technology Corporation to create and manage the Kentucky Science and Engineering Foundation as a means to increase Kentucky's capacity to become a leader state in competitive research by attracting more research funding from all sources to the Commonwealth. The Kentucky Science and Engineering Foundation shall be a means to extend and expand the highly successful Kentucky Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research, known as EPSCoR, which has leveraged state matching funds to bring additional federal research dollars to Kentucky, giving a return on the state's investment in this program by a multiple of three for every dollar of state funds invested in EPSCoR. The Kentucky Science and Engineering Foundation, expanding on the existing EPSCoR program and funding, shall be modeled in part on the National Science Foundation and shall make its own investments in peer-reviewed science and engineering research, to accelerate the rate of research and development funds and work to increase the amount of federal and private sector funds for this work in Kentucky.

Section 22. The General Assembly realizes that while certain Kentucky manufacturing sectors have experienced impressive growth in the last two decades, the global economy of the twenty-first century requires profound changes if citizens of the Commonwealth are to be players in the American and world economy. Information technology, communications, and intellectual capital, rather than energy and raw materials, power today's economy. The driving forces of the new economy are ideas, knowledge services, and higher-order skills. The following findings related to the current state of the Commonwealth indicate our need for immediate legislative action:

(1) In the area of innovation and invention, Kentucky currently underperforms no less than 46 other states in production of patents per million population;

(2) In the area of education, in 1998 only 4% of Kentucky's twelfth-graders took advanced placement courses in science, and only 44% of these students passed advanced placement science exams, and for the last decade Kentucky has ranked no better than 45th in the number of science and engineering graduate students per 100,000 population;

(3) In the area of research, Kentucky receives only 2.8 of the Small Business Innovation Research grants per 100,000 population, compared to 116.2 grants in the top-performing states, and for the last decade Kentucky has ranked no better than 46th in research and development expenditures per person; and

(4) In the area of entrepreneurship, in 1998 Kentucky created only 2.4 new firms per 1,000 state residents compared to leader states creating almost 7 companies per 1,000 residents, and despite recent gains, in 1999 Kentucky ranked 47th in the number of very fast growth companies in the country, and in 1997, Kentucky ranked 48th in self-employment, and

Kentucky has had no technology sector initial public offerings issued from 1997 through October 1999.

Section 23. This Act shall be called the Kentucky Innovation Act.

For the purposes of this section, "companies principally engaged in the provision of communications services" means any company that derives more than fifty percent (50%) of its gross receipts from the provision of communications services as defined by Section 7 of this Act.

(2) (a) "Taxable capital", in the case of business entities taxable only in this state, means capital as defined in Section 1 of this Act[~~The term "capital" as used in this section means capital stock, surplus, advances by affiliated companies, intercompany accounts, borrowed moneys or any other accounts representing additional capital used and employed in the business. Accounts properly defined as "capital" in this section shall be reported at the value reflected on financial statements prepared for book purposes as of the last day of the calendar or fiscal year~~];

(b) " Taxable capital[~~ employed,~~]" in the case of business entities taxable in this state and taxable in another state means "capital" as defined in Section 1 of this Act and as apportioned under subsection (3) of this section[~~corporations having property or payroll only in this state, means "capital" as defined above;~~

~~(d) Property means either real property or tangible personal property which is either owned or leased. (3) Capital[~~The total capital, as determined under subsection (2) of this section,~~] shall be apportioned as follows:

(a) The total capital shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, plus the sales factor, and the denominator of which is three (3); provided, however, that effective with taxable years beginning after July 31, 1985, in lieu of the equally weighted three (3) factor apportionment fraction based on property, payroll, and sales, an apportionment fraction composed of a sales factor representing fifty percent (50%) of the fraction, a property factor representing twenty-five percent (25%) of the fraction, and a payroll factor representing twenty-five percent (25%) of the fraction shall be used;

(b) The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the business entity's[~~taxpayer's~~] real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the tax period and the denominator of which is the average value of all the business entity's[~~taxpayer's~~] real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the tax period; provided, however, that property which has been certified as a pollution control facility as defined in KRS 224.01-300 shall be excluded from the property factor:

1. Property owned by the business entity[~~taxpayer~~] is valued at its original cost. If the original cost of any property is not determinable or is nominal or zero, such property shall be valued by the cabinet under administrative regulations promulgated by the cabinet. Property rented by the business entity[~~taxpayer~~] is valued at eight (8) times the net annual rental rate. Net annual rental rate is the annual rental rate paid by the taxpayer less any annual rental rate received by the business entity[~~taxpayer~~] from subrentals, if the[~~provided that such~~] rental and the[~~such~~] subrentals are reasonable. If the cabinet determines that the annual rental or subrental rate is unreasonable, or if nominal or zero rate is charged, the cabinet may determine and apply the[~~such~~] rental rate as will reasonably reflect the value of the property rented by the business entity[~~taxpayer~~]; and

2. The average value of property shall be determined by averaging the values at the beginning and ending of the tax period but the cabinet may require the averaging of monthly values during the tax period if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the business entity's[~~taxpayer's~~] property;

(c) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid or payable in this state during the tax period by the business entity[~~taxpayer~~] for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid or payable everywhere during the tax period. Compensation is paid or payable in this state if:

1. The individual's service is performed entirely within the state;

2. The individual's service is performed both within and without the state, but the service performed without the state is incidental to the individual's service within the state; or

3. Some of the service is performed in the state and the base of operations or, if there is no base of operations, the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in the state, or the base of operations or the place from which the service is directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in this state;

(d) The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the business entity[~~taxpayer~~] in this state during the tax period, and the denominator of which is the total sales of the business entity[~~taxpayer~~] everywhere during the tax period. Sales of tangible personal property are in this state if:

1. The property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser, other than the United States government, or to the designee of the purchaser within this state regardless of the f.o.b. point or other conditions of the sale;
2. The property is shipped from an office, store, warehouse, factory, or other place of storage in this state and the purchaser is the United States government; or
3. Sales, other than sales of tangible personal property, are in this state if the income-producing activity is performed in this state; or the income-producing activity is performed both in and outside this state and a greater proportion of the income-producing activity is performed in this state than in any other state, based on costs of performance.

(4) If the apportionment provisions of this section do not fairly measure the business entity's[~~taxpayer's~~] capital in this state, the business entity[~~taxpayer~~] may petition for or the cabinet may require:

(a) The exclusion of any one (1) or more of the factors;

(b) The inclusion of one (1) or more additional factors which will fairly measure the business entity's[~~taxpayer's~~] capital in this state; or

(c) The employment of any other method to produce an equitable apportionment of the taxpayer's capital.

(5) No business entity subject to taxation[~~corporation required to pay an annual license tax~~] under this section shall pay less than thirty dollars ($30) for each taxable year.

(6) Every business entity[~~corporation~~] with a gross income of not more than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) shall be entitled to a credit equivalent to one dollar and forty cents ($1.40) per one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the initial three hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($350,000) of taxable capital[~~, employed in the business,~~] as computed under the provisions of KRS 136.070(2) and (3).

(a) File a separate return and deduct from capital the book value of its investment in the stock, ownership interest, or securities in any business entity in which it directly owns more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding stock or ownership interest; or[~~Determine the corporation's total capital as provided in KRS 136.070(2).~~]

(2) All transactions between business entities included in the consolidated return shall be eliminated in computing capital, taxable capital, and the property, payroll, and sales factors in accordance with subsection (4) of Section 1 of this Act and with subsections (2) and (3) of Section 2 of this Act, respectively[~~For purposes of determining the ratio of stock and securities to total assets, the value shall be the value of the accounts as reflected on financial statements prepared for book purposes as of the last day of the calendar or fiscal year. Section 4. KRS 136.090 is amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Every business entity subject to tax under Section 2 of this Act shall for each taxable year, file a separate return unless the business entity was, for the taxable year, a member of a group of related business entities filing a consolidated return in accordance with subsection (1) of Section 3 of this Act.

(4) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, if a political subdivision imposes or otherwise attempts to require the payment of a franchise fee or tax described in subsection (2) of this section, the political subdivision shall not receive any share of the proceeds of the tax levied by Section 8 of this Act for the period that the imposition or attempt occurs.

(5) To the extent that a provider actually pays a franchise fee or tax described in subsection (2) of this section with respect to communications service that is also subject to the tax imposed by Section 8 of this Act, the provider shall be entitled to a credit against the amount paid to the cabinet under Section 9 of this Act in the amount of the franchise fee or tax up to the amount of the excise tax billed with respect to the communications service.

(4) "Personal property" includes every species and character of property, tangible and intangible, other than real property.

(5) "Resident" means any person who has taken up a place of abode within this state with the intention of continuing to abide in this state; any person who has had his actual or habitual place of abode in this state for the larger portion of the twelve

(12) months next preceding the date as of which an assessment is due to be made shall be deemed to have intended to become a resident of this state.

(6) "Compensating tax rate" means that rate which, rounded to the next higher one-tenth of one cent ($0.001) per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed value and applied to the current year's assessment of the property subject to taxation by a taxing district, excluding new property and personal property, produces an amount of revenue approximately equal to that produced in the preceding year from real property. However, in no event shall the compensating tax rate be a rate which, when applied to the total current year assessment of all classes of taxable property, produces an amount of revenue less than was produced in the preceding year from all classes of taxable property. For purposes of this subsection, "property subject to taxation" means the total fair cash value of all property subject to full local rates, less the total valuation exempted from taxation by the homestead exemption provision of the Constitution and the difference between the fair cash value and agricultural or horticultural value of agricultural or horticultural land.

(7) "Net assessment growth" means the difference between:

(a) The total valuation of property subject to taxation by the county, city, school district, or special district in the preceding year, less the total valuation exempted from taxation by the homestead exemption provision of the Constitution in the current year over that exempted in the preceding year, and

(b) Property, the ownership of which has been transferred from a tax-exempt entity to a nontax-exempt entity;

(c) The value of improvements to existing nonresidential property;

(d) The value of new residential improvements to property;

(e) The value of improvements to existing residential property when the improvement increases the assessed value of the property by fifty percent (50%) or more;

(f) Property created by the subdivision of unimproved property, provided, that when such property is reclassified from farm to subdivision by the property valuation administrator, the value of such property as a farm shall be a deletion from that category;

(g) Property exempt from taxation, as an inducement for industrial or business use, at the expiration of its tax exempt status;

(h) Property, the tax rate of which will change, according to the provisions of KRS 82.085, to reflect additional urban services to be provided by the taxing jurisdiction, provided, however, that such property shall be considered "real property additions" only in proportion to the additional urban services to be provided to the property over the urban services previously provided; and

(i) The value of improvements to real property previously under assessment moratorium.

"Real property deletions" shall be limited to the value of real property removed from, or reduced over the preceding year on, the property tax roll for the current year.

(9) "Agricultural land" means any tract of land, including all income-producing improvements, of at least ten (10) contiguous acres in area used for the production of livestock, livestock products, poultry, poultry products and/or the growing of tobacco and/or other crops including timber, or where devoted to and meeting the requirements and qualifications for payments pursuant to agriculture programs under an agreement with the state or federal government.

(10) "Horticultural land" means any tract of land, including all income-producing improvements, of at least five (5) contiguous acres in area commercially used for the cultivation of a garden, orchard, or the raising of fruits or nuts, vegetables, flowers, or ornamental plants.

(11) "Agricultural or horticultural value" means the use value of "agricultural or horticultural land" based upon income-producing capability and comparable sales of farmland purchased for farm purposes where the price is indicative of farm use value, excluding sales representing purchases for farm expansion, better accessibility, and other factors which inflate the purchase price beyond farm use value, if any, considering the following factors as they affect a taxable unit:

(a) Relative percentages of tillable land, pasture land, and woodland;

(b) Degree of productivity of the soil;

(c) Risk of flooding;

(d) Improvements to and on the land that relate to the production of income;

(e) Row crop capability including allotted crops other than tobacco;

(f) Accessibility to all-weather roads and markets; and

(g) Factors which affect the general agricultural or horticultural economy, such as: interest, price of farm products, cost of farm materials and supplies, labor, or any economic factor which would affect net farm income.

(12) "Deferred tax" means the difference in the tax based on agricultural or horticultural value and the tax based on fair cash value.

(13) "Homestead" means real property maintained as the permanent residence of the owner with all land and improvements adjoining and contiguous thereto including, but not limited to, lawns, drives, flower or vegetable gardens, outbuildings, and all other land connected thereto.

(14) "Residential unit" means all or that part of real property occupied as the permanent residence of the owner.

(15) "Special benefits" are those which are provided by public works not financed through the general tax levy but through special assessments against the benefited property.

It may be used as a place of residence, business, profession, or trade by the owner, lessee, or their assigns and may consist of one (1) or more units that can be attached or joined together to comprise an integral unit or condominium structure.

(17) "Recreational vehicle" means a vehicular type unit primarily designed as temporary living quarters for recreational, camping, or travel use, which either has its own motive power or is mounted on or drawn by another vehicle. The basic entities are: travel trailer, camping trailer, truck camper, and motor home.

(a) Travel trailer: A vehicular unit, mounted on wheels, designed to provide temporary living quarters for recreational, camping, or travel use, and of such size or weight as not to require special highway movement permits when drawn by a motorized vehicle, and with a living area of less than two hundred twenty (220) square feet, excluding built-in equipment (such as wardrobes, closets, cabinets, kitchen units or fixtures) and bath and toilet rooms.

(b) Camping trailer: A vehicular portable unit mounted on wheels and constructed with collapsible partial side walls which fold for towing by another vehicle and unfold at the camp site to provide temporary living quarters for recreational, camping, or travel use.

SECTION 35. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 132 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) The cabinet shall have sole power to value and assess all of the tangible personal property of companies principally engaged in the provision of communications services, whether or not the property has previously been assessed by the cabinet, and shall allocate the assessment as provided in subsection (2) of this section, and shall certify property subject to local taxation to the counties, cities, and taxing districts as provided in subsection (3) of this section. All of the property assessed by the cabinet under this section shall be assessed as of January 1 each year, and the lien therefor shall attach as of the assessment date. In the case of companies which are not principally engaged in the provision of communications service, the cabinet shall in the exercise of its judgment and discretion determine, from evidence which it may have or obtain, what portion of the property is devoted to communications service subject to assessment by the cabinet under this section and shall require the remainder of the property to be assessed by the local taxing authorities. For purposes of this paragraph, "companies principally engaged in the provision of communications services" has the same meaning as that described in subsection (1)(h) of Section 2 of this Act.

(2) The cabinet shall allocate the assessed value of communications property in this state among the counties, cities, and taxing districts. The assessed value shall be allocated to the county, city, or taxing district where the property is situated.

(3) The cabinet shall, immediately after fixing the assessed value of the property of a communications service provider for taxation, notify the corporation of the valuation and the amount of assessment for state and local purposes. When the valuation has been finally determined, the cabinet shall immediately certify, unless otherwise specified, to the county clerk of each county in which any of the property assessment of the corporation is subject to local taxation, the amount of property subject to county, city, or district tax.

(4) No appeal shall delay the collection or payment of taxes based upon the assessment in controversy. The taxpayer shall pay all state, county, and district taxes due on the valuation which the taxpayer claims as the true value as stated in the protest filed under KRS 131.110. When the valuation is finally determined upon appeal, the taxpayer shall be billed for any additional tax and interest at the tax interest rate as defined in KRS 131.010(6), from the date the tax would have become due if no appeal had been taken. The provisions of KRS 134.390 shall apply to the tax bill.

(5) The certification of valuation shall be filed by each county clerk in the clerk's office and shall be certified by the county clerk to the proper collecting officer of the county, city, or taxing district for collection. Any district which has the value certified by the Revenue Cabinet shall pay an annual fee to the Revenue Cabinet which represents an allocation of Revenue Cabinet operating and overhead expenses incurred in generating the valuations. This fee shall be determined by the cabinet and shall apply to valuations for tax periods beginning on or after December 31, 2000.

(2) The property of the taxpayers shall be classified as operating property, nonoperating tangible property, and nonoperating intangible property. Nonoperating intangible property within the taxing jurisdiction of the Commonwealth shall be taxable for state purposes only at the same rate as the intangible property of other taxpayers not performing public services, and operating property and nonoperating tangible property shall be subject to state and local taxes at the same rate as the tangible property of other taxpayers not performing public services.

(3) The Revenue Cabinet shall have sole power to value and assess all of the property of every corporation, company, association, partnership, or person performing any public service, including those enumerated above and all others to whom this section may apply, whether or not the operating property, nonoperating tangible property, or nonoperating intangible property has heretofore been assessed by the cabinet, and shall allocate the assessment as provided by KRS 136.170, and shall certify operating property liable to local taxation and nonoperating tangible property to the counties, cities, and taxing districts as provided in KRS 136.180. All of the property assessed by the cabinet pursuant to this section shall be assessed as of December 31 each year for the following year's taxes, and the lien therefor shall attach as of the assessment date. In the case of a taxpayer whose business is predominantly nonpublic service and the public service business in which he is engaged is merely incidental to his principal business, the cabinet shall in the exercise of its judgment and discretion determine, from evidence which it may have or obtain, what portion of the operating property is devoted to the public service business subject to assessment by the cabinet under this section and shall require the remainder of the property not so engaged to be assessed by the local taxing authorities.

Section 37. KRS 139.100 is amended to read as follows:

(1) "Retail sale" or "sale at retail" means:

(a) 1. A sale for any purpose other than resale in the regular course of business of tangible personal property, or

The person making the delivery shall include the retail selling price of the property in his gross receipts.

(2) "Retail sale" or "sale at retail" shall include but shall not be limited to the following:

(a) The rental of any room or rooms, lodgings, or accommodations furnished by any hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, tourist cabin, or any other place in which rooms, lodgings, or accommodations are regularly furnished to transients for a consideration. For the purposes of this chapter, "prepaid calling arrangement" means the exclusive purchase of communications service, paid for in advance, which enables the origination of calls using an access number or authorization code, whether manually or electronically dialed.

Section 39. KRS 141.120 is amended to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section, unless the context requires otherwise:

(a) "Business income" means income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of a trade or business of the corporation and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, or disposition of the property constitutes integral parts of the corporation's regular trade or business operations;

(3) Rents and royalties from real, intangible or tangible personal property, capital gains and losses, interest, or patent or copyright royalties, to the extent that they constitute nonbusiness income, shall be allocated as provided in subsections (4) to[~~through~~] (7) of this section.

(4) (a) Net rents and royalties from real property located in this state are allocable to this state.

(b) Net rents and royalties from tangible personal property are allocable to this state if and to the extent that the property is utilized in this state; or in their entirety if the corporation's commercial domicile is in this state and the corporation is not organized under the laws of or taxable in the state in which the property is utilized.

(c) The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown or unascertainable by the corporation, the tangible personalty is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payer obtained possession.

(d) Net rents and royalties from intangible personal property located in this state are allocable to this state. For purposes of this section, royalties from property leased in Kentucky shall be considered as royalties from intangible personal property.

(5) (a) Capital gains and losses from sales or other dispositions of real property located in this state are allocable to this state.

(b) Capital gains and losses from sales or other dispositions of tangible personal property are allocable to this state if the property had a situs in this state at the time of the sale, or the corporation's commercial domicile is in this state and the corporation is not taxable in the state in which the property had a situs.

(c) Capital gains and losses from sales or other dispositions of intangible personal property are allocable to this state if the corporation's commercial domicile is in this state.

(6) Interest is allocable to this state if the corporation's commercial domicile is in this state.

(7) (a) Patent and copyright royalties are allocable to this state if and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the payer in this state; or if and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the payer in a state in which the corporation is not taxable and the corporation's commercial domicile is in this state.

(b) A patent is utilized in a state to the extent that it is employed in production, fabrication, manufacturing, or other processing in the state or to the extent that a patented product is produced in the state. If the basis of receipts from patent royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the patent is utilized in the state in which the corporation's commercial domicile is located.

(c) A copyright is utilized in a state to the extent that printing or other publication originates in the state. If the basis of receipts from copyright royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the copyright is utilized in the state in which the corporation's commercial domicile is located.

(8) Except as provided for in subsection (9) of this section, all business income shall be apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus the sales factor, and the denominator of which is three (3); provided, however, that effective with taxable years beginning after July 31, 1985, in lieu of the equally weighted three (3) factor apportionment fraction based on property, payroll, and sales, an apportionment fraction composed of a sales factor representing fifty percent (50%) of the fraction, a property factor representing twenty-five percent (25%) of the fraction, and a payroll factor representing twenty-five percent (25%) of the fraction shall be used.

(a) The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the corporation's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the tax period and the denominator of which is the average value of all the corporation's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the tax period; provided, however, that property which has been certified as a pollution control facility as defined in KRS 224.01-300 shall be excluded from the property factor.

1. Property owned is valued at its original cost. If the original cost of any property is not determinable or is nominal or zero (0) the property shall be valued by the cabinet pursuant to administrative regulations promulgated by the cabinet. Property rented is valued at eight (8) times the net annual rental rate. Net annual rental rate is the annual rental rate paid by the corporation less any annual rental rate received by the corporation from subrentals, provided that the rental and subrentals are reasonable. If the cabinet determines that the annual rental or subrental rate is unreasonable, or if a nominal or zero (0) rate is charged, the cabinet may determine and apply the rental rate as will reasonably reflect the value of the property rented by the corporation.

2. The average value of property shall be determined by averaging the values at the beginning and ending of the tax period but the cabinet may require the averaging of monthly values during the tax period if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the property.

(b) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid or payable in this state during the tax period by the corporation for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid or payable by the corporation everywhere during the tax period. Compensation is paid or payable in this state if:

1. The individual's service is performed entirely within the state;

2. The individual's service is performed both within and without the state, but the service performed without the state is incidental to the individual's service within the state; or

3. Some of the service is performed in the state and the base of operations or, if there is no base of operations, the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in the state, or the base of operations or the place from which the service is directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in this state.

(c) 1. The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the corporation in this state during the tax period, and the denominator of which is the total sales of the corporation everywhere during the tax period.

2. Sales of tangible personal property are in this state if:

a. The property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser, other than the United States government, or to the designee of the purchaser within this state regardless of the f.o.b. point or other conditions of the sale; or

b. The property is shipped from an office, store, warehouse, factory, or other place of storage in this state and the purchaser is the United States government.

3. Sales, other than sales of tangible personal property, are in this state if the income-producing activity is performed in this state; or the income-producing activity is performed both in and outside this state and a greater proportion of the income-producing activity is performed in this state than in any other state, based on costs of performance.

(9) (a) If the allocation and apportionment provisions of this section do not fairly represent the extent of the corporation's business activity in this state, the corporation may petition for or the cabinet may require, in respect to all or any part of the corporation's business activity, if reasonable:

1. Separate accounting;

2. The exclusion of any one (1) or more of the factors;

3. The inclusion of one (1) or more additional factors which will fairly represent the corporation's business activity in this state; or

4. The employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation and apportionment of income.

(b) A corporation may elect the allocation and apportionment methods for the corporation's business income provided for in subparagraphs 1. and 2. of this paragraph. The election, if made, shall be irrevocable for a period of five years.

1. All business income derived directly or indirectly from the sale of management, distribution, or administration services to or on behalf of regulated investment companies, as defined under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, including trustees, and sponsors or participants of employee benefit plans which have accounts in a regulated investment company, shall be apportioned to this state only to the extent that shareholders of the investment company are domiciled in this state as follows:

a. Total business income shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be Kentucky receipts from the services for the tax period and the denominator of which shall be the total receipts everywhere from the services for the tax period.

b. For purposes of subdivision a. of this subparagraph, Kentucky receipts shall be determined by multiplying total receipts for the tax period from each separate investment company for which the services are performed by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction shall be the average of the number of shares owned by the investment company's shareholders domiciled in this state at the beginning of and at the end of the investment company's taxable year, and the denominator of the fraction shall be the average of the number of the shares owned by the investment company shareholders everywhere at the beginning of and at the end of the investment company's taxable year.

c. Nonbusiness income shall be allocated to this state as provided in subsections (4) to~~[through]~~ (7) of this section.

2. All business income derived directly or indirectly from the sale of securities brokerage services by a business which operates within the boundaries of any area of the Commonwealth, which on June 30, 1992, was designated as a Kentucky Enterprise Zone, as defined in KRS 154.655(2), shall be apportioned to this state only to the extent that customers of the securities brokerage firm are domiciled in this state. The portion of business income apportioned to Kentucky shall be determined by multiplying the total business income from the sale of these services by a fraction determined in the following manner:

a. The numerator of the fraction shall be the brokerage commissions and total margin interest paid in respect of brokerage accounts owned by customers domiciled in Kentucky for the brokerage firm's taxable year; and

b. The denominator of the fraction shall be the brokerage commissions and total margin interest paid in respect of brokerage accounts owned by all of the brokerage firm's customers for that year.

c. Nonbusiness income shall be allocated to this state as provided in subsections (4) to~~[through]~~ (7) of this section.

(10) Public service companies, companies providing communications services as defined in Section 7 of this Act, and financial organizations required by KRS 141.010(14)(b) to allocate and apportion net income shall allocate and apportion such income as follows:

(a) Nonbusiness income shall be allocated to this state as provided in subsections (4) to~~[through]~~ (7) of this section.

(b) Business income shall be apportioned to this state by multiplying the business income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus the sales factor and the denominator of which is three (3); provided, however, that effective with taxable years beginning after July 31, 1985, in lieu of the equally weighted three (3) factor apportionment fraction based on property, payroll, and sales, an apportionment fraction composed of a sales factor representing fifty percent (50%) of the fraction, a property factor representing twenty-five percent (25%) of the fraction, and a payroll factor representing twenty-five percent (25%) of the fraction shall be used. The payroll factor shall be determined as provided in subsection (8)(b) of this section. The property factor and sales factor shall be determined as provided by administrative regulations promulgated by the cabinet.

(c) An affiliated group electing to file a consolidated return under KRS 141.200(3) that includes a public service company or financial organization shall determine the amount of payroll to be included in the apportionment factor as provided in subsection (8)(b) of this section. The amount of property and sales of the public service company or financial organization to be included in the apportionment factors of the affiliated group shall be determined in accordance with administrative regulations promulgated by the cabinet under paragraph (b) of this subsection.

(11) Nothing in this section shall be construed as allowing or requiring the filing of a combined return under the unitary business concept or a consolidated return.

Section 40. KRS 160.613 is amended to read as follows:

(1) There is hereby authorized a utility gross receipts license tax for schools not to exceed three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the furnishing, within the county, of~~[telephonic and telegraphic communications services,]~~ electric

The maximum amount of basic reparation benefits payable for all economic loss resulting from injury to any one (1) person as the result of one (1) accident shall be ten thousand dollars ($10,000), regardless of the number of persons entitled to such benefits or the number of providers of security obligated to pay such benefits. Basic reparation benefits consist of one (1) or more of the elements defined as "loss."

(3) "Basic reparation insured" means:

(10) "Net loss" means loss less benefits or advantages, from sources other than basic and added reparation insurance, required to be subtracted from loss in calculating net loss.

If, after resuscitation has been attempted on a patient who the protocol deems is capable of being resuscitated, the patient has not been successfully resuscitated according to the protocol, the paramedic may discontinue further resuscitation efforts and proceed to determine whether the patient is dead and whether to declare the patient dead. If it is determined that death has occurred in accordance with the procedures of KRS 446.400 with regard to patients who have not been resuscitated, the paramedic may make the actual determination and pronouncement of death. SECTION 1. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 148 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) The Department of Travel of the Tourism Development Cabinet shall, after appropriate research has been conducted, establish and maintain a Kentucky Certified Retirement Community Program whereby retirees and those planning to retire are encouraged to make their homes in Kentucky communities that have met certain criteria to be certified by the Tourism Development Cabinet as a Kentucky certified retirement community. In support of this program, the Department of Travel shall identify certain areas of interest to retirees or potential retirees in order to inform them of the benefits of living in Kentucky. Issues of interest to retirees may include, but are not limited to, Kentucky's state and local tax structure, housing opportunities and cost, climate, personal safety, working opportunities, health care services, transportation, continuing education, leisure living, recreation, the performing arts, festivals and events, and sports at all levels.

(2) The mission of the Kentucky Certified Retirement Community Program shall be to:

(a) Promote the state as a retirement destination to retirees and those persons and families who are planning retirement both in and outside of Kentucky;

(b) Assist Kentucky communities in their efforts to market themselves as retirement locations and to develop communities that retirees would find attractive for a retirement lifestyle;

(c) Assist in the development of retirement communities and lifecare communities for economic development purposes and as a means of providing a potential workforce and enriching Kentucky communities; and

(d) Encourage tourism to Kentucky in the form of mature market travel to Kentucky in reference to retirement desirability for the future, and for the visitation of those who have chosen to retire in Kentucky.

(3) The Tourism Development Cabinet shall coordinate the development and planning of the Kentucky Certified Retirement Community Program with the Cabinet for Economic Development, the Office of Aging Services in the Cabinet for Health Services, and other state and local groups interested in participating in and promoting the program.

(4) To obtain certification as a Kentucky certified retirement community, the following requirements shall be met:

(a) Official community support. A resolution by the governing authority endorsing the local retirement recruitment effort is required;

(b) Designation of a sponsor. The program shall have an official sponsoring organization that shall appoint an individual who will be accountable to the community and to the state;

(c) Funding. The sponsoring organization must commit a minimum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per year for the local program;

(d) Hospital. There shall be a hospital that is readily accessible to the community;

(e) Available housing. The community shall maintain information on both resale housing and rental housing to ensure that the quantity is sufficient to meet the needs of potential new retiree residents;

(f) Retiree desirability assessment. The community shall conduct a retiree desirability assessment that shall focus on a number of factors including, but not limited to medical services, adult education opportunities, shopping, recreation, cultural opportunities, and safety;

(g) Establishment of subcommittees. Each locality shall have a general retiree attraction committee and a minimum of four (4) subcommittees as follows:

1. Community inventory/assessment subcommittee. This subcommittee shall conduct an unbiased inventory and assessment of whether the community can offer the basics that retirees demand and develop a professional portfolio containing brief biographies of professionals in the community;

2. Community relations/fundraising subcommittee. This subcommittee shall locate retirees living in the community, act as salespersons for the program, raise funds necessary to run the program, recruit subcommittee members, organize special events, and promote and coordinate the program with local entities;

3. Marketing and promotion subcommittee. This subcommittee shall establish a community image, evaluate target markets, develop and distribute promotional material, and coordinate advertising and public relations campaigns; and

4. Ambassadors subcommittee. This subcommittee shall be the first contact with prospective retirees and provide tour guides when prospects visit the community. The subcommittee shall respond to inquiries, log contacts made, provide tours, invite prospects to special community events, and maintain continual contact with prospects until the time that the prospect makes a retirement location decision;

(h) Community profile. The sponsor shall develop a community profile similar to that used by many chambers of commerce. It will include factors such as crime statistics, tax information, recreational opportunities, and housing availability; and

(i) Written marketing plan. The retiree attraction committee shall submit a marketing plan that shall detail the mission, the target market, the competition, an analysis of the community's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats, and the strategies the program will employ to attain its goals.

(5) During the certification process, a representative of the retirement attraction committee shall attend state training meetings.

(6) The retiree attraction committee shall work to gain the support of churches, clubs, businesses, and the local media, as this support is necessary for the success of the program.

(7) Within ninety (90) days of certification, the locality shall submit a complete retiree attraction package to the Department of Travel.

(8) Before certification is awarded, the retiree attraction committee shall make a written three (3) year commitment to the program. The written commitment shall be forwarded to the Department of Travel of the Tourism Development Cabinet.

If the member elects to transfer his service credit, the system or plan from which the transfer is made shall transfer to the judicial retirement fund an amount equal to the employee's and employer's contributions attributable to that credit, together with interest on the contributions from the date made to the date of transfer at the actuarially assumed interest rate of the system or plan from which the transfer is made in effect at the time the contributions were made, compounded annually at that same interest rate. The member shall be entitled to the transferred service credit, at the rate at which he qualifies pursuant to KRS 21.400, when he pays the total difference between the amount of the funds transferred and the cost of the credit to the Judicial Retirement Plan, as determined by the actuary for the Judicial Retirement Plan. The payments made under this section shall be considered accumulated contributions of the member and shall not be picked up by the employer pursuant to KRS 21.360(6).

(4) (a) 1. Any active member of the Judicial Retirement Plan who is vested in the Judicial Retirement Plan pursuant to subsection (1) of this section or KRS 21.375, or his beneficiary acting in his place if the member dies prior to retirement, shall receive service credit for a maximum of four (4) years for his period of service in the Armed Forces of the United States, if his discharge therefrom is honorable and he has not been credited with the service by any other retirement system administered by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, by paying the retirement system thirty-five percent (35%) of the actuarial cost of the service as determined by the board of trustees, based on assumptions used in the most recent biennial evaluation. The service credit shall be awarded and the cost shall be determined in conformity with the rate which applies to the member in question pursuant to KRS 21.400. Service credit awarded pursuant to this subsection shall be equivalent, for all purposes of the Judicial Retirement Plan, to other service credit earned in the plan.

2. Any active member of the Judicial Retirement Plan who is vested in the Judicial Retirement Plan may purchase and receive service credit for one (1) month of service for each six (6) months of service in the reserves or the National Guard by paying the retirement system one hundred percent (100%) of the actuarial cost of the service as determined by the board of trustees, based on assumptions used in the most recent biennial evaluation. The service credit shall be awarded and the cost shall be determined in conformity with the rate that applies to the member in question as provided in KRS 21.400. Service credit awarded pursuant to this subsection shall be equivalent, for all purposes of the Judicial Retirement Plan, to other service credit earned in the plan. The member may purchase all of his military service credit at one (1) time, or in increments of no less than one (1) year, unless there is a fraction remaining after all full years have been paid for. Payment of the total or the increment may be made by lump sum or by monthly installments through payroll deduction. If the member chooses to pay by installment, the cost of the service credit shall be computed in the same manner as for a lump-sum payment, which shall be the principal. Interest, at the annual actuarial rate in effect at the time each payment is made, shall be added to each monthly payment at the rate of one-twelfth (1/12) of the annual interest rate applied to the declining principal amount. Installment purchases shall be for no less than twelve (12) nor more than sixty (60) months. If the member leaves office before completing his installment payments, he may satisfy his contract by a lump-sum payment of the remaining principal amount, but no further installment payments shall be accepted thereafter. In this case, the member shall be credited with the military service credit for which he has paid, in years or months but no fraction less than a full month, and any payment remaining after credit for full months has been awarded shall be returned to the member.

(c) The payments made under this section shall be considered accumulated contributions of the member and shall not be picked up by the employer pursuant to KRS 21.360(6).

(d) No veteran shall be eligible to purchase military service credit under this section if he is receiving a military pension or is eligible for a military pension in the future, unless the military pension is for service primarily on inactive duty in a reserve component of the Armed Forces, or is a disability pension which does not exceed five hundred dollars ($500) monthly.

(5) Any active member of the Judicial Retirement Plan who is vested in the Judicial Retirement Plan under subsection (1) of this section or KRS 21.375, shall receive service credit for a maximum of four (4) years each for his period of service as a Domestic Relations Commissioner, a Master Commissioner, or a District Court Trial Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, if the service has not been credited to the member's account with any other public defined benefit plan, by paying the retirement system one hundred percent (100%) of the actuarial cost of the service as determined by the board of trustees, based on assumptions used in the most recent biennial evaluation. The period of service to be purchased shall be certified to the board of trustees by the custodian of the records. The service credit shall be awarded and the cost shall be determined in conformity with the rate that applies to the member in question under KRS 21.400. Service credit awarded under this subsection shall be equivalent, for all purposes of the Judicial Retirement Plan, to other service credit earned in the plan. The member may pay by lump sum or by increments as set forth in subsection (2)(b) of Section 2 of this Act, but an installment contract shall not extend for more than sixty (60) months. The payments made under this section shall be considered accumulated contributions of the member and shall not be picked up by the employer under KRS 21.360(6).

(6) Any member of the Judicial Retirement Plan, who has at least two hundred forty (240) months of service credit may purchase a combined maximum total of five (5) years of retirement service credit that is not otherwise purchasable, by paying the retirement system one hundred percent (100%) of the actuarial cost of the service as determined by the board of trustees, based on assumptions used in the most recent biennial evaluation. The service credit shall be awarded and the cost shall be determined in conformity with the rate that applies to the member in question under KRS 21.400. (7) Any member of the Judicial Retirement Plan may purchase service credit under this section by transferring funds directly from a retirement plan maintained by his employer that is a qualified plan under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code or by a rollover of funds from the plan under the rules specified in Section 402(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, and the Judicial Retirement Plan shall accept the transfer or rollover to the extent permitted under the rules specified in Section 402(c) and Section 401(a)(31) of the Internal Revenue Code. The amount shall be credited to the individual member's contribution account and shall be considered accumulated contributions of the member.

Any active member of the Legislators' Retirement Plan who has at least five (5) years of service credit in the Legislators' Retirement Plan, or his beneficiary acting in his place if the member dies prior to retirement, shall receive service credit for a maximum of four (4) years for his period of service in the Armed Forces of the United States, if his discharge therefrom is honorable and he has not been credited with the service by any other retirement system administered by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, by paying the retirement system thirty-five percent (35%) of the actuarial cost of the service as determined by the board of trustees, based on assumptions used in the most recent biennial evaluation. The service credit shall be awarded and the cost shall be determined in conformity with the rate which applies to the legislator in question pursuant to KRS 6.520. Service credit awarded pursuant to this subsection shall be equivalent, for all purposes of the Legislators' Retirement Plan, to other service credit earned in the plan.

2. Any active member of the Legislators' Retirement Plan who has at least five (5) years of service credit in the Legislators' Retirement Plan may purchase and receive service credit for one (1) month of service for each six (6) months of service in the reserves or the National Guard by paying the retirement system one hundred percent (100%) of the actuarial cost of the service as determined by the board of trustees, based on the assumptions used in the most recent biennial evaluation. The service credit shall be awarded and the cost shall be determined in conformity with the rate that applies to the legislator in question pursuant to KRS 6.520. Service credit awarded as provided in this subsection shall be equivalent, for all purposes of the Legislators' Retirement Plan, to other service credit earned in the plan. The service in the military reserves or the National Guard shall be treated as service earned prior to participation in the plan. The purchase can be made by the member in a lump-sum payment or by installment payments, as set forth in paragraph (b) of this subsection. The payment shall not be picked up by the employer as provided in KRS 6.505(2).

(b) The beneficiary may purchase military service credit only at one (1) time by lump-sum payment for the amount of service he wishes to purchase, and the payment shall be made within thirty (30) days of the death of the active member. The member may purchase all of his military service credit at one (1) time, or in increments of no less than one (1) year, unless there is a fraction remaining after all full years have been paid for. Payment of the total or the increment may be made by lump-sum or by monthly installments through payroll deduction. If the member chooses to pay by installment, the cost of the service credit shall be computed in the same manner as for a lump-sum payment, which shall be the principal. Interest, at the annual actuarial rate in effect at the time each payment is made, shall be added to each monthly payment at the rate of one-twelfth (1/12) of the annual interest rate applied to the declining principal amount. Installment purchases shall be for no less than twelve (12) nor more than sixty (60) months. If the member leaves office before completing his installment payments, he may satisfy his contract by a lump-sum payment of the remaining principal amount, but no further installment payments shall be accepted thereafter. In this case, the member shall be credited with the military service credit for which he has paid, in years or months but no fraction less than a full month, and any payment remaining after credit for full months has been awarded shall be returned to the member.

(c) The payments made under this section shall be considered accumulated contributions of the member and shall not be picked up by the employer pursuant to KRS 6.505(2).

(d) No veteran shall be eligible to purchase military service credit under this section if he is receiving a military pension or is eligible for a military pension in the future, unless the military pension is for service primarily on inactive duty in a reserve component of the Armed Forces, or is a disability pension which does not exceed five hundred dollars ($500) monthly.

(3) If spouses both serve in the General Assembly, but not simultaneously, they may combine their service credit in the Legislators' Retirement Plan for all purposes of that plan into a single account, and may jointly designate to whom the service retirement allowance shall be paid. The designation shall not be changed once it is made. Assuming equal service credit, the benefits paid, pursuant to this section, to a legislator and his or her spouse who also served as a legislator shall not exceed the benefits that the same legislator and his or her spouse would receive if the spouse had not served as a legislator.

(4) In the event of divorce, rights to benefits shall be considered marital property subject to the provisions of KRS 403.190.

(5) A former legislator whose spouse currently serves in the General Assembly and who received a refund of contributions pursuant to KRS 21.460 may repurchase service credit which he or she previously had by repaying the amount refunded with interest at six percent (6%) per annum, and the service credit shall become part of the single account authorized by subsection (2) of this section.

(6) A member who has qualified for benefits pursuant to KRS 6.525(1) may transfer to the Legislators' Retirement Plan up to ten (10) years of service credit which he has earned in a retirement system administered by Kentucky Retirement Systems. If the member elects to transfer his service credit, the system from which the transfer is made shall transfer to the legislators' retirement fund an amount equal to the employee's and employer's contributions attributable to that credit, together with interest on the contributions from the date made to date of transfer at the actuarially assumed interest rate of the system from which the transfer is made in effect at the time the contributions were made, compounded annually at that same interest rate. The member shall be entitled to the transferred service credit, at the rate at which he qualifies pursuant to KRS 6.520, when he pays the total difference between the amount of the funds transferred and the cost of the credit to the Legislators' Retirement Plan, as determined by the actuary for the Legislators' Retirement Plan. The member may pay by lump sum or by increments, as provided for in subsection (2)(b) of this section, but an installment contract shall not extend for more than sixty (60) months. The payments made under this section shall be considered accumulated contributions of the member and shall not be picked up by the employer under KRS 6.505(2).

(8) Any member of the Legislators' Retirement Plan may purchase service credit under this section by transferring funds directly from a retirement plan maintained by his employer that is a qualified plan under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code or by a rollover of funds from the plan under the rules specified in Section 402(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, and the Legislators' Retirement Plan shall accept the transfer or rollover to the extent permitted under the rules specified in Section 402(c) and Section 401(a)(31) of the Internal Revenue Code. The amount shall be credited to the individual member's contribution account and shall be considered accumulated contributions of the member.

The recipient shall agree to pay by payroll deduction or another method the difference between what is paid from the insurance fund and one hundred percent (100%) of the premium. If the recipient had at least one hundred twenty (120) months of service, fifty percent (50%) of the premium shall be paid from the insurance fund, if the recipient agrees to pay the remaining fifty percent (50%) by payroll deduction from his retirement allowance or by another method. The taxpayer shall be entitled to a copy of this cabinet recording or a transcript as provided in KRS 61.874.

(6) If any taxpayer's failure to submit a timely return or payment to the cabinet is due to the taxpayer's reasonable reliance on written advice from the cabinet, the taxpayer shall be relieved of any penalty or interest with respect thereto provided the taxpayer requested the advice in writing from the cabinet and the specific facts and circumstances of the activity or transaction were fully described in the taxpayer's request, the cabinet did not subsequently rescind or modify the advice in writing and there were no subsequent changes in applicable laws or regulations or a final decision of a court which rendered the cabinet's earlier written advice no longer valid.

(7) Taxpayers shall have the right to receive a copy of any audit of the cabinet by the Auditor of Public Accounts relating to the cabinet's compliance with the provisions of KRS 131.041 to 131.081.

(8) The cabinet shall include with each notice of tax due a clear and concise description of the basis and amount of any tax, penalty, and interest assessed against the taxpayer, and copies of the agent's audit workpapers and the agent's written narrative setting forth the grounds upon which the assessment is made. Taxpayers shall be similarly notified regarding the denial or reduction of any refund or credit claim filed by a taxpayer.

(9) Taxpayers shall have the right to an installment payment agreement for the payment of delinquent taxes, penalties, and interest owed provided the taxpayer requests the agreement in writing clearly demonstrating his inability to pay in full and that the agreement will facilitate collection by the cabinet of the amounts owed. The cabinet may modify or terminate an installment payment agreement if it determines the taxpayer has not complied with the terms of the agreement; the taxpayers' financial condition has sufficiently changed; the taxpayer fails to provide any requested financial condition update information; the taxpayer gave false or misleading information in securing the agreement; or the taxpayer fails to timely report and pay any other tax due the Commonwealth. The cabinet shall give written notice to the taxpayer at least thirty (30) days prior to modifying or terminating an installment payment agreement unless the cabinet has reason to believe that collection of the amounts owed will be jeopardized in whole or in part by delay.

(10) The cabinet shall not knowingly authorize, require, or conduct any investigation or surveillance of any person for nontax administration related purposes, except internal security related investigations involving Revenue Cabinet personnel.

(11) In addition to the circumstances under which an extension of time for filing reports or returns may be granted pursuant to KRS 131.170, taxpayers shall be entitled to the same extension of the due date of any comparable Kentucky tax report or return for which the taxpayer has secured a written extension from the Internal Revenue Service provided the taxpayer notifies the cabinet in writing and provides a copy of the extension at the time and in the manner which the cabinet may require.

(12) The cabinet shall bear the cost or, if paid by the taxpayer, reimburse the taxpayer for recording or bank charges as the direct result of any erroneous lien or levy by the cabinet, provided the erroneous lien or levy was caused by cabinet error and, prior to issuance of the erroneous lien or levy, the taxpayer timely responded to all contacts by the cabinet and provided information or documentation sufficient to establish his or her position. When the cabinet releases any erroneous lien or levy, notice of the fact shall be mailed to the taxpayer and, if requested by the taxpayer, a copy of the release, together with an explanation, shall be mailed to the major credit reporting companies located in the county where it was filed.

(13) The cabinet shall not evaluate individual officers or employees on the basis of taxes assessed or collected or impose or suggest tax assessment or collection quotas or goals.

(14) Taxpayers shall have the right to bring an action for damages against the Commonwealth to the Board of Claims for actual and direct monetary damages sustained by the taxpayer as a result of willful, reckless, and intentional disregard by cabinet employees of the rights of taxpayers as set out in KRS 131.041 to 131.081 or in the tax laws administered by the cabinet. In the awarding of damages pursuant to this subsection, the board shall take into consideration the negligence or omissions, if any, on the part of the taxpayer which contributed to the damages. If any proceeding brought by a taxpayer is ruled frivolous by the board, the cabinet shall be reimbursed by the taxpayer for its costs in defending the action.

(15) Taxpayers shall have the right to privacy with regard to the information provided on their Kentucky tax returns and reports, including any attached information or documents. Except as provided in Section 2 of this Act[~~by KRS 131.190~~], no information pertaining to the returns, reports, or the affairs of a person's business shall be divulged by the cabinet to any person or be intentionally and without authorization inspected by any present or former secretary or employee of the Revenue Cabinet, member of a county board of assessment appeals, property valuation administrator or employee, or any other person.

This prohibition does not extend to information required in prosecutions for making false reports or returns of property for taxation, or any other infraction of the tax laws, nor does it extend to any matter properly entered upon any assessment record, or in any way made a matter of public record, nor does it preclude furnishing any taxpayer or his properly authorized agent with information respecting his own return. This information shall be provided to the owner on a confidential basis, and the owner shall be subject to the penalties provided in Section 3(2) of this Act[~~KRS 131.990(2)~~]. The third-party filer shall be given prior notice of any disclosure of information to the owner that was provided by the third-party filer.

(2) The secretary shall make available any information for official use only and on a confidential basis to the proper officer, agency, board or commission of this state, any Kentucky county, any Kentucky city, any other state, or the federal government, under reciprocal agreements whereby the cabinet shall receive similar or useful information in return.

(3) Statistics of tax-paid gasoline gallonage reported monthly to the Revenue Cabinet under the gasoline excise tax law may be made public by the cabinet.

The General Assembly finds and declares that:

(1) The establishment of the position~~[Office]~~ of the Chief Information Officer as the Commonwealth's single point of contact and spokesperson for all matters related to information technology and resources, including policies, standard setting, deployment, strategic and tactical planning, acquisition, management, and operations is necessary and in keeping with the industry trends of the private and public sectors;

(2) The appropriate use of information technology by the Commonwealth can improve operational productivity, reduce the cost of government, enhance service to customers, and make government more accessible to the public;

(3) Government-wide planning, investment, protection, and direction for information resources must be enacted to:

  (a) Ensure the effective application of information technology on state business operations;

  (b) Ensure the quality, security, and integrity of state business operations; and

(4) The Commonwealth must provide information technology infrastructure, technical directions, and a proficient organizational management structure to facilitate the productive application of information technology and resources to accomplish programmatic missions and business goals;

(5) Oversight of large scale and government statewide systems or projects is necessary to protect the Commonwealth's investment and to ensure appropriate integration with existing or planned systems;

(10) The sharing of information resources and technologies among executive branch state agencies is the most cost-effective method of providing the highest quality and most timely government services that would otherwise be cost-prohibitive;

(12) The exercise by the chief information officer of powers and authority conferred by Sections 1 to 9, 15, 20, 22, 23, and 24 of this Act~~[KRS 61.935 to 61.938]~~ shall be deemed and held to be the performance of essential governmental functions.

The House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Kentucky hereby offers sincerest commendation and applause to Kyle S. Campbell upon capturing the Amateur Pole Bending World Champion Title for his phenomenal premier performance in the 1999 American Quarter Horse Association World Championship Show in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Riding against thirty-eight other contenders, and having qualified two horses for the Junior and Senior Pole Bending finals, as well as qualifying the Senior horse for the Amateur Barrel and Pole finals, Mr. Campbell placed eighth in the Senior Pole finals before his tremendous victory atop the sorrel gelding, I am A Venterized Man, with an impressive time of 20.794 seconds. Pole Bending is a competition whereby six poles are spaced twenty-one feet apart and through which the horse and rider must run the full length of the course before returning to the other end, weaving in and out of the poles. Horse and rider then return to the other end of the course, again weaving in and out of the poles, before racing to the finish after turning the last pole. Inasmuch as this difficult event requires full concentration and a high level of skill by both horse and rider, Kyle S. Campbell, who has ridden for only three years, is offered sincerest praise for having demonstrated such tremendous talent and ability in this intricate event. The members of this august body are delighted to join with Representative Jim Stewart in offering congratulations to Kyle S. Campbell upon this well-deserved victory and in extending best wishes for continued landmarks of success. Done in Frankfort, this seventh day of March, in the year two thousand.

Floor Amendment No. 3 to the Committee Substitute to HB 537, by Representative Damron:

On page 115, line 3, by inserting after "Section 43." the following:

"KRS 161.507 is amended to read as follows:

(1) An active contributing member of the Teachers' Retirement System may receive service credit for active service rendered in the uniformed services of the Armed Forces of the United States, including the commissioned corps of the Public Health Service, subject to the provisions of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 and to administrative regulations promulgated by the board of trustees. Military service includes service in the uniformed services that occurs before the employment of a member in a position covered by the retirement system or where a member leaves covered employment without giving advance written or verbal notice of performing duty in the uniformed services. Service in the uniformed services also includes uniformed service that occurs after employment in a position covered by the retirement system where the member has given advance written or verbal notice of performing duty in the uniformed services and the member returns directly from uniformed services to covered employment. Military service may be credited only if discharge was honorable or was not terminated upon the occurrence of any of the events listed in 38 U.S.C. sec. 4304. Service shall be considered as Kentucky teaching service, except that service may not be used for meeting the service requirements set forth in KRS 161.600(1)(a) or 161.661(1) unless the service occurred after the member gave written or verbal notice of performing duty in the uniformed services and the member returned directly from uniformed services to covered employment. A maximum of six (6) years of military service may be credited, but in no case a greater number of years than the actual years of contributing service in Kentucky.

(2) No credit shall be granted for military service which has been or will be used in qualifying for annuity benefit payments from another retirement system financed wholly or in part by public funds.

(3) A member having twenty (20) years or more of active duty in the military service, and who is qualified for regular federal retirement benefits based on this military service, may not receive credit for any military service in the Teachers' Retirement System. This subsection shall apply to service presented for credit on July 1, 1975, and after this date.

(4) (a) A member receiving retirement credit for active duty in the armed services of the United States prior to employment in a position covered by the retirement system or where the member leaves covered employment without giving advance written or verbal notice of performing duty in the uniformed services shall contribute to the retirement system an amount equal to thirty-five percent (35%) of the actuarial cost for each year of service for which the member is receiving credit. Two percent (2%) of the thirty-five percent (35%) required payment shall be allocated to the medical insurance fund. These contributions shall not be picked up, as described in KRS 161.540(2). In purchasing retirement credit for active duty in the armed services, the latest years of service shall be considered first in allowing credit toward retirement. The board of trustees shall adopt a table of actuarial factors to be used in calculating the amount of contribution required for crediting this service.

(b) If military service occurred after the member gave written or verbal notice of performing duty in the uniformed services and the member returns directly from uniformed services to covered employment, the member shall contribute the regular member contribution required by KRS 161.540. The member may make the payment of delayed contributions in a lump sum payment or in installments not to exceed five (5) years beginning with the member's date of reemployment. Interest at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum shall be charged for delayed contributions beginning with the member's date of reemployment until paid.

(5) An active contributing member of the Teachers' Retirement System may receive service credit for service in the military reserves of the United States or the National Guard. The member may purchase one (1) month of service for each six (6) months of service in the reserves or the National Guard. Notwithstanding any other statute, regulation, or policy to the contrary, the system shall provide a member, upon request, the estimated actuarial cost of the National Guard or military reserves service purchase based upon the information available at the time of the request. The member shall be entitled to enter into a contract with the systems at the time of the request to purchase the National Guard or military reserve service by paying to the system the estimated actuarial cost, either by installments or in lump sum. ~~[The member shall pay the full actuarial cost of the service in the military reserves or the National Guard.]~~ Service in the military reserves or the National Guard shall be treated as service earned prior to participation in the system and shall not be used for meeting the service requirements set forth in KRS 161.600(1)(a) or 161.661(1). The payment shall not be picked up by the employer, as described in KRS 161.540(2).

On page 1, by deleting all whereas clauses on page 1 in their entirety; and

By deleting page 2, 3 and 4 in their entirety; and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

WHEREAS, the Framers of Kentucky's Constitution acknowledged Almighty God to be the source of the Commonwealth's public and private liberties in the following words:

> "We, the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, grateful to Almighty God for the civil, political and religious liberties we enjoy, and invoking the continuance of these blessings, do ordain and establish this Constitution"; and

WHEREAS, in 1992, the Kentucky General Assembly recognized in the enactment of KRS 158.195 that there is nothing in the Kentucky Constitution or the First Amendment to the United States Constitution which requires the rewriting of American or Kentucky history or the suppression or censorship of those histories for any reason, particularly because of any religious references in historic documents; and

WHEREAS, many of the Ten Commandments have been codified in Kentucky's civil and criminal laws and similarly in the legal codes of the other forty-nine states; and

WHEREAS, America's colonial governments adopted the Ten Commandments not as an object of worship or an icon, but as the basis for their civil and criminal law, as illustrated on April 3, 1644, when the New Haven Colony Charter was adopted establishing that "[t]he judicial laws of God, as they were delivered by Moses be a rule to all the courts in this jurisdiction"; and

WHEREAS, William Blackstone, Esq., eminent British jurist, Professor of Law, and legal scholar whose writings shaped the thoughts of the men who wrote the Declaration of Independence and the other founding documents of the Republic which became the authority for much of our original American system of jurisprudence, stated in his "Commentaries on the Laws of England" published in 1765: "[u]pon these two foundations, the law of nature and the law of revelation [the Bible] depend all human laws"; and

WHEREAS, when signing the Declaration of Independence on August 2, 1776, Samuel Adams, the "Father of the Revolution," emphasized the Biblical presuppositions of that document:

> "We have this day restored the Sovereign to whom all men ought to be obedient. He reigns in heaven and from the rising to the setting of the sun, let His kingdom come"; and

WHEREAS, on August 20, 1789, Congressman Fisher Ames from Massachusetts proposed the wording of the First Amendment which was adopted by the House of Representatives in the first session of the Congress of the United States; and his writings clearly demonstrate that the Framers never intended the First Amendment to be so interpreted as to require the removal of the Bible and the Ten Commandments from public school classrooms:

> "Should not the Bible regain the place it once held as a schoolbook? Its morals are pure, its examples are captivating and noble. . . . In no Book is there so good English, so pure and so elegant, and by teaching all the same they will speak alike, and the Bible will justly remain the standard of language as well as of faith"; and

WHEREAS, in an article published in "Palladium" magazine on September 20, 1789, Congressman Ames further amplified his concern that American education should include familiarity with the Bible:

> "We are spending less time in the classroom on the Bible which should be the principal text in our schools . . . The Bible states these great moral lessons better than any other manmade book"; and

WHEREAS, in a letter dated August 18, 1790, President George Washington wrote to the Hebrew Congregation in Newport, Rhode Island, "All possess alike liberty of conscience and immunities of citizenship...May the children of the stock of Abraham, who dwell in this land, continue to merit and enjoy the good will of the other inhabitants; while every one shall sit in safety under his own vine and figtree, and there shall be none to make him afraid"; and

WHEREAS, in his "Farewell Address" of September 19, 1796, President George Washington pointed out the connection between the faith of the Nation and its political prosperity when he declared:

> "Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. . . . Let us with caution indulge the supposition, that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that National morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle"; and

WHEREAS, Noah Webster, the author of dictionaries and America's first speller, grammar, and reader (the famed 1783 "Blue-Backed Speller"), articulated the mindset of the Framers who presupposed a Biblical basis for law:

> "The moral principles and precepts contained in the Scriptures ought to form the basis for all our civil constitutions and laws. All the miseries and evils which men suffer from vice, crime, ambition, injustice, oppression, slavery and war proceed from their despising or neglecting the precepts contained in the Bible"; and

WHEREAS, acknowledging the Bible as an integral part of the fabric of our society, on September 11, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a resolution to import 20,000 Bibles from Holland and Scotland, as the colonies were at war with England; and

WHEREAS, on May 29, 1845, the day before his death, President Andrew Jackson stated:

> "My lamp of life is nearly out, and the last glimmer has come. I am ready to depart when called. The Bible is true. The principles and statutes of that Holy Book have been the rule of my life, and I have tried to conform to its spirit as nearly as possible. Upon that sacred volume I rest my hope for eternal salvation, through the merits and blood of our blessed Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ"; and

WHEREAS, on February 29, 1892, the United States Supreme Court, in a unanimous decision which has never been overruled, cited sixty-six authorities which show the Bible's singular influence on America:

> "There is no dissonance in these declarations. There is a universal language pervading them all, having one meaning; they affirm and reaffirm that this is a religious nation. These are not individual sayings, declarations of private persons; they are organic utterances; they speak the voice of the entire group. These authorities were collected to support the historical conclusion that: 'no purpose of action against religion can be imputed any legislation, state or nation, because this is a religious people. This is historically true. From the discovery of this continent to the present hour, there is a single voice making this affirmation . . . we find everywhere a clear recognition of the same truth . . . this is a Christian nation' "; and

WHEREAS, on May 7, 1911, President Woodrow Wilson, addressing the Tercentenary Celebration of the Translation of the Bible into the English Language, stated:

> "Up to the time of the translation of the Bible into English, it was a book for long ages withheld from the perusal of the peoples of other languages and other tongues, and not a little of the history of liberty lies in the circumstance that the moving sentences of this book were made familiar to the ears and understanding of those peoples who have led mankind in exhibiting the forms of government and the impulses of reform which have made for freedom and for self-government among mankind.
> "For this is a book which reveals men unto themselves, not as creatures in bondage, but as men under human authority, not as those bidden to take counsel and command of any human source. It reveals every man to himself as a distinct moral agent, responsible not to men, not even to those men whom he has put over him in authority, but responsible through his own conscience to his Lord and Maker. Whenever a man sees this vision he stands up a free man, whatever may be the government under which he lives, if he sees beyond the circumstances of his own life . . . Moreover, the Bible does what is so invaluable in human life -- it classifies moral values. It apprises us that men are not judged according to their wits, but according to their characters -- that the last of every man's reputation is his truthfulness, his squaring his conduct with the standards that he knew to be the standards of purity and rectitude.
> "How many a man we appraise, ladies and gentlemen, as great today whom we do not admire as noble! A man may have great power and small character"; and

WHEREAS, President Woodrow Wilson's letter to the soldiers and sailors of the United States during World War I, recorded in the Congressional Record, advised them:

> "The Bible is the word of life. I beg that you will read it and find this out for yourselves -- read not little snatches here and there, but long passages that will really be the road to the heart of it. You will find it full of real men and women not only, but also of things you have wondered about and been troubled about all your life, as men have been always; and the more you read, the more it will become plain to you what things are worthwhile and what are not, what things make men happy -- loyalty, right dealings, speaking the truth, readiness to give everything for what they think their duty, and, most of all, the wish that they may have the real approval of the Christ, who gave everything for them -- and the things that are guaranteed to make men unhappy -- selfishness, cowardice, greed, and everything that is low and mean. When you have read the Bible, you will know that it is the Word of God, because you will have found it the key to your own heart, your own happiness, and your own duty"; and

WHEREAS, before his assassination on November 22, 1963, President John F. Kennedy prepared a major address on the status of American strength and security, choosing his last words from the Bible to reveal the source of America's true security: "Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain"; and

WHEREAS, in his book, "Sources of Power," President Jimmy Carter acknowledged the importance of the Mosaic law as a foundation:

> "As we face changes and challenges, we need to hold on to the things that don't change, the foundations on which we can build our lives despite the uncertainty and danger of the future. God's law is the greatest of these foundations"; and

WHEREAS, the Ten Commandments appear over the bench where the United States Supreme Court Justices sit, thus showing the source from whence our laws and the governmental power of the state are derived; and

WHEREAS, in his November, 1976 interview with Robert Scheer, President Jimmy Carter stated:

> "I think the laws are on the books quite often because of their relationship to the Bible. Early in the nation's development, the Judeo-Christian moral standards were accepted as a basis for civil law"; and

WHEREAS, in his February 22, 1990 proclamation designating 1990 as The International Year of Bible Reading, President George Bush declared:

> "The Bible has had a critical impact upon the development of Western civilization. Western literature, art, and music are filled with images and ideas that can be traced to its pages. More important, our moral tradition has been shaped by the laws and teachings it contains. It was a biblical view of man -- one affirming the dignity and worth of the human person, made in the image of our Creator -- that inspired the principles upon which the United States is founded. President Jackson called the Bible "the rock on which our Republic rests" because he knew that it shaped the Founding Fathers' concept of individual liberty and their vision of a free and just society. The Bible has not only influenced the development of our Nation's values and institutions, but also enriched the daily lives of millions of men and women who have looked to it for comfort, hope, and guidance. On the American frontier, the Bible was often the only book a family owned. For those pioneers living far from any church or school, it served both as a source of religious instruction and as the primary text from which children learned to read. The historic speeches of Abraham Lincoln and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., provide compelling evidence of the role Scripture played in shaping the struggle against slavery and discrimination. Today the Bible continues to give courage and direction to those who seek truth and righteousness. In recognizing its enduring value, we recall the words of the prophet Isaiah, who declared, 'The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand forever.' Containing revelations of God's intervention in human history, the Bible offers moving testimony to His love for mankind. Treasuring the Bible as a source of knowledge and inspiration, President Abraham Lincoln called this Great Book 'the best gift God has given to man.' President Lincoln believed that the Bible not only reveals the infinite goodness of our Creator, but also reminds us of our worth as individuals and our responsibilities toward one another";

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. The Kentucky Department of Education, with assistance as necessary by the Legislative Research Commission, shall electronically transmit KRS 158.195 and this resolution to all public school teachers in the Commonwealth setting forth the legal guidelines established by the General Assembly in this resolution governing elected officials and public school teachers electing to post historic displays which include a depiction of the Ten Commandments.

Section 2. Documents depicting the Ten Commandments may be posted in classrooms by any public school teacher and on other public property, when incorporated into an historical display along with other historic documents as described in KRS 158.195 which may also trace the influence of the Bible on America's Founding Fathers, Presidents, laws, and institutions of government. Each historic document displayed inside a public building or school shall be displayed in a sixteen (16) inch by twenty (20) inch frame, except that the frame containing this resolution and KRS 158.195 may be larger. The purpose of the display shall not be to advance religion, but to advance the important secular purpose of illustrating how the Bible and the Ten Commandments have influenced the faith, morals, and character of American leaders who, in turn, have shaped American law, public policy, and institutions. For that reason, the General Assembly expresses no preference as to which version of the Ten Commandments is displayed or whether the display is in English, Hebrew, or a foreign language being taught in the classroom. To advance the secular purpose of making citizens of the Commonwealth more knowledgeable concerning the founding of America, the intent of the nation's Founders, and the formative influence of the Bible and the Ten Commandments on American leaders, institutions, and law, a copy of this resolution shall be made a prominent part of any historic display on public property which includes any depiction of the Ten Commandments.

Section 3. The General Assembly directs the Kentucky Department of Education, in consultation with the Legislative Research Commission through its director, to institute a "Read to Lead" program, the goals of which shall be to familiarize students with writings and speeches of America's Founders, Framers, and Presidents which show how important the Bible, the Ten Commandments, religious faith, and strong moral character were to those American leaders. The Kentucky Department of Education shall make these historic documents and materials easily accessible to public school teachers on its web site.

Section 4. No fiscal court, city council, school board, or site-based council shall post any historical display set forth in KRS 158.195 which incorporates a depiction of the Ten Commandments until that governing body first sets forth by resolution or policy its secular purpose for erecting the display. This purpose shall not advance religion.

Section 5. Each historic display which incorporates a depiction of the Ten Commandments shall be accompanied by clearly legible copies of this resolution and of KRS 158.195; and the cost of posting and maintaining the displays shall be paid for by voluntary private contributions.

Section 6. The Legislative Research Commission shall remit a sufficient number of copies of this resolution to the Department for Local Government for distribution by the department, in the manner it deems most efficient, to all elected officials of each city and county of the Commonwealth.

Section 7. The Legislative Research Commission shall remit a sufficient number of copies of this resolution to the Secretary of State for distribution by the Secretary of State, in the manner he deems most efficient, to the statewide elected officials of the Commonwealth.

Section 8. The eighty-six (86) inch by forty-two (42) inch monument, with its base, which is inscribed with the Ten Commandments and which was displayed on the Capitol grounds for decades shall be relocated to a site on the Capitol grounds near Kentucky's floral clock and shall be made a part of an historic display which shall include the display of this Resolution.

Veto Message

Announcing veto of HB 70.

The veto message on HB 70 is as follows:

I, Paul E. Patton, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, pursuant to the authority granted under Section 88 of the Kentucky State Constitution, do hereby veto House Bill 70 as passed by the 2000 Regular Session of the Kentucky General Assembly. I exercise this authority for the following reason:

House Bill 70 seeks to amend KRS 344.130 to exempt religious organizations and their activities and facilities from the provisions of the Kentucky Civil Rights Act that prohibit discrimination by places of public accommodation. This Bill would permit these organizations to operate public accommodations, as defined by the Civil Rights Act, while refusing service based on the religion of the person seeking use of the organization's facility.

In 1966, the Kentucky General Assembly took an important step to improve human relations in the Commonwealth by enacting public accommodation laws in order to remedy past and present injustices. These laws do not require a religious organization to open its facilities to the general public but they do require that if a religious organization opens its facilities and activities to the general public, they must obey the same laws that non-religious entities are required to obey. House Bill 70 compromises this important purpose and violates both the spirit and meaning of the Kentucky Civil Rights Act by permitting discrimination on the basis of religion, the free exercise and non-establishment of which were among the fundamental principals in the founding of our state and country.

Done this Eighth day of March, 2000 in Frankfort, Kentucky at 2:05 p.m.

HB 366, AN ACT relating to crimes and punishments.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 189A.010 is amended to read as follows:

(1) A person shall not operate or be in physical control of a motor vehicle anywhere in this state:

(a) While the alcohol concentration in his blood or breath is 0.08~~[0.10]~~ or more based on the definition of alcohol concentration in KRS 189A.005;

(b) While under the influence of alcohol;

(c) While under the influence of any other substance or combination of substances which impairs one's driving ability;

(d) While under the combined influence of alcohol and any other substance which impairs one's driving ability; or

(e) While the alcohol concentration in his blood or breath is 0.02 or more based on the definition of alcohol concentration in KRS 189A.005 if the person is under the age of twenty-one (21).

(2) In any prosecution for a violation of subsection (1)(b) or (d) of this section in which the defendant is charged with having operated or been in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, the alcohol concentration in the defendant's blood as determined at the time of making analysis of his blood or breath shall give rise to the following presumptions:

(a) If there was an alcohol concentration of less than 0.05 based upon the definition of alcohol concentration in KRS 189A.005, it shall be presumed that the defendant was not under the influence of alcohol; and

(b) If there was an alcohol concentration of 0.05 or greater but less than 0.08~~[0.10]~~ based upon the definition of alcohol concentration in KRS 189A.005, that fact shall not constitute a presumption that the defendant either was or was not under the influence of alcohol, but that fact may be considered, together with other competent evidence, in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the questions of whether the defendant was under the influence of alcohol or other substances, in any prosecution for a violation of subsection (1)(b) or (d) of this section.

(3) The fact that any person charged with violation of subsection (1) of this section is legally entitled to use any substance, including alcohol, shall not constitute a defense against any charge of violation of subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Any person who violates the provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (d) of subsection (1) of this section shall:

(a) For the first offense within a five (5) year period, be fined not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) or be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than forty-eight (48) hours nor more than thirty (30) days or both. If the person has a blood or breath alcohol concentration of 0.18 or higher, he or she shall be sentenced to at least seven (7) days' imprisonment, but the court may probate five (5) of those days. Following sentencing, the defendant may apply to the judge for permission to enter a community labor program for not less than forty-eight (48) hours nor more than thirty (30) days in lieu of fine or imprisonment, or both.

(b) For the second offense within a five (5) year period, be fined not less than three hundred fifty dollars ($350) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) and shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than seven (7) days nor more than six (6) months and, in addition to fine and imprisonment, may be sentenced to community labor for not less than ten (10) days nor more than six (6) months.

(c) If the alcohol concentration is below 0.18, for a third offense within a five (5) year period, be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than one thousand ($1,000) and shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than thirty (30) days nor more than twelve (12) months and may, in addition to fine and imprisonment, be sentenced to community labor for not less than ten (10) days nor more than twelve (12) months. If the alcohol concentration is 0.18 or above, he or she shall be guilty of a Class D felony.

(d) For a fourth or subsequent offense within a five (5) year period, be guilty of a Class D felony.

(e) For purposes of this subsection, prior offenses shall include all convictions in this state, and any other state, or jurisdiction for operating or being in control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or other substances that impair one's driving ability, or any combination of alcohol and such substances, or while having an unlawful alcohol concentration, or driving while intoxicated, but shall not include convictions for violating subsection (1)(e) of this section. A court shall receive as proof of a prior conviction a copy of that conviction, certified by the court ordering the conviction.

(5) Any person who violates the provisions of subsection (1)(e) of this section shall have his driving privilege or operator's license suspended by the court for a period of no less than thirty (30) days but no longer than six (6) months, and the person shall be fined no less than one hundred dollars ($100) and no more than five hundred dollars ($500), or sentenced to twenty (20) hours of community service in lieu of a fine. A person subject to the penalties of this paragraph shall not be subject to the penalties established in subsection (4) of this section or any other penalty established pursuant to KRS Chapter 189A.

(6) If the person is under the age of twenty-one (21) and there was an alcohol concentration of 0.08[~~0.10~~] or greater based on the definition of alcohol concentration in KRS 189A.005, the person shall be subject to the penalties established pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(7) For a second or third offense within a five (5) year period, the minimum sentence of imprisonment or community labor shall not be suspended, probated, or subject to conditional discharge or other form of early release. For a fourth or subsequent offense under this section, the minimum term of imprisonment shall be one hundred twenty (120) days, and this term shall not be suspended, probated, or subject to conditional discharge or other form of early release. For a second or subsequent offense, at least forty-eight (48) hours of the mandatory sentence shall be served consecutively.

(8) When sentencing persons under subsection (4)(a) of this section at least one (1) of the penalties shall be assessed and that penalty shall not be suspended, probated, or subject to conditional discharge or other form of early release.

(9) In determining the five (5) year period under this section, the period shall be measured from the dates on which the offenses occurred for which the judgments of conviction were entered.

(10) Any person who violates the provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall be assessed twenty dollars ($20) in addition to the fines imposed by subsections (4) and (5) of this section. Funds collected pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the traumatic brain injury trust fund, created pursuant to KRS 211.476, within fourteen (14) days after the end of each quarter, to be used for the purposes set forth in KRS 211.470 to 211.478.

Section 2. KRS 189A.105 is amended to read as follows:

(1) No person shall be compelled to submit to any test or tests specified in KRS 189A.103, but his refusal to submit to such tests shall result in revocation of his driving privilege as provided in this chapter.

(2) (a) At the time a breath, blood, or urine test is requested, the person shall be informed:

1. That, if the person refuses to submit to such tests, the person's privilege to drive shall be revoked for a period of six (6) months, or more, pursuant to this chapter; and

2. That, if a test is taken and the results indicate that the person has an alcohol concentration of 0.08[~~0.10~~] or greater, or, if the person is under the influence of alcohol or a substance that impairs one's driving ability or a combination of alcohol and such substance, the person shall be subject to criminal penalties and the person's driving license shall be revoked for a period of at least ninety (90) days; and

3. That the person has the right to have a test or tests of his blood performed by a person of his choosing described in KRS 189A.103 within a reasonable time of his arrest at the expense of the person arrested.

(b) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prohibit a judge of a court of competent jurisdiction from issuing a search warrant or other court order requiring a blood or urine test, or a combination thereof, of a defendant charged with a violation of KRS 189A.010, or other statutory violation arising from the incident, when a person is killed or suffers physical injury, as defined in KRS 500.080, as a result of the incident in which the defendant has been charged.

Section 3. KRS 189A.120 is amended to read as follows:

(1) When an alcohol concentration for a person twenty-one (21) years of age or older in a prosecution for violation of KRS 189A.010 is 0.08[~~0.10~~] or above, is 0.02 or above for a person under the age of twenty-one (21), or when the defendant, regardless of age, has refused to take an alcohol concentration or substance test, a prosecuting attorney shall not agree to the amendment of the charge to a lesser offense and shall oppose the amendment of the charge at trial, unless all prosecution witnesses are, and it is expected they will continue to be, unavailable for trial.

(2) A prosecuting attorney shall not amend a blood alcohol concentration, and he shall oppose the amendment of the percentage, unless uncontroverted scientific evidence is presented that the test results were in error. In the cases the prosecutor shall state his reasons for agreeing with the amendment, and the scientific data upon which the amendment was made shall be made a part of the record in this case.

(3) The record of charges and disposition thereof, including reasons for amending the charges, shall be transmitted by the court to the Justice Cabinet for inclusion in the centralized criminal history record information system under KRS 17.150.

Section 4. KRS 189.520 is amended to read as follows:

(1) No person under the influence of intoxicating beverages or any substance which may impair one's driving ability shall operate a vehicle that is not a motor vehicle anywhere in this state.

(2) No peace officer or State Police officer shall fail to enforce rigidly this section.

(3) In any criminal prosecution for a violation of subsection (1) of this section, wherein the defendant is charged with having operated a vehicle which is not a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, the alcohol concentration, as defined in KRS 189A.005, in the defendant's blood as determined at the time of making an analysis of his blood, urine, or breath, shall give rise to the following presumptions:

(a) If there was an alcohol concentration of less than 0.05, it shall be presumed that the defendant was not under the influence of alcohol;

(b) If there was an alcohol concentration of 0.05 or greater but less than 0.08[~~0.10~~], such fact shall not constitute a presumption that the defendant either was or was not under the influence of alcohol, but such fact may be considered, together with other competent evidence, in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant;

(c) If there was an alcohol concentration of 0.08[~~0.10~~] or more, it shall be presumed that the defendant was under the influence of alcohol.

(4) The provisions of subsection (3) of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question of whether the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

(3) The uniform citation shall be identified as a temporary permit in such a way so that a Kentucky driver traveling out of state may use the citation as a temporary Kentucky permit in other states.

(4) When no temporary permit is issued the person shall be given notice that he is prohibited by order of the court from operating a motor vehicle in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, or under any operator's license issued by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, that a court appearance will take place within twenty-one (21) days at which time the court will address issues of suspension or return of the person's operator's license and driving privileges, and that the person shall present proof of basic motor vehicle reparation insurance coverage to the court at that appearance.

SECTION 9. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 189A IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) Upon the conviction of a second or subsequent offense of Section 1 of this Act, a person shall have the license plate or plates on all of the motor vehicles owned by him or her, either solely or jointly, impounded by the court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with the following procedures:

(a) At the final sentencing hearing, the person who has been convicted of a second or subsequent offense of subsection (1)(a), (b), (c), or (d) of Section 1 of this Act, shall physically surrender any and all license plate or plates currently in force on any motor vehicle owned either individually or jointly by him or her to the court. The order of the court suspending the license plate or plates shall not exceed the time for the suspension of the motor vehicle operator's license of the second or subsequent offender as specified in KRS 189A.070.

(b) The clerk of the court shall retain any surrendered plate or plates and transmit all surrendered plate or plates to the Transportation Cabinet in the manner set forth by the Transportation Cabinet in administrative regulations promulgated by the Transportation Cabinet.

(2) At the final sentencing hearing, and upon application, the court may grant one (1) hardship exception to family members or other individuals affected by the surrender of any license plate or plates owned by the second or subsequent offender. A hardship exception may be granted by the court to the second or subsequent offender's family members or other affected individuals only if the family members or other affected individuals prove to the court's satisfaction that their inability to utilize one (1) of the surrendered vehicles would pose an undue hardship upon the family members or affected other individuals. Upon the court's granting of a hardship exception, the clerk shall return to the family members or other affected individuals the license plate or plates of the vehicle of the second or subsequent offender for their utilization. The second or subsequent offender shall not be permitted to utilize a vehicle for which the license plate has been suspended under any circumstances unless he or she receives permission from the court to utilize the vehicle or vehicles.

(3) If the license plate of a jointly owned vehicle is impounded, this vehicle may be sold to a joint owner of the vehicle who was not the violator. In this case, the license plate shall be returned to the new owner of the vehicle and the suspension and inoperability of the license plate removed.

(4) If the license plate of a jointly owned motor vehicle is impounded, the vehicle may be sold to a bona fide third party purchaser who is not acting on behalf of the violator. In this case, the license plate shall be returned to the new owner of the vehicle and the suspension and inoperability of the license plate removed.

Section 10. This Act shall become effective October 1, 2000.

The Committee Substitute No. 1 to HB 366 is as follows:

HB 366, AN ACT relating to crimes and punishments.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 189A.005 is amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) "Alcohol concentration" means either grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath;

(2) "Refusal" means declining to submit to any test or tests pursuant to KRS 189A.103. Declining may be either by word or by the act of refusal. If the breath testing instrument for any reason shows an insufficient breath sample and the alcohol concentration cannot be measured by the breath testing instrument, the law enforcement officer shall then request the defendant to take a blood or urine test in lieu of the breath test. If the defendant then declines either by word or by the act of refusal, he shall then be deemed to have refused if the refusal occurs at the site at which any alcohol concentration or substance test is to be administered;~~[and]~~

(3) When age is a factor, it shall mean age at the time of the commission of the offense;

(4) Unless otherwise provided, license suspensions under this chapter shall be imposed by the court. The court shall impose the applicable period of license suspension enumerated by this chapter and shall include in its order or judgment the length and terms of any suspension imposed. The license suspension shall be deemed effective on the date of entry of the court's order or judgment. The role of the Transportation Cabinet shall be limited to administering the suspension period under the terms and for the duration enumerated by the court in its order or judgment;

(5) "Limited access highway" has the same meaning as it does in KRS 177.220;

(6) "License" means any driver's or operator's license or any other license or permit to operate a motor vehicle issued under or granted by the laws of this state including:

(a) Any temporary license or instruction permit;

(b) The privilege of any person to obtain a valid license or instruction permit, or to drive a motor vehicle whether or not the person holds a valid license; and

(c) Any nonresident's operating privilege as defined in KRS Chapters 186 or 189.

Section 2. KRS 189A.010 is amended to read as follows:

(1) A person shall not operate or be in physical control of a motor vehicle anywhere in this state:

(b) If there was an alcohol concentration of 0.05 or greater but less than 0.08~~[0.10]~~ based upon the definition of alcohol concentration in KRS 189A.005, that fact shall not constitute a presumption that the defendant either was or was not under the influence of alcohol, but that fact may be considered, together with other competent evidence, in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the questions of whether the defendant was under the influence of alcohol or other substances, in any prosecution for a violation of subsection (1)(b) or (d) of this section.

(6) Only a physician, registered nurse, phlebotomist, medical technician, or medical technologist not otherwise prohibited by law can withdraw any blood of any person submitting to a test under this section.

(7) After the person has submitted to all alcohol concentration tests and substance tests requested by the officer the person tested shall be permitted to have a person listed in subsection (6) of this section of his own choosing administer a test or tests in addition to any tests administered at the direction of the peace officer. The second or subsequent offender shall not be permitted to utilize a vehicle for which the license plate has been suspended or for which a hardship exception has been granted under any circumstances.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 342.0011 is amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Injury" means any work-related traumatic event or series of traumatic events, including cumulative trauma, arising out of and in the course of employment which is the proximate cause producing a harmful change in the human organism evidenced by objective medical findings. "Injury" does not include~~[the effects of the natural aging process, and does not include]~~ any communicable disease unless the risk of contracting the disease is increased by the nature of the employment. "Injury" when used generally, unless the context indicates otherwise, shall include an occupational disease and damage to a prosthetic appliance, but shall not include a psychological, psychiatric, or stress-related change in the human organism, unless it is a direct result of a physical injury. Changes that are characteristic of the normal process of becoming older are not an "injury" unless the work or a work-related traumatic event accelerates the normal aging process.

(2) "Occupational disease" means a disease arising out of and in the course of the employment.

(3) An occupational disease as defined in this chapter shall be deemed to arise out of the employment if there is apparent to the rational mind, upon consideration of all the circumstances, a causal connection between the conditions under which the work is performed and the occupational disease, and which can be seen to have followed as a natural incident to the work as a result of the exposure occasioned by the nature of the employment and which can be fairly traced to the employment as the proximate cause. The occupational disease shall be incidental to the character of the business and not independent of the relationship of employer and employee. An occupational disease need not have been foreseen or expected but, after its contraction, it must appear to be related to a risk connected with the employment and to have flowed from that source as a rational consequence.

(4) "Injurious exposure" shall mean that exposure to occupational hazard which would, independently of any other cause whatsoever, produce or cause the disease for which the claim is made.

(5) "Death" means death resulting from an injury or occupational disease.

(6) "Carrier" means any insurer, or legal representative thereof, authorized to insure the liability of employers under this chapter and includes a self-insurer.

(7) "Self-insurer" is an employer who has been authorized under the provisions of this chapter to carry his own liability on his employees covered by this chapter.

(8) "Department" means the Department of Workers' Claims in the Labor Cabinet.

(9) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of the Department of Workers' Claims.

(10) "Board" means the Workers' Compensation Board.

(11) (a) "Temporary total disability" means the condition of an employee who has not reached maximum medical improvement from an injury and has not reached a level of improvement that would permit a return to employment;

(b) "Permanent partial disability" means the condition of an employee who, due to an injury, has a permanent disability rating but retains the ability to work; and

(c) "Permanent total disability" means the condition of an employee who, due to an injury, has a permanent disability rating and has a complete and permanent inability to perform any type of work as a result of an injury, except that total disability shall be irrebuttably presumed to exist for an injury that results in:

1. Total and permanent loss of sight in both eyes;
2. Loss of both feet at or above the ankle;
3. Loss of both hands at or above the wrist;
4. Loss of one (1) foot at or above the ankle and the loss of one (1) hand at or above the wrist;
5. Permanent and complete paralysis of both arms, both legs, or one (1) arm and one (1) leg;
6. Incurable insanity or imbecility; or
7. Total loss of hearing.

(12) "Income benefits" means payments made under the provisions of this chapter to the disabled worker or his dependents in case of death, excluding medical and related benefits.

(13) "Medical and related benefits" means payments made for medical, hospital, burial, and other services as provided in this chapter, other than income benefits.

(14) "Compensation" means all payments made under the provisions of this chapter representing the sum of income benefits and medical and related benefits.

(15) "Medical services" means medical, surgical, dental, hospital, nursing, and medical rehabilitation services, medicines, and fittings for artificial or prosthetic devices.

(16) "Person" means any individual, partnership, including a registered limited liability partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company, firm, association, trust, joint venture, corporation, limited liability company, or legal representative thereof.

(17) "Wages" means, in addition to money payments for services rendered, the reasonable value of board, rent, housing, lodging, fuel, or similar advantages received from the employer, and gratuities received in the course of employment from persons other than the employer as evidenced by the employee's federal and state tax returns.

(18) "Agriculture" means the operation of farm premises, including the planting, cultivation, producing, growing, harvesting, and preparation for market of agricultural or horticultural commodities thereon, the raising of livestock for food products and for racing purposes, and poultry thereon, and any work performed as an incident to or in conjunction with the farm operations. It shall not include the commercial processing, packing, drying, storing, or canning of such commodities for market, or making cheese or butter or other dairy products for market.

(19) "Beneficiary" means any person who is entitled to income benefits or medical and related benefits under this chapter.

(20) "United States," when used in a geographic sense, means the several states, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, and the territories of the United States.

(21) "Alien" means a person who is not a citizen, a national, or a resident of the United States or Canada. Any person not a citizen or national of the United States who relinquishes or is about to relinquish his residence in the United States shall be regarded as an alien.

(22) "Insurance carrier" means every insurance carrier or insurance company authorized to do business in the Commonwealth writing workers' compensation insurance coverage and includes the Kentucky Employers Mutual Insurance Authority and every group of self-insurers operating under the provisions of this chapter.

(23) (a) "Severance or processing of coal" means all activities performed in the Commonwealth at underground, auger, and surface mining sites; all activities performed at tipple or processing plants that clean, break, size, or treat coal; and all activities performed at coal loading facilities for trucks, railroads, and barges. Severance or processing of coal shall not include acts performed by a final consumer if the acts are performed at the site of final consumption.

(b) "Engaged in severance or processing of coal" shall include all individuals, partnerships, including registered limited liability partnerships, limited partnerships, limited liability companies, corporations, joint ventures, associations, or any other business entity in the Commonwealth which has employees on its payroll who perform any of the acts stated in paragraph (a) of this subsection, regardless of whether the acts are performed as owner of the coal or on a contract or fee basis for the actual owner of the coal. A business entity engaged in the severance or processing of coal, including, but not limited to, administrative or selling functions, shall be considered wholly engaged in the severance or processing of coal for the purpose of this chapter. However, a business entity which is engaged in a separate business activity not related to coal, for which a separate premium charge is not made, shall be deemed to be engaged in the severance or processing of coal only to the extent that the number of employees engaged in the severance or processing of coal bears to the total number of employees. Any employee who is involved in the business of severing or processing of coal and business activities not related to coal shall be prorated based on the time involved in severance or processing of coal bears to his total time.

(24) "Premium" for every group of self-insurers means any and all assessments levied on its members by such group or contributed to it by the members thereof. For special fund assessment purposes, "premium" also includes any and all membership dues, fees, or other payments by members of the group to associations or other entities used for underwriting, claims handling, loss control, premium audit, actuarial, or other services associated with the maintenance or operation of the self-insurance group.

(25) (a) "Premiums received" for policies effective on or after January 1, 1994, for insurance companies means direct written premiums as reported in the annual statement to the Kentucky Department of Insurance by insurance companies, except that "premiums received" includes premiums charged off or deferred, and, on insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles, the calculated cost for coverage, including experience modification and premium surcharge or discount, prior to any reduction for deductibles. The rates, factors, and methods used to calculate the cost for coverage under this paragraph for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles shall be the same rates, factors, and methods normally used by the insurance company in Kentucky to calculate the cost for coverage for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage without provisions for deductibles, except that, for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles effective on or after January 1, 1995, the calculated cost for coverage shall not include any schedule rating modification, debits, or credits. The cost for coverage calculated under this paragraph by insurance companies that issue only deductible insurance policies in Kentucky shall be actuarially adequate to cover the entire liability of the employer for compensation under this chapter, including all expenses and allowances normally used to calculate the cost for coverage. For policies with provisions for deductibles with effective dates of May 6, 1993, through December 31, 1993, for which the insurance company did not report premiums and remit special fund assessments based on the calculated cost for coverage prior to the reduction for deductibles, "premiums received" includes the initial premium plus any reimbursements invoiced for losses, expenses, and fees charged under the deductibles. The special fund assessment rates in effect for reimbursements invoiced for losses, expenses, or fees charged under the deductibles shall be those percentages in effect on the effective date of the insurance policy. For policies covering leased employees as defined in KRS 342.615, "premiums received" means premiums calculated using the experience modification factor of each lessee as defined in KRS 342.615 for each leased employee for that portion of the payroll pertaining to the leased employee.

(b) "Direct written premium" for insurance companies means the gross premium written less return premiums and premiums on policies not taken but including policy and membership fees.

(c) "Premium," for policies effective on or after January 1, 1994, for insurance companies means all consideration, whether designated as premium or otherwise, for workers' compensation insurance paid to an insurance company or its representative, including, on insurance policies with provisions for deductibles, the calculated cost for coverage, including experience modification and premium surcharge or discount, prior to any reduction for deductibles. The rates, factors, and methods used to calculate the cost for coverage under this paragraph for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles shall be the same rates, factors, and methods normally used by the insurance company in Kentucky to calculate the cost for coverage for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage without provisions for deductibles, except that, for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles effective on or after January 1, 1995, the calculated cost for coverage shall not include any schedule rating modifications, debits, or credits. The cost for coverage calculated under this paragraph by insurance companies that issue only deductible insurance policies in Kentucky shall be actuarially adequate to cover the entire liability of the employer for compensation under this chapter, including all expenses and allowances normally used to calculate the cost for coverage. For policies with provisions for deductibles with effective dates of May 6, 1993, through December 31, 1993, for which the insurance company did not report premiums and remit special fund assessments based on the calculated cost for coverage prior to the reduction for deductibles, "premium" includes the initial consideration plus any reimbursements invoiced for losses, expenses, or fees charged under the deductibles.

(d) "Return premiums" for insurance companies means amounts returned to insureds due to endorsements, retrospective adjustments, cancellations, dividends, or errors.

(26) "Insurance policy" for an insurance company or group self-insurer means the term of insurance coverage commencing from the date coverage is extended, whether a new policy or a renewal, through its expiration, not to exceed the anniversary date of the renewal for the following year.

(27) "Self-insurance year" for a group self-insurer means the annual period of certification of the group created pursuant to KRS 342.350(4).

(28) "Premium" for each employer carrying his own risk pursuant to KRS 342.340(1) shall be the projected value of the employer's workers' compensation claims for the next calendar year as calculated by the commissioner using generally-accepted actuarial methods as follows:

(a) The base period shall be the earliest three (3) calendar years of the five (5) calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which the calculation is made. The commissioner shall identify each claim of the employer which has an injury date or date of last injurious exposure to the cause of an occupational disease during each one (1) of the three (3) calendar years to be used as the base, and shall assign a value to each claim. The value shall be the total of the indemnity benefits paid to date and projected to be paid, adjusted to current benefit levels, plus the medical benefits paid to date and projected to be paid for the life of the claim, plus the cost of medical and vocational rehabilitation paid to date and projected to be paid. Adjustment to current benefit levels shall be done by multiplying the weekly indemnity benefit for each claim by the number obtained by dividing the statewide average weekly wage which will be in effect for the year for which the premium is being calculated by the statewide average weekly wage in effect during the year in which the injury or date of the last exposure occurred. The total value of the claims using the adjusted weekly benefit shall then be calculated by the commissioner. Values for claims in which awards have been made or settlements reached because of findings of permanent partial or permanent total disability shall be calculated using the mortality and interest discount assumptions used in the latest available statistical plan of the advisory rating organization defined in Subtitle 13 of KRS Chapter 304. The sum of all calculated values shall be computed for all claims in the base period.

(b) The commissioner shall obtain the annual payroll for each of the three (3) years in the base period for each employer carrying his own risk from records of the department and from the records of the Department for Employment Services, Cabinet for Workforce Development. The commissioner shall multiply each of the three (3) years of payroll by the number obtained by dividing the statewide average weekly wage which will be in effect for the year in which the premium is being calculated by the statewide average weekly wage in effect in each of the years of the base period.

(c) The commissioner shall divide the total of the adjusted claim values for the three (3) year base period by the total adjusted payroll for the same three (3) year period. The value so calculated shall be multiplied by 1.25 and shall then be multiplied by the employer's most recent annualized payroll, calculated using records of the department and the Department for Employment Services data which shall be made available for this purpose on a quarterly basis as reported, to obtain the premium for the next calendar year for assessment purposes under KRS 342.122.

(d) For November 1, 1987, through December 31, 1988, premium for each employer carrying his own risk shall be an amount calculated by the board pursuant to the provisions contained in this subsection and such premium shall be provided to each employer carrying his own risk and to the funding commission on or before January 1, 1988. Thereafter, the calculations set forth in this subsection shall be performed annually, at the time each employer applies or renews his application for certification to carry his own risk for the next twelve (12) month period and submits payroll and other data in support of the application. The employer and the funding commission shall be notified at the time of the certification or recertification of the premium calculated by the commissioner, which shall form the employer's basis for assessments pursuant to KRS 342.122 for the calendar year beginning on January 1 following the date of certification or recertification.

(e) If an employer having fewer than five (5) years of doing business in this state applies to carry his own risk and is so certified, his premium for the purposes of KRS 342.122 shall be based on the lesser number of years of experience as may be available including the two (2) most recent years if necessary to create a three (3) year base period. If the employer has less than two (2) years of operation in this state available for the premium calculation, then his premium shall be the greater of the value obtained by the calculation called for in this subsection or the amount of security required by the commissioner pursuant to KRS 342.340(1).

(f) If an employer is certified to carry his own risk after having previously insured the risk, his premium shall be calculated using values obtained from claims incurred while insured for as many of the years of the base period as may be necessary to create a full three (3) year base. After the employer is certified to carry his own risk and has paid all amounts due for assessments upon premiums paid while insured, he shall be assessed only upon the premium calculated under this subsection.

(g) "Premium" for each employer defined in KRS 342.630(2) shall be calculated as set forth in this subsection.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, the premium of any employer authorized to carry its own risk for purposes of assessments due under this chapter shall be no less than thirty cents ($0.30) per one hundred dollars ($100) of the employer's most recent annualized payroll for employees covered by this chapter.

(29) "SIC code" as used in this chapter means the Standard Industrial Classification Code contained in the latest edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the Federal Office of Management and Budget.

(30) "Investment interest" means any pecuniary or beneficial interest in a provider of medical services or treatment under this chapter, other than a provider in which that pecuniary or investment interest is obtained on terms equally available to the public through trading on a registered national securities exchange, such as the New York Stock Exchange or the American Stock Exchange, or on the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System.

(31) "Managed health care system" means a health care system that employs gatekeeper providers, performs utilization review, and does medical bill audits.

(32) "Physician" means physicians and surgeons, psychologists, optometrists, dentists, podiatrists, and osteopathic and chiropractic practitioners acting within the scope of their license issued by the Commonwealth.

(33) "Objective medical findings" means information gained through direct observation and testing of the patient applying objective or standardized methods.

(34) "Work" means providing services to another in return for remuneration on a regular and sustained basis in a competitive economy.

(35) "Permanent impairment rating" means percentage of whole body impairment caused by the injury or occupational disease as determined by "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment," American Medical Association, latest available edition.

(36) "Permanent disability rating" means the permanent impairment rating selected by an arbitrator or administrative law judge times the factor set forth in the table that appears at KRS 342.730(1)(b).

(37) "Miner" means any individual who is or was employed in the severance or processing of coal at a coal mine or coal processing facility.

Section 2. KRS 342.035 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Periodically, the commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations to adopt a schedule of fees for the purpose of ensuring that all fees, charges, and reimbursements under KRS 342.020 and this section shall be fair, current, and reasonable and shall be limited to such charges as are fair, current, and reasonable for similar treatment of injured persons in the same community for like services, where treatment is paid for by general health insurers. In determining what fees are reasonable, the commissioner may also consider the increased security of payment afforded by this chapter. On or before November 1, 1994, and on July 1 every two (2) years thereafter, the schedule of fees contained in administrative regulations promulgated pursuant to this section shall be reviewed and updated, if appropriate. Within ten (10) days of April 4, 1994, the commissioner shall execute a contract with an appropriately-qualified consultant pursuant to which each of the following elements within the workers' compensation system are evaluated; the methods of health care delivery; quality assurance and utilization mechanisms; type, frequency, and intensity of services; risk management programs; and the schedule of fees contained in administrative regulation. The consultant shall present recommendations based on its review to the commissioner not later than sixty (60) days following execution of the contract. The commissioner shall consider these recommendations and, not later than thirty (30) days after their receipt, promulgate a regulation which shall be effective on an emergency basis, to effect a twenty-five percent (25%) reduction in the total medical costs within the program.

(2) No provider of medical services or treatment required by this chapter, its agent, servant, employee, assignee, employer, or independent contractor acting on behalf of any medical provider, shall knowingly collect, attempt to collect, coerce, or attempt to coerce, directly or indirectly, the payment of any charge, for services covered by a workers' compensation insurance plan for the treatment of a work-related injury or occupational disease, in excess of that provided by a schedule of fees, or cause the credit of any employee to be impaired by reason of the employee's failure or refusal to pay the excess charge. In addition to the penalty imposed in KRS 342.990 for violations of this subsection, any individual who sustains damages by any act in violation of the provisions of this subsection shall have a civil cause of action in Circuit Court to enjoin further violations and to recover the actual damages sustained by the individual, together with the costs of the lawsuit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

(3) Where these requirements are furnished by a public hospital or other institution, payment thereof shall be made to the proper authorities conducting it. No compensation shall be payable for the death or disability of an employee if his death is caused, or if and insofar as his disability is aggravated, caused, or continued, by an unreasonable failure to submit to or follow any competent surgical treatment or medical aid or advice.

(4) The commissioner shall, by December 1, 1994, promulgate administrative regulations to adopt a schedule of fees for the purpose of regulating charges by medical providers and other health care professionals for testimony presented and medical reports furnished in the litigation of a claim by an injured employee against the employer. The workers' compensation medical fee schedule for physicians, 803 KAR 25:089, having an effective date of February 9, 1995, shall remain in effect until July 1, 1996, or until the effective date of any amendments promulgated by the commissioner, whichever occurs first, it being determined that this administrative regulation is within the statutory grant of authority, meets legislative intent, and is not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter. The medical fee schedule and amendments shall be fair, current, and reasonable and otherwise comply with this section.

(5) (a) To ensure compliance with subsections (1) and (4) of this section, the commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations by December 31, 1994, which require each insurance carrier, group self-insurer, and self-insured employer to certify to the commissioner the program or plan it has adopted to ensure compliance.

(b) In addition, the commissioner shall periodically have an independent audit conducted by a qualified independent person, firm, company, or other entity hired by the commissioner, in accordance with the personal service contract provisions contained in KRS 45A.690 to 45A.725, to ensure that the requirements of subsection (1) of this section are being met. The independent person, firm, company, or other entity selected by the commissioner to conduct the audit shall protect the confidentiality of any information it receives during the audit, shall divulge information received during the audit only to the commissioner, and shall use the information for no other purpose than the audit required by this paragraph.

(c) The commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations governing medical provider utilization review activities conducted by an insurance carrier, group self-insurer, or self-insured employer pursuant to this chapter. The commissioner may contract with a third party to conduct utilization review appeals or reconsiderations. Employers or carriers shall pay the costs associated with utilization review appeals or reconsiderations under this paragraph.

(d) Periodically, or upon request, the commissioner shall report to the Interim Joint Committee on Labor and Industry of the Legislative Research Commission or to the corresponding standing committees of the General Assembly, as appropriate, the degree of compliance or lack of compliance with the provisions of this section and make recommendations thereon.

(e) Except as set forth in subsection (5)(c) of this section, the cost of implementing and carrying out the requirements of this subsection shall be paid from funds collected pursuant to KRS 342.122.

(6) The commissioner may promulgate administrative regulations incorporating managed care or other concepts intended to reduce costs or to speed the delivery or payment of medical services to employees receiving medical and related benefits under this chapter.

(7) For purposes of this chapter, any medical provider shall charge only its customary fee for photocopying requested documents. However, in no event shall a photocopying fee of a medical provider or photocopying service exceed fifty cents ($0.50) per page. In addition, there shall be no charge for reviewing any records of a medical provider, during regular business hours, by any party who is authorized to review the records and who requests a review pursuant to this chapter.

(8) (a) The commissioner shall develop or adopt practice parameters or guidelines for clinical practice for use by medical providers under this chapter. The commissioner may adopt any parameters for clinical practice as developed and updated by the federal Agency for Health Care Policy Research, or the commissioner may adopt other parameters for clinical practice which are developed by qualified bodies, as determined by the commissioner, with periodic updating based on data collected during the application of the parameters.

(b) Any provider of medical services under this chapter who has followed the practice parameters or guidelines developed or adopted pursuant to this subsection shall be presumed to have met the appropriate legal standard of care in medical malpractice cases regardless of any unanticipated complication that may thereafter develop or be discovered.

Section 3. KRS 342.125 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon motion by any party or upon an arbitrator's or administrative law judge's own motion, an arbitrator or administrative law judge may reopen and review any award or order on any of the following grounds:

(a) Fraud;

(b) Newly-discovered evidence which could not have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence;

(c) Mistake; and

(d) Change of disability as shown by objective medical evidence of worsening or improvement of impairment due to a condition caused by the injury since the date of the award or order.

(2) No claim which has been previously dismissed or denied on the merits shall be reopened except upon the grounds set forth in this section.

(3) Except for reopening solely for the determination of the compensability of medical expenses, fraud, or conforming the award as set forth in subsection (1)(c)1. of Section 12 of this Act[~~KRS 342.730(1)(c)2.~~], or for reducing a permanent total disability award when an employee returns to work, or seeking temporary total disability benefits during the period of an award, no claim shall be reopened more than six (6)[~~four (4)~~] years following the date of the original award or order granting or denying benefits[~~, or within two (2) years of such award or order~~], and no party may file a motion to reopen within one (1) year[~~two (2) years~~] of any previous motion to reopen by the same party.

(4) Reopening and review under this section shall be had upon notice to the parties and in the same manner as provided for an initial proceeding under this chapter. Upon reopening, the arbitrator or administrative law judge may end, diminish, or increase compensation previously awarded, within the maximum and minimum provided in this chapter, or change or revoke a previous order. The arbitrator or administrative law judge shall immediately send all parties a copy of the subsequent order or award. Reopening shall not affect the previous order or award as to any sums already paid thereunder, and any change in the amount of compensation shall be ordered only from the date of filing the motion to reopen. No employer shall suspend benefits during pendency of any reopening procedures except upon order of the arbitrator or administrative law judge.

(5) (a) Upon the application of the affected employee, and a showing of progression of his previously-diagnosed occupational pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust and development of respiratory impairment due to that pneumoconiosis and two (2) additional years of employment in the Commonwealth wherein the employee was continuously exposed to the hazards of the disease, the arbitrator or administrative law judge may review an award or order for benefits attributable to coal-related pneumoconiosis under KRS 342.732. An application for review under this subsection shall be made within one (1) year of the date the employee knew or reasonably should have known that a progression of his disease and development or progression of respiratory impairment have occurred. Review under this subsection shall include a review of all evidence admitted in all prior proceedings.

(b) Benefits awarded as a result of a review under this subsection shall be reduced by the amount of retraining incentive benefits or income benefits previously awarded under KRS 342.732. The amount to be deducted shall be subtracted from the total amount awarded, and the remaining amount shall be divided by the number of weeks, for which the award was made, to arrive at the weekly benefit amount which shall be apportioned in accordance with the provisions of KRS 342.316.

(6) In a reopening or review proceeding where there has been additional permanent partial disability awarded, the increase shall not extend the original period, unless the combined prior disability and increased disability exceeds fifty percent (50%), but less than one hundred percent (100%), in which event the awarded period shall not exceed five hundred twenty (520) weeks, from commencement date of the original disability previously awarded. The law in effect on the date of the original injury controls the rights of the parties.

(7) Where an agreement has become an award by approval of the arbitrator or administrative law judge, and a reopening and review of that award is initiated, no statement contained in the agreement, whether as to jurisdiction, liability of the employer, nature and extent of disability, or as to any other matter, shall be considered by the arbitrator or the administrative law judge as an admission against the interests of any party. The parties may raise any issue upon reopening and review of this type of award which could have been considered upon an original application for benefits.

(8) The time limitation prescribed in this section is remedial and shall apply to all claims irrespective of when they were incurred, or when the award was entered, or the settlement approved, except that subsection (3) of this section shall not be interpreted or construed to permit reopening of a claim on which the reopening period had expired on or before the effective date of this Act.[~~However, claims decided prior to December 12, 1996, may be reopened within four (4) years of the award or order or within four (4) years of December 12, 1996, whichever is later, provided that the exceptions to reopening established in subsections (1) and (3) of this section shall apply to these claims as well.~~]

Section 4. KRS 342.215 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The Workers' Compensation Board is hereby created and established. The board shall rule on appeals of decisions rendered by administrative law judges under this chapter. The board shall rule on an appeal of a decision of an administrative law judge no later than sixty (60) days following the date on which the last appeal brief was filed.

(2) The Workers' Compensation Board shall consist of three (3) members appointed by the Governor. Each member shall hold no other public office and shall devote his full time to the duties of his office.

(3) Of the members of the board appointed under this section, one (1) shall serve a term which shall expire on January 4, 2002; one (1) shall serve a term which shall expire on January 4, 2003; and one (1) shall serve a term which shall expire on January 4, 2004, as designated by the Governor at the time of appointment. Thereafter, each term of a board member shall run for four (4) years from the date of expiration of the term for which the member's predecessor was appointed, except that a person appointed to fill a vacancy prior to the expiration of a term shall be appointed for the remainder of the term. The Governor shall not appoint a member of the board to fill the unexpired term of another board member, nor shall the Governor reappoint a member of the board who has been removed from his position prior to the expiration of his term. The members of the board shall have the qualifications required of appeals court judges, except for residence in a district, and shall receive the same salary and shall be subject to the same standards of conduct. The Governor shall designate a member of the board to serve as chairman. Any vacancy in the chairmanship shall be filled by the Governor. The Governor may at any time remove any member for cause after furnishing him with a written copy of the charges against him and giving him a public hearing if he requests it.

(4) A decision concurred in by any two (2) of the three (3) members shall constitute a decision of the board.

(5) Members of the Workers' Compensation Board, arbitrators, and the administrative law judges shall be members of the Kentucky Employees Retirement System.

[~~(6) The Workers' Compensation Board is abolished effective on July 1, 2000, and as of midnight, June 30, 2000, the terms of all Workers' Compensation Board members shall end. Thereafter, appeals from the final orders of administrative law judges shall be directed to the Court of Appeals under the same standards set forth in this chapter for appeals to the Workers' Compensation Board.~~]

Section 5. KRS 342.265 is amended to read as follows:

(1) If the employee and employer and special fund or any of them reach an agreement conforming to the provisions of this chapter in regard to compensation, a memorandum of the agreement signed by the parties or their representatives shall be filed with the commissioner, and, if approved by an arbitrator or administrative law judge, shall be enforceable pursuant to KRS 342.305. Where all parties have not joined in the settlement agreement, it shall not be approved unless it is certified that the party not participating in the settlement has been served with a copy of the agreement not less than ten (10) days prior to submission of the agreement for approval. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the voluntary payment of compensation for the periods and in the amounts prescribed by this chapter, but nothing shall operate as a final settlement except a memorandum of agreement filed with the commissioner and approved by the arbitrator or administrative law judge. Upon claims settled after December 12, 1996, the special fund shall have the option of settling its liability for income benefits on the same terms as those reached between the employee and employer. Notice of the special fund exercise of the option granted in this subsection shall be made by letter of the director of the special fund mailed to the parties within ten (10) days of receipt by the director of a copy of the agreement.

(2) Settlement agreements concluded after the effective date of this Act[~~March 31, 1997~~], providing for commuted lump-sum payment of future income benefits which would otherwise be payable in amounts greater than one hundred[~~ten~~] dollars ($100)[~~($10)~~] per week shall not be approved unless there is reasonable assurance that the worker will have an adequate source of income during disability. This subsection is remedial and applies to all pending and future claims.

(3) Upon lump-sum settlement of future periodic payments, the discount rate used in the calculation of the settlement amount shall not exceed a reasonable amount fixed by the commissioner. For settlements approved after December 12, 1996, until December 31, 1997, the true discount rate shall be six percent (6%) compounded annually on each payment. Before January 1 of each year commencing in 2001[~~1998~~], the commissioner shall fix the discount rate to be utilized in the succeeding year based at one-half of one percent (0.5%) below[~~upon~~] the interest rate paid upon ten (10) year United States Treasury Notes as of August[~~July~~] 1 of the preceding year.

(4) If the parties have previously filed an agreement which has been approved by the administrative law judge or arbitrator, and compensation has been paid or is due in accordance therewith and the parties thereafter disagree, either party may invoke the provisions of KRS 342.125, which remedy shall be exclusive.

(5) An application for resolution of claim shall be held in abeyance during any period voluntary payments of income benefits are being made under any benefit sections of this chapter to the maximum which the employee's wages shall entitle unless it shall be shown that the prosecution of the employee's claim would be prejudiced by delay.

Section 6. KRS 342.267 is amended to read as follows:

(1) If an insurance carrier, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer providing workers' compensation coverage engages in claims settlement practices in violation of this chapter, or the provisions of KRS 304.12-230, the commissioner of the Department of Workers' Claims shall fine the insurance company, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) to five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each violation and if they have a pattern of violations, the commissioner may revoke the certificate of self-insurance or request the commissioner of insurance to revoke the certificate of authority of the insurance carrier.

(2) In addition to the penalties provided in subsection (1) of this section, if an employee demonstrates in any claim before an arbitrator or administrative law judge that the insurance carrier, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer engaged in conduct proscribed in subsection (1) of this section, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall impose penalties to be paid to the employee in the manner required in KRS 342.040, and an additional penalty equal to fifteen percent (15%) of past due income benefits, as well as impose costs under KRS 342.310.

(3) In addition to the penalties set forth in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, if an employee demonstrates that the carrier, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer delayed the delivery of necessary medical services or denied liability for necessary medical services without reasonable grounds, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall impose a penalty to be paid to the employee not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), as well as impose costs under KRS 342.310.

Section 7. KRS 342.270 is amended to read as follows:

(1) If the parties fail to reach an agreement in regard to compensation under this chapter, either party may make written application for resolution of claim. The application must be filed within two (2) years after the accident, or, in case of death, within two (2) years after the death, or within two (2) years after the cessation of voluntary payments, if any have been made. When the application is filed by the employee or during the pendency of that claim, he shall join all causes of action against the named employer which have accrued and which are known, or should reasonably be known, to him. Failure to join all accrued causes of action will result in such claims being barred under this chapter as waived by the employee.

(2) ~~[Except with respect to claims for benefits by reason of coal workers' pneumoconiosis,]~~The commissioner shall issue notice of the filing to all parties and shall promptly assign all applications for resolution of claims for workers who have returned to work~~[the claim]~~ to an arbitrator, and all claims for workers who have not returned to work to an administrative law judge~~[for benefit review]~~. The arbitrator or administrative law judge shall facilitate the exchange of information pertinent to the claim pursuant to administrative regulations promulgated by the commissioner. Within forty-five (45) days of the date of issuance of the notice required by this section, the employer or carrier shall file notice of claim denial or acceptance, setting forth specifically those material matters which are admitted, those which are denied, and the basis of any denial of the claim.

(3) (a) The arbitrator or administrative law judge shall conduct proceedings as necessary to the resolution of the claim and may order the parties to appear for a benefit review conference, or submit medical reports and other information, or refer the employee for medical evaluation.

(b) If an arbitrator determines in his discretion that a pending claim presents factual issues best resolved through hearing before an administrative law judge, the arbitrator may enter an order transferring the claim to an administrative law judge for further proceedings.

(4) Except where compelling circumstances justify delay and except as provided in subsection (3)(b) of this section, the arbitrator shall render a written determination upon all matters at issue within ninety (90) days of the assignment of the claim. Through written order, the arbitrator may grant or deny any benefit afforded by this chapter, including interlocutory relief.

(5) Unless timely appeal is filed as set forth in KRS 342.275, the written determination of the arbitrator shall be a final order enforceable under the provisions of KRS 342.305.

(6) Benefit review conferences shall be held at a place designated by the commissioner, provided that the proceedings shall be held within the boundaries of the Commonwealth.

(7) In claims assigned to an administrative law judge provided in subsections (2) and (3)(b) of this section, the benefit review conference shall be conducted in accordance with KRS 342.275~~[Within one hundred twenty (120) days of December 12, 1996, the commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations establishing procedures for the resolution of claims, which shall include benefit review. The administrative regulations promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this subsection shall be effective on an emergency basis and be applied to all pending claims]~~.

Section 8. KRS 342.316 is amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) The employer liable for compensation for occupational disease shall be the employer in whose employment the employee was last exposed to the hazard of the occupational disease. During any period in which this section is applicable to a coal mine, an operator who acquired it or substantially all of its assets from a person who was its operator on and after January 1, 1973, shall be liable for, and secure the payment of, the benefits which would have been payable by the prior operator under this section with respect to miners previously employed in the mine if it had not been acquired by such later operator. At the same time, however, this subsection does not relieve the prior operator of any liability under this section. Also, it does not affect whatever rights the later operator might have against the prior operator; and

(b) The time of the beginning of compensation payments shall be the date of the employee's last injurious exposure to the cause of the disease, or the date of actual disability, whichever is later.

(2) The procedure with respect to the giving of notice and determination of claims in occupational disease cases and the compensation and medical benefits payable for disability or death due to the disease shall be the same as in cases of accidental injury or death under the general provisions of this chapter, except that notice of claim shall be given to the employer as soon as practicable after the employee first experiences a distinct manifestation of an occupational disease in the form of symptoms reasonably sufficient to apprise him that he has contracted the disease, or a diagnosis of the disease is first communicated to him, whichever shall first occur.

(3) The procedure for filing occupational disease claims shall be as follows:

(a) The application for resolution of claim shall set forth the complete work history of the employee with a concise description of injurious exposure to a specific occupational disease, together with the name and addresses of the employer or employers with the approximate dates of employment. The application shall also include at least one (1) written medical report supporting his claim. This medical report shall be made on the basis of clinical or X-ray examination performed in accordance with accepted medical standards and shall contain full and complete statements of all examinations performed and the results thereof. The report shall be made by a duly-licensed physician. The commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations which prescribe the format of the medical report required by this section and the manner in which the report shall be completed.

  1. For coal-related occupational pneumoconiosis claims, each clinical examination shall include a chest X-ray examination as well as spirometric tests when pulmonary dysfunction is alleged.
  2. For other compensable occupational pneumoconiosis claims, each clinical examination shall include a chest X-ray examination and appropriate pulmonary function tests.

(b) To be admissible, medical evidence offered in any proceeding under this chapter for determining a claim for occupational pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust shall comply with accepted medical standards as follows:

  1. Chest X-rays shall be of acceptable quality with respect to exposure and development and shall be indelibly labeled with the date of the X-ray and the name and Social Security number of the claimant. Physicians' reports of X-ray interpretations shall: identify the claimant by name and Social Security number; include the date of the X-ray and the date of the report; classify the X-ray interpretation using the latest ILO Classification and be accompanied by a completed copy of the latest ILO Classification report.
  2. Spirometric testing shall be conducted in accordance with the standards recommended in the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association and the 1978 ATS epidemiology standardization project with the exception that the predicted normal values for lung function shall not be adjusted based upon the race of the subject. The FVC or the FEV1 values shall represent the largest of such values obtained from three (3) acceptable forced expiratory volume maneuvers as corrected to BTPS (body temperature, ambient pressure and saturated with water vapor at these conditions) and the variance between the two (2) largest acceptable FVC values shall be either less than five percent (5%) of the largest FVC value or less than one hundred (100) milliliters, whichever is greater. The variance between the two (2) largest acceptable FEV1 values shall be either less than five percent (5%) of the largest FEV1 value or less than one hundred (100) milliliters, whichever is greater. Reports of spirometric testing shall include a description by the physician of the procedures utilized in conducting such spirometric testing and a copy of the spirometric chart and tracings from which spirometric values submitted as evidence were taken.
  3. The commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations pursuant to KRS Chapter 13A as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section. The commissioner shall periodically review the applicability of the spirometric test values contained in the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association and may by administrative regulation substitute other spirometric test values which are found to be more closely representative of the normal pulmonary function of the coal mining population.
  4. The procedure for determination of occupational disease claims shall be as follows:
     a. Immediately upon receipt of an application for resolution of claim, the commissioner shall notify the responsible employer and all other interested parties and shall furnish them with a full and complete copy of the application.
     b. The commissioner shall assign the claim to an administrative law judge~~[arbitrator]~~ and shall promptly refer the employee to such physician or medical facility as the commissioner may select for examination. The report from this examination shall be provided to all parties of record. The employee shall not be referred by the commissioner for examination within two (2) years following any prior referral for examination for the same disease.
     c. Within forty-five (45) days following the notice of filing an application for resolution of claim, the employer or carrier shall notify the commissioner and all parties of record of its acceptance or denial of the claim. A denial shall be in writing and shall state the specific basis for the denial.
     d. The administrative law judge~~[arbitrator]~~ shall conduct such proceedings as are necessary to resolve the claim and shall have authority to grant or deny any relief, including interlocutory relief, to order additional proof, to conduct a benefit review conference, or to take such other action as may be appropriate to resolve the claim.
     e. Unless a voluntary settlement is reached by the parties, the administrative law judge shall render the award, order, or decision within sixty (60) days following the final hearing unless an extension is mutually agreed to by all parties. The award, order, or decision shall address all contested issues and shall be enforceable under KRS 342.305~~[arbitrator shall issue a written determination within ninety (90) days following assignment of the claim. The written determination shall address all contested issues and shall be enforceable under KRS 342.305]~~.

5. The procedure for appeal from a determination of an administrative law judge~~[arbitrator]~~ shall be as set forth in KRS 342.285~~[342.275]~~.

(4) (a) The right to compensation under this chapter resulting from an occupational disease shall be forever barred unless a claim is filed with the commissioner within three (3) years after the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard or after the employee first experiences a distinct manifestation of an occupational disease in the form of symptoms reasonably sufficient to apprise him that he has contracted the disease, whichever shall last occur; and if death results from the occupational disease within that period, unless a claim therefor be filed with the commissioner within three (3) years after the death; but that notice of claim shall be deemed waived in case of disability or death where the employer, or his insurance carrier, voluntarily makes payment therefor, or if the incurrence of the disease or the death of the employee and its cause was known to the employer. However, the right to compensation for any occupational disease shall be forever barred, unless a claim is filed with the commissioner within five (5) years from the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard, except that, in cases of radiation disease or asbestos-related disease, a claim must be filed within twenty (20) years from the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard.

(b) Income benefits for the disease of pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust or death therefrom shall not be payable unless the employee has been exposed to the hazards of such pneumoconiosis in the Commonwealth of Kentucky over a continuous period of not less than two (2) years during the ten (10) years immediately preceding the date of his last exposure to such hazard, or for any five (5) of the fifteen (15) years immediately preceding the date of such last exposure.

(5) The amount of compensation payable for disability due to occupational disease or for death from the disease, and the time and manner of its payment, shall be as provided for under the general provisions of the Workers' Compensation Act, but:

(a) In no event shall the payment exceed the amounts that were in effect at the time of the last injurious exposure;

(b) The time of the beginning of compensation payments shall be the date of the employee's last injurious exposure to the cause of the disease, or the date of actual disability, whichever is later; and

(c) In case of death where the employee has been awarded compensation or made timely claim within the period provided for in this section, and an employee has suffered continuous disability to the date of his death occurring at any time within twenty (20) years from the date of disability, his dependents, if any, shall be awarded compensation for his death as provided for under the general provisions of the Workers' Compensation Act and in this section, except as provided in KRS 342.750(6).

(6) If an autopsy has been performed, no testimony relative thereto shall be admitted unless the employer or his representative has available findings and reports of the pathologist or doctor who performed the autopsy examination.

(7) No compensation shall be payable for occupational disease if the employee at the time of entering the employment of the employer by whom compensation would otherwise be payable, falsely represented himself, in writing, as not having been previously disabled, laid off, or compensated in damages or otherwise, because of the occupational disease, or failed or omitted truthfully to state to the best of his knowledge, in answer to written inquiry made by the employer, the place, duration, and nature of previous employment, or, to the best of his knowledge, the previous state of his health.

(8) No compensation for death from occupational disease shall be payable to any person whose relationship to the deceased, which under the provisions of this chapter would give right to compensation, arose subsequent to the beginning of the first compensable disability, except only for after-born children of a marriage existing at the beginning of such disability.

(9) Whenever any claimant misconceives his remedy and files an application for adjustment of claim under the general provisions of this chapter and it is subsequently discovered, at any time before the final disposition of the cause, that the claim for injury, disability, or death which was the basis for his application should properly have been made under the provisions of this section, then the application so filed may be amended in form or substance, or both, to assert a claim for injury, disability, or death under the provisions of this section, and it shall be deemed to have been so filed as amended on the date of the original filing thereof, and compensation may be awarded that is warranted by the whole evidence pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. When amendment of this type is submitted, further or additional evidence may be heard when deemed necessary. Nothing this section contains shall be construed to be or permit a waiver of any of the provisions of this chapter with reference to notice of time for filing of a claim, but notice of filing a claim, if given or done, shall be deemed to be a notice of filing of a claim under provisions of this chapter, if given or done within the time required by this subsection.

(10) When an employee has an occupational disease that is covered by this chapter, the employer in whose employment he was last injuriously exposed to the hazard of the disease, and the employer's insurance carrier, if any, at the time of the exposure, shall alone be liable therefor, without right to contribution from any prior employer or insurance carrier, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(11) (a) Income benefits for coal-related occupational pneumoconiosis shall be paid fifty percent (50%) by the Kentucky coal workers' pneumoconiosis fund as established in KRS 342.1242 and fifty percent (50%) by the employer in whose employment the employee was last exposed to the hazard of that occupational disease.

(b) Compensation for all other occupational disease shall be paid by the employer in whose employment the employee was last exposed to the hazards of the occupational disease.

(12) A concluded claim for benefits by reason of contraction of coal workers' pneumoconiosis in the severance or processing of coal shall bar any subsequent claim for benefits by reason of contraction of coal workers' pneumoconiosis, unless there has occurred in the interim between the conclusion of the first claim and the filing of the second claim at least two (2) years of employment wherein the employee was continuously exposed to the hazards of the disease in the Commonwealth.

Section 9. KRS 342.320 is amended to read as follows:

(1) All fees of attorneys and physicians, and all charges of hospitals under this chapter, shall be subject to the approval of an administrative law judge or arbitrator pursuant to the statutes and administrative regulations.

(2) In an original claim, attorney's fees for services under this chapter on behalf of an employee shall be subject to the following maximum limits:

(a) Twenty percent (20%) of the first twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) of the award, fifteen percent (15%) of the next ten thousand dollars ($10,000), and five percent (5%) of the remainder of the award, not to exceed a maximum fee of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000)[~~two thousand dollars ($2,000) for services performed up to and including the date of a written determination by the arbitrator~~]. This fee shall be paid by the employee from the proceeds of the award or settlement.

(b)[~~ Upon an appeal by an employee from a written determination of an arbitrator or an award or order of an administrative law judge, a fee to be fixed by the administrative law judge upon consideration of the extent, quality, and complexity of services not to exceed twenty percent (20%) of the first twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) of any increased income benefits awarded, ten percent (10%) of the next fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) of increased income benefits, and five percent (5%) of the remainder of the additional income benefits awarded and not to exceed in all ten thousand dollars ($10,000). This fee shall be paid by the employee from the proceeds of the award or settlement and shall be in addition to the fee, if any, awarded under paragraph (a) of this subsection.~~

~~(c)~~] Upon an appeal by an employer or carrier from a written determination of an arbitrator or an award or order of an administrative law judge, if the employer or carrier does not prevail upon appeal, the administrative law judge shall assess[~~fix~~] an attorney's fee to be paid by the employer or carrier for the employee's attorney upon consideration of the extent, quality, and complexity of the services rendered not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) per level of appeal. This attorney's fee shall be in addition to any fee awarded under paragraph (a)[~~paragraphs (a) and (b)~~] of this subsection. However, for legal representation before an administrative law judge, the fee assessed under this paragraph shall be considered by the administrative law judge in fixing the amount of the fee to be paid under paragraph (a) of this subsection.

(c)[~~(d)~~]Attorney-client employment contracts entered into and signed after the effective date of this Act[~~prior to December 12, 1996, for injuries or date of last exposure occurring prior to December 12, 1996~~], shall[~~ not~~] be subject to the conditions of paragraphs (a) and[~~,~~] (b)[~~, and (c)~~] of this subsection[~~, and the law existing at the date of the injury or last exposure to the hazards of an occupational disease shall apply~~].

(3) In approving an allowance of attorney's fees, the administrative law judge or arbitrator shall consider the extent, complexity, and quality of services rendered, and in the case of death, the Remarriage Tables of the Dutch Royal Insurance Institute. An attorney's fee may be denied or reduced upon proof of solicitation by the attorney. However, this provision shall not be construed to preclude advertising in conformity with standards prescribed by the Kentucky Supreme Court.[~~ The date of injury or last exposure shall control the applicable maximum attorney's fee.~~]

(4) No attorney's fee in any case involving benefits under this chapter shall be paid until the fee is approved by the arbitrator or administrative law judge, and any contract for the payment of attorney's fees otherwise than as provided in this section shall be void. The motion for approval of an attorney's fee shall be submitted within thirty (30) days following finality of the claim[~~written determination of an arbitrator or last appealable order of an administrative law judge~~]. Except when the attorney's fee is to be paid by the employer or carrier, the attorney's fee shall be paid in one (1) of the following ways:

(a) The employee may pay the attorney's fee out of his personal funds or from the proceeds of a lump-sum settlement; or

(b) The arbitrator or administrative law judge, upon request of the employee, may order the payment of the attorney's fee in a lump sum directly to the attorney of record and deduct the attorney's fee from the weekly benefits payable to the employee in equal installments over the duration of the award or until the attorney's fee has been paid, commuting sufficient sums to pay the fee.

(5) At the commencement of the attorney-client relationship, the attorney shall explain to the employee the methods by which this section provides for the payment of the attorney's fee, and the employee shall select the method in which his attorney's fee is to be paid. His selection and statement that he fully understands the method to be used shall be submitted by his attorney, on a notarized form signed by the employee, at the time the motion for approval of the attorney's fee is submitted. The commissioner shall develop the format and content of the form to be used pursuant to this section. The form to be used shall list on its face all options permitted in this section for the payment of an attorney's fees and contain an explanation in nontechnical language of each method.

(6) The General Assembly declares that by the enactment of KRS 342.316(3), it is the legislative intent to encourage settlement and prompt administrative handling of those claims and thereby reduce expenses to claimants for compensation under the provisions of KRS 342.316, and the administrative law judge and arbitrator shall give due regard to this legislative intent in the handling of uncontested claims and the allowance of attorney's fees therein.

(7) In a claim that has been reopened pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, an attorney's fee may be awarded by the arbitrator or administrative law judge subject to the limits set forth in subsection (2) of this section. In awarding the attorney's fee, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall consider the factors set forth in subsection (3) of this section. If no additional amount is recovered upon reopening, no attorney's fee shall be awarded. No attorney's fee shall be allowed or approved exceeding the amounts provided in subsection (2)(a)~~[(b)]~~ of this section applicable to any additional amount recovered.

(8) Attorney's fees for representing employers in proceedings under this chapter pursuant to contract with the employer shall be subject to approval of the administrative law judge or arbitrator in the same manner as prescribed for attorney representation of employees. Section 10. KRS 342.710 is amended to read as follows:

(1) One of the primary purposes of this chapter shall be restoration of the injured employee to gainful employment, and preference shall be given to returning the employee to employment with the same employer or to the same or similar employment.

(2) The commissioner shall continuously study the problems of rehabilitation, both physical and vocational, and shall investigate and maintain a directory of all rehabilitation facilities, both private and public.

(3) An employee who has suffered an injury covered by this chapter shall be entitled to prompt medical rehabilitation services for whatever period of time is necessary to accomplish physical rehabilitation goals which are feasible, practical, and justifiable. When as a result of the injury he is unable to perform work for which he has previous training or experience, he shall be entitled to such vocational rehabilitation services, including retraining and job placement, as may be reasonably necessary to restore him to suitable employment. In all such instances, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall inquire whether such services have been voluntarily offered and accepted. The arbitrator or administrative law judge on his own motion, or upon application of any party or carrier, after affording the parties an opportunity to be heard, may refer the employee to a qualified physician or facility for evaluation of the practicability of, need for, and kind of service, treatment, or training necessary and appropriate to render him fit for a remunerative occupation. Upon receipt of such report, the arbitrator or administrative law judge may order that the services and treatment recommended in the report, or such other rehabilitation treatment or service likely to return the employee to suitable, gainful employment, be provided at the expense of the employer or his insurance carrier. Vocational rehabilitation training, treatment, or service shall not extend for a period of more than fifty-two (52) weeks, except in unusual cases when by special order of the arbitrator or administrative law judge, after hearing and upon a finding, determined by sound medical evidence which indicates such further rehabilitation is feasible, practical, and justifiable, the period may be extended for additional periods, except that enhanced income benefits for permanently partially disabled workers otherwise payable under Section 11 of this Act shall only be paid during fifty-two (52) weeks of vocational rehabilitation training.

(4) Where rehabilitation requires residence at or near the facility or institution, away from the employee's customary residence, reasonable cost of his board, lodging, or travel shall be paid for by the employer or his insurance carrier.

(5) Refusal to accept rehabilitation pursuant to an order of an arbitrator or administrative law judge shall result in a fifty percent (50%) loss of compensation for each week of the period of refusal.

(6) The commissioner shall cooperate on a reciprocal basis with the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Department for Employment Services of the Kentucky Cabinet for Workforce Development. In the event medical treatment, medical rehabilitation services, or vocational rehabilitation services are purchased for an injured employee by the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation or Department for Employment Services following the refusal by the employer or his insurance carrier to provide such services, the arbitrator or administrative law judge, after affording the parties an opportunity to be heard, may order reimbursement of the cost of such treatment or services by the employer or his insurance carrier as apportioned in the award. This section shall not be interpreted to require mandatory evaluation of employees based on length of disability. Any administrative regulations promulgated pursuant to this section that require mandatory referral to a qualified rehabilitation counselor shall expire on April 4, 1994.

(7) An employee who has completed a program of retraining and has accepted a bona fide offer of employment, at a location more than fifty (50) miles from the employee's usual residence, in the field for which the employee has been trained may elect to be paid from the balance of the award a lump sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) to be paid without discount but deducted in equal amounts from weekly payments otherwise due~~[is enrolled and participating in a program of rehabilitation training pursuant to this section may elect to receive an acceleration of benefits as awarded under KRS 342.730. Such acceleration shall be available to the employee during the period of retraining, but in no event shall be paid in a weekly amount greater than sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the average weekly wage upon which the award is based, not to exceed one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage. Upon successful completion of the rehabilitation program, the total of all accelerated benefits paid shall be deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis, without discount, from weekly benefits otherwise due the employee subject to the maximum amount of the award. Such remaining benefits, if any, shall then be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee. If a program of rehabilitation training is terminated by the employee prior to completion, all sums paid on an accelerated basis shall be discounted at the rate set forth in KRS 342.265 and then deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis from weekly benefits otherwise due the employee subject to the maximum amount of the award. Such remaining benefits, after the discount, shall be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee. In no event shall this subsection be construed as requiring payment of benefits in excess of the total of those benefits which would otherwise be payable]~~ under the award.

Section 11. KRS 342.715 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of KRS 342.730, during the period the employee is eligible for permanent~~[total]~~ disability benefits and is actively participating as a full-time student in a vocational~~[or physical]~~ rehabilitation program, pursuant to an order of the arbitrator or administrative law judge, the employee's benefits shall be calculated as follows:

(a) For partial disability, the employee shall receive the greater of the permanent partial disability award or fifty percent (50%) of seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage; or

(b) For total disability, the employee shall receive eighty percent (80%) of his average weekly wage, but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage.

(2) Income benefits received under subsection (1) of this section shall be credited on a week-by-week basis against the employee's award.

(3) An employee with a partial disability award under Section 12 of this Act who is participating as a full-time student in a rehabilitation program may elect to accelerate payment of an additional sixteen and two-thirds percent (16-2/3%) of his average weekly wage so that during rehabilitative training, partial disability payments equal sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage. The additional sixteen and two-thirds percent (16-2/3%) shall be deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis, without discount, from weekly benefits otherwise due to the employee following the period of rehabilitative training. The dollar-for-dollar credit shall apply only to the additional sixteen and two-thirds percent (16-2/3%) received under this subsection and does not apply to benefits received under subsection (1) of this section. The sum total of payments remaining due under the award, if any, shall then be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee. If a program of rehabilitation training is terminated by the employee prior to completion, all sums paid on an accelerated basis under this subsection shall be discounted at the rate set forth in Section 5 of this Act and deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis from weekly benefits otherwise due the employee subject to the maximum amount of the award. The sum total remaining on the award shall be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee~~[by taking eighty percent (80%) of his average weekly wage, but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state's average weekly wage, times the permanent disability rating as determined in this chapter]~~.

Section 12. KRS 342.730 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in KRS 342.732, income benefits for disability shall be paid to the employee as follows:

(a) For temporary or permanent total disability, sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage and not less than twenty percent (20%) of the state average weekly wage as determined in KRS 342.740 during that disability. Nonwork-related impairment and conditions compensable under KRS 342.732 and hearing loss covered in KRS

342.7305 shall not be considered in determining whether the employee is totally disabled for purposes of this subsection.

(b) For permanent partial disability, sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not more than seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740, multiplied by the permanent impairment rating caused by the injury or occupational disease as determined by "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment," American Medical Association, latest edition available, times the factor set forth in the table that follows:

Any temporary total disability period within the maximum period for permanent, partial disability benefits shall extend the maximum period but shall not make payable a weekly benefit exceeding that determined in subsection (1)(a) of this section. Notwithstanding any section of this chapter, except as set forth in Section 11 of this Act[~~to the contrary~~], there shall be no minimum weekly income benefit for permanent partial disability and medical benefits shall be paid for the duration of the disability.

(c) 1. a. If following an injury, an employee returns to the type of work at the same or greater wage as earned at the time of injury, the benefit for permanent partial disability shall be determined under paragraph (b) of this subsection. During any period of cessation of that employment, temporary or permanent, for any reason, with or without cause, payment of weekly income benefits for permanent partial disability during the period of cessation shall be two (2) times the amount otherwise payable under paragraph (b) of this subsection, unless the employee does not retain the physical capacity to return to the type of work performed at the time of injury in which event the benefit shall be three (3) times the amount otherwise payable under paragraph (b) of this subsection;

b. If following an injury, an employee does not return to work at the same or greater wage than earned at the time of the injury, the benefit for permanent partial disability shall be two (2) times the amount otherwise payable in paragraph (b) of this subsection. This provision shall not be construed so as to extend the duration of payments.

c. If, due to an injury, an employee does not retain the physical capacity to return to the type of work that the employee performed at the time of injury, the benefit for permanent partial disability shall be three (3)[~~one and one-half (1-1/2)~~] times the amount otherwise determined under paragraph (b) of this subsection, but this provision shall not be construed so as to extend the duration of payments.

2. Recognizing that limited education and advancing age impact an employee's post-injury earning capacity, an education and age factor, when applicable, shall be added to the income benefit multiplier set forth in paragraph (c)1.c. of this subsection. If at the time of injury, the employee had less than eight (8) years of formal education, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.4; if the employee had less than twelve (12) years of education or a high school General Equivalency Diploma, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.2; if the employee was age sixty (60) or older, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.6; if the employee was age fifty-five (55) or older, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.4; and if the employee was age fifty (50) or older, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.2[~~If an employee returns to work at a weekly wage equal to or greater than the average weekly wage at the time of injury, the weekly benefit for permanent partial disability otherwise payable under paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be reduced by one-half (1/2) for each week during which that employment is sustained. During any period of cessation of that employment, temporary or permanent, for any reason, with or without cause, payment of weekly benefits for permanent partial disability during the period of cessation shall be restored to the rate prescribed in paragraph (b) of this subsection~~].

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of KRS 342.125, a claim may be reopened at any time during the period of permanent partial disability in order to conform the award payments with the requirements of paragraph (c)1.a. and b. of this subsection[~~subparagraph 2. of this paragraph~~].

(d) For permanent partial disability, if an employee has a permanent impairment[~~disability~~] rating of less than twenty-six percent (26%)[~~fifty percent (50%) or less~~] as a result of a work-related injury, the compensable permanent partial disability period shall be four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, and if the permanent impairment[~~disability~~] rating is greater than twenty-six percent (26%)[~~fifty percent (50%)~~], the compensable permanent partial disability period shall be five hundred twenty (520) weeks[~~ from the date the impairment or disability exceeding fifty percent (50%) arises~~]. Benefits payable for permanent partial disability shall not exceed[~~ ninety-nine percent (99%) of~~] sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage as determined under KRS 342.740 and shall not exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage[~~, except for benefits payable pursuant to paragraph (c)1. of this subsection, which shall not exceed one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage, nor shall benefits for permanent partial disability be payable for a period exceeding five hundred twenty (520) weeks, notwithstanding that multiplication of impairment times the factor set forth in paragraph (b) of this subsection would yield a greater percentage of disability~~].

(e) For permanent partial disability, impairment for nonwork-related disabilities, conditions previously compensated under this chapter, conditions covered by KRS 342.732, and hearing loss covered in KRS 342.7305 shall not be considered in determining the extent of disability or duration of benefits under this chapter.

(2) The period of any income benefits payable under this section on account of any injury shall be reduced by the period of income benefits paid or payable under this chapter on account of a prior injury if income benefits in both cases are for disability of the same member or function, or different parts of the same member or function, and the income benefits payable on account of the subsequent disability in whole or in part would duplicate the income benefits payable on account of the pre-existing disability.

(3) Subject to the limitations contained in subsection (4) of this section, when an employee, who has sustained disability compensable under this chapter, and who has filed, or could have timely filed, a valid claim in his lifetime, dies from causes other than the injury before the expiration of the compensable period specified, portions of the income benefits specified and unpaid at the individual's death, whether or not accrued or due at his death, shall be paid, under an award made before or after the death, for the period specified in this section, to and for the benefit of the persons within the classes at the time of death and in the proportions and upon the conditions specified in this section and in the order named:

(a) To the widow or widower, if there is no child under the age of eighteen (18) or incapable of self-support, benefits at fifty percent (50%) of the rate specified in the award; or

(b) If there are both a widow or widower and such a child or children, to the widow or widower, forty-five percent (45%) of the benefits specified in the award, or forty percent (40%) of those benefits if such a child or children are not living with the widow or widower; and, in addition thereto, fifteen percent (15%) of the benefits specified in the award to each child. Where there are more than two (2) such children, the indemnity benefits payable on account of two (2) children shall be divided among all the children, share and share alike; or

(c) If there is no widow or widower but such a child or children, then to the child or children, fifty percent (50%) of the benefits specified in the award to one (1) child, and fifteen percent (15%) of those benefits to a second child, to be shared equally. If there are more than two (2) such children, the indemnity benefits payable on account of two (2) children shall be divided equally among all the children; or

(d) If there is no survivor in the above classes, then the parent or parents wholly or partly actually dependent for support upon the decedent, or to other wholly or partly actually dependent relatives listed in paragraph (g) of subsection (1) of KRS 342.750, or to both, in proportions that the commissioner provides by administrative regulation.

(e) To the widow or widower upon remarriage, up to two (2) years, benefits as specified in the award and proportioned under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this subsection, if the proportioned benefits remain unpaid, to be paid in a lump sum.

(4) All income benefits payable pursuant to this chapter shall be reduced by twenty-five percent (25%)[~~terminate~~] as of the date upon which the employee qualifies for normal old-age Social Security retirement benefits under the United States Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. secs. 301 to 1397f; by an additional twenty-five percent (25%) of the original income benefit one (1) year thereafter; by an additional twenty-five percent (25%) of the original benefit at the beginning of the third year, and shall terminate entirely at the end of the employee's third year of receipt of old-age Social Security retirement benefits, except that the employee shall be paid full income benefits as set forth in the award for a period of[~~, or~~] two (2) years after the employee's injury or last exposure, and thereafter if the employee qualifies for normal old-age Social Security retirement, benefits shall be reduced at the rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per year over a period of three (3) years and terminate entirely at the end of the third year[~~whichever last occurs~~]. In like manner all income benefits payable pursuant to this chapter to spouses and dependents shall terminate when such spouses and dependents qualify for benefits under the United States Social Security Act by reason of the fact that the worker upon whose earnings entitlement is based would have qualified for normal old-age Social Security retirement benefits.

(5) All income benefits pursuant to this chapter otherwise payable for temporary total and permanent total disability shall be offset by unemployment insurance benefits paid for unemployment during the period of temporary total or permanent total disability.

(6) All income benefits otherwise payable pursuant to this chapter shall be offset by payments made under an exclusively employer-funded disability or sickness and accident plan which extends income benefits for the same disability covered by this chapter, except where the employer-funded plan contains an internal offset provision for workers' compensation benefits which is inconsistent with this provision.

(7) If an employee receiving a permanent total disability award returns to work, that employee shall notify the employer, payment obligor, insurance carrier, or special fund as applicable.

Section 13. KRS 342.732 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, income benefits and retraining incentive benefits for occupational pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust in the severance or processing of coal shall be paid as follows:

(a) If an employee has a radiographic classification of category 1/0~~[1/1 or 1/2]~~, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, resulting from exposure to coal dust, which is validated by report of X-ray which conforms to the standards for X-rays contained in subsection (3) of KRS 342.316, and respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal-mine dust as evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" of the American Medical Association, or category 1/1 or 1/2 pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of eighty percent (80%) or more, the employee shall be awarded a one (1) time only retraining incentive benefit which shall be an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740 but not more than seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage, payable semimonthly for a period not to exceed one hundred four (104) weeks. These benefits shall be paid only while the employee is enrolled and actively and successfully participating as a full-time student taking twenty-four (24) or more instruction hours per week in a bona fide training or education program approved under administrative regulations to be promulgated by the commissioner. The employer shall also pay, directly to the institution conducting the training or education program, instruction, tuition, and material costs not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000). The benefit shall not be paid for a period in which the employee ceases to participate in the program. In no event shall the benefit be paid to the employee while the employee is working in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a). The period of one hundred four (104) weeks during which this benefit is payable shall begin no later than the one-hundred-eightieth day after the order awarding the benefit becomes final. If an employee completes an approved program of training in less than one hundred four (104) weeks and that employee has accepted a bona fide offer of employment at a location more than fifty (50) miles from the employee's usual residence in the field for which the employee has been trained, the employee shall be paid in a lump sum for relocation the lesser of the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) or the amount remaining in unpaid weekly training benefits as provided by this section.

(b) If an employee has a radiographic classification of category 1/0, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, resulting from exposure to coal dust, which is validated by a report of X-ray which conforms to the standards for X-rays contained in subsection (3) of Section 8 of this Act, and respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal-mine dust as evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" of the American Medical Association, or category 1/1 or 1/2 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values, or category 2/1, 2/2, or 2/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and spirometric test values of eighty percent (80%) or more of the predicted normal values, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee has a disability rating of twenty-five percent (25%) resulting from exposure to coal dust, and the employee shall be awarded an income benefit which shall be an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of twenty-five percent (25%). The award shall be payable for a period not to exceed four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance or processing of coal as defined in subsection (23)(a) of Section 1 of this Act.

(c) If it is determined that an employee has a radiographic classification of category 1/1 or 1/2, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics and respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal dust as evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association, or category 2/1, 2/2, or 2/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values, or category 3/2 or 3/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and spirometric test values of eighty percent (80%) or more, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee has a[~~an occupational~~] disability rating of fifty percent (50%) resulting from exposure to coal dust, and the employee shall be awarded an income benefit which shall be an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined in KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of fifty percent (50%)[~~ but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740~~]. The award shall be payable for a period not to exceed four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a).

(d)[~~(c)~~]If it is determined that an employee has a radiographic classification of category 2/1, 2/2, or 2/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, and respiratory impairment as evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association or category 3/2 or 3/3 pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee has a[~~is~~] seventy-five percent (75%) disability rating[~~disabled~~] resulting from exposure to coal dust and the employee shall be awarded income benefits which shall be equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of seventy-five percent (75%)[~~ but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage and not less than twenty percent (20%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740~~]. The award shall be payable for a period not to exceed five hundred twenty (520) weeks. Income benefits awarded under this paragraph shall be payable to the employee during the disability, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a).

(e)[~~(d)~~]If it is determined that an employee has radiographic classification of 3/2 or 3/3 occupational pneumoconiosis based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographs, and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the latest edition of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" of the American Medical Association, or progressive massive fibrosis, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee is totally disabled resulting from exposure to coal dust, and the employee shall be awarded income benefits equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage and not less than twenty percent (20%) of the average weekly wage of the state as determined by KRS 342.740. Income benefits awarded under this paragraph shall be payable to the employee during such disability, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a).

(2) The presence of respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal dust shall be established by using the largest forced vital capacity (FVC) value or the largest forced expiratory volume in one second (FEV1) value determined from the totality of all such spirometric testing performed in compliance with accepted medical standards.

(3) When valid spirometric tests are not provided and a physician certifies to the administrative law judge or arbitrator that spirometric testing is not medically indicated because of the permanent physical condition of the employee, the administrative law judge or arbitrator shall make his decision on the basis of evidence admitted which establishes the existence of a diagnosis of occupational pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment due to the occupational pneumoconiosis. The evidence submitted by the employee shall include one (1) or more arterial blood gas studies performed in accordance with accepted medical standards. Income benefits shall not be awarded in the absence of valid spirometric tests if the claimant's PO2 arterial blood gas value is equal to or higher than one (1) standard deviation from the normal value obtained by the formula (103.5 - 0.42X), where X equals the claimant's age at the time of the arterial blood gas study.

(4) If a miner has fifteen (15) years or more of employment in coal mines or processing facilities as shown by Social Security records and has developed coal workers' pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment criteria established in this section, it shall be rebuttably presumed that coal dust exposure was a significant contributing factor in the development of respiratory impairment.

(5) A miner who is age fifty-five (55) or older on the date of the last occupational exposure to coal dust who is otherwise entitled to an award of retraining incentive benefits provided in subsection (1)(a) of this section may elect to be awarded in lieu thereof an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined in KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of twenty-five percent (25%). The award shall be payable for a period of four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in subsection (23)(a) of Section 1 of this Act.

(6) In no event shall income benefits awarded under this section be stacked or added to income benefits awarded under KRS 342.730 to extend the period of disability.

(7) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 3 of this Act, all claims for benefits under this section, which were filed for the last injurious occupational exposure to coal dust occurring between December 12, 1996, and the effective date of this Act, shall be reconsidered under administrative regulations promulgated by the commissioner and may be reopened upon the existing record and benefits shall be awarded thereon as if the entitlement standards established by the amendments to this section were effective at the time of the last exposure. Any benefits previously granted by an award or settlement shall be credited against the reconsidered award or settlement. All additional benefits shall be paid from the Kentucky Coal Workers' Pneumoconiosis Fund, the provisions of KRS 342.1242 notwithstanding. Claims which were dismissed upon a finding that the miner had not proven development of coal workers' pneumoconiosis and claims which were dismissed for reasons other than failure to meet medical criteria shall not be reopened or reconsidered under this subsection.

(8) The claim of any miner last exposed to the occupational hazards of coal workers' pneumoconiosis between December 12, 1996, and the effective date of this Act, shall nonetheless be governed by the provisions of this section as amended on the effective date of this Act with any additional benefits awarded to the miner under this section to be paid from the Kentucky coal workers' pneumoconiosis fund, the provisions of KRS 342.1242 notwithstanding.

(9) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 8(4)(a) of this Act, the claim of any miner last exposed between December 12, 1996, and December 11, 1997, may be filed with the commissioner within four (4) years after the last exposure to the occupational hazard or after the employee first experiences a distinct manifestation of the occupational disease. The right to compensation shall be forever barred, however, unless a claim is filed within five (5) years from the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard. Any additional benefits awarded to the miner under this section shall to be paid by the Kentucky Coal Workers' Fund, the provisions of KRS 342.1242 notwithstanding.

SECTION 14. A NEW SECTION OF SUBTITLE 13 OF KRS CHAPTER 304 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter to the contrary, the commissioner shall evaluate alternate methods of establishing workers' compensation insurance rates for employers in the construction industry and shall, within one hundred eighty (180) days of the effective date of this Act, promulgate administrative regulations prescribing that insurance carriers or rating organizations licensed under KRS 304.13-091 develop a method of computing workers' compensation premiums that does not discriminate against or penalize employers in the construction industry solely because they pay higher wages than other employers to workers in the same job classifications.

The Committee Substitute No. 1 to HB 992 is as follows:

HB 992, AN ACT relating to workers' compensation.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 342.0011 is amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Injury" means any work-related traumatic event or series of traumatic events, including cumulative trauma, arising out of and in the course of employment which is the proximate cause producing a harmful change in the human organism evidenced by objective medical findings. "Injury" does not include~~[the effects of the natural aging process, and does not include]~~ any communicable disease unless the risk of contracting the disease is increased by the nature of the employment. "Injury" when used generally, unless the context indicates otherwise, shall include an occupational disease and damage to a prosthetic appliance, but shall not include a psychological, psychiatric, or stress-related change in the human organism, unless it is a direct result of a physical injury. Changes that are characteristic of the normal process of becoming older are not an "injury" unless the work or a work-related traumatic event accelerates the normal aging process.

(2) "Occupational disease" means a disease arising out of and in the course of the employment.

(3) An occupational disease as defined in this chapter shall be deemed to arise out of the employment if there is apparent to the rational mind, upon consideration of all the circumstances, a causal connection between the conditions under which the work is performed and the occupational disease, and which can be seen to have followed as a natural incident to the work as a result of the exposure occasioned by the nature of the employment and which can be fairly traced to the employment as the proximate cause. The occupational disease shall be incidental to the character of the business and not independent of the relationship of employer and employee. An occupational disease need not have been foreseen or expected but, after its contraction, it must appear to be related to a risk connected with the employment and to have flowed from that source as a rational consequence.

(4) "Injurious exposure" shall mean that exposure to occupational hazard which would, independently of any other cause whatsoever, produce or cause the disease for which the claim is made.

(5) "Death" means death resulting from an injury or occupational disease.

(6) "Carrier" means any insurer, or legal representative thereof, authorized to insure the liability of employers under this chapter and includes a self-insurer.

(7) "Self-insurer" is an employer who has been authorized under the provisions of this chapter to carry his own liability on his employees covered by this chapter.

(8) "Department" means the Department of Workers' Claims in the Labor Cabinet.

(9) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of the Department of Workers' Claims.

(10) "Board" means the Workers' Compensation Board.

(11) (a) "Temporary total disability" means the condition of an employee who has not reached maximum medical improvement from an injury and has not reached a level of improvement that would permit a return to employment;

(b) "Permanent partial disability" means the condition of an employee who, due to an injury, has a permanent disability rating but retains the ability to work; and

(c) "Permanent total disability" means the condition of an employee who, due to an injury, has a permanent disability rating and has a complete and permanent inability to perform any type of work as a result of an injury, except that total disability shall be irrebuttably presumed to exist for an injury that results in:

1. Total and permanent loss of sight in both eyes;
2. Loss of both feet at or above the ankle;
3. Loss of both hands at or above the wrist;
4. Loss of one (1) foot at or above the ankle and the loss of one (1) hand at or above the wrist;
5. Permanent and complete paralysis of both arms, both legs, or one (1) arm and one (1) leg;
6. Incurable insanity or imbecility; or
7. Total loss of hearing.

(12) "Income benefits" means payments made under the provisions of this chapter to the disabled worker or his dependents in case of death, excluding medical and related benefits.

(13) "Medical and related benefits" means payments made for medical, hospital, burial, and other services as provided in this chapter, other than income benefits.

(14) "Compensation" means all payments made under the provisions of this chapter representing the sum of income benefits and medical and related benefits.

(15) "Medical services" means medical, surgical, dental, hospital, nursing, and medical rehabilitation services, medicines, and fittings for artificial or prosthetic devices.

(16) "Person" means any individual, partnership, including a registered limited liability partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company, firm, association, trust, joint venture, corporation, limited liability company, or legal representative thereof.

(17) "Wages" means, in addition to money payments for services rendered, the reasonable value of board, rent, housing, lodging, fuel, or similar advantages received from the employer, and gratuities received in the course of employment from persons other than the employer as evidenced by the employee's federal and state tax returns.

(18) "Agriculture" means the operation of farm premises, including the planting, cultivation, producing, growing, harvesting, and preparation for market of agricultural or horticultural commodities thereon, the raising of livestock for food products and for racing purposes, and poultry thereon, and any work performed as an incident to or in conjunction with the farm operations. It shall not include the commercial processing, packing, drying, storing, or canning of such commodities for market, or making cheese or butter or other dairy products for market.

(19) "Beneficiary" means any person who is entitled to income benefits or medical and related benefits under this chapter.

(20) "United States," when used in a geographic sense, means the several states, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, and the territories of the United States.

(21) "Alien" means a person who is not a citizen, a national, or a resident of the United States or Canada. Any person not a citizen or national of the United States who relinquishes or is about to relinquish his residence in the United States shall be regarded as an alien.

(22) "Insurance carrier" means every insurance carrier or insurance company authorized to do business in the Commonwealth writing workers' compensation insurance coverage and includes the Kentucky Employers Mutual Insurance Authority and every group of self-insurers operating under the provisions of this chapter.

(23) (a) "Severance or processing of coal" means all activities performed in the Commonwealth at underground, auger, and surface mining sites; all activities performed at tipple or processing plants that clean, break, size, or treat coal; and all activities performed at coal loading facilities for trucks, railroads, and barges. Severance or processing of coal shall not include acts performed by a final consumer if the acts are performed at the site of final consumption.

(b) "Engaged in severance or processing of coal" shall include all individuals, partnerships, including registered limited liability partnerships, limited partnerships, limited liability companies, corporations, joint ventures, associations, or any other business entity in the Commonwealth which has employees on its payroll who perform any of the acts stated in paragraph (a) of this subsection, regardless of whether the acts are performed as owner of the coal or on a contract or fee basis for the actual owner of the coal. A business entity engaged in the severance or processing of coal, including, but not limited to, administrative or selling functions, shall be considered wholly engaged in the severance or processing of coal for the purpose of this chapter. However, a business entity which is engaged in a separate business activity not related to coal, for which a separate premium charge is not made, shall be deemed to be engaged in the severance or processing of coal only to the extent that the number of employees engaged in the severance or processing of coal bears to the total number of employees. Any employee who is involved in the business of severing or processing of coal and business activities not related to coal shall be prorated based on the time involved in severance or processing of coal bears to his total time.

(24) "Premium" for every group of self-insurers means any and all assessments levied on its members by such group or contributed to it by the members thereof. For special fund assessment purposes, "premium" also includes any and all membership dues, fees, or other payments by members of the group to associations or other entities used for underwriting, claims handling, loss control, premium audit, actuarial, or other services associated with the maintenance or operation of the self-insurance group.

(25) (a) "Premiums received" for policies effective on or after January 1, 1994, for insurance companies means direct written premiums as reported in the annual statement to the Kentucky Department of Insurance by insurance companies, except that "premiums received" includes premiums charged off or deferred, and, on insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles, the calculated cost for coverage, including experience modification and premium surcharge or discount, prior to any reduction for deductibles. The rates, factors, and methods used to calculate the cost for coverage under this paragraph for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles shall be the same rates, factors, and methods normally used by the insurance company in Kentucky to calculate the cost for coverage for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage without provisions for deductibles, except that, for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles effective on or after January 1, 1995, the calculated cost for coverage shall not include any schedule rating modification, debits, or credits. The cost for coverage calculated under this paragraph by insurance companies that issue only deductible insurance policies in Kentucky shall be actuarially adequate to cover the entire liability of the employer for compensation under this chapter, including all expenses and allowances normally used to calculate the cost for coverage. For policies with provisions for deductibles with effective dates of May 6, 1993, through December 31, 1993, for which the insurance company did not report premiums and remit special fund assessments based on the calculated cost for coverage prior to the reduction for deductibles, "premiums received" includes the initial premium plus any reimbursements invoiced for losses, expenses, and fees charged under the deductibles. The special fund assessment rates in effect for reimbursements invoiced for losses, expenses, or fees charged under the deductibles shall be those percentages in effect on the effective date of the insurance policy. For policies covering leased employees as defined in KRS 342.615, "premiums received" means premiums calculated using the experience modification factor of each lessee as defined in KRS 342.615 for each leased employee for that portion of the payroll pertaining to the leased employee.

(b) "Direct written premium" for insurance companies means the gross premium written less return premiums and premiums on policies not taken but including policy and membership fees.

(c) "Premium," for policies effective on or after January 1, 1994, for insurance companies means all consideration, whether designated as premium or otherwise, for workers' compensation insurance paid to an insurance company or its representative, including, on insurance policies with provisions for deductibles, the calculated cost for coverage, including experience modification and premium surcharge or discount, prior to any reduction for deductibles. The rates, factors, and methods used to calculate the cost for coverage under this paragraph for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles shall be the same rates, factors, and methods normally used by the insurance company in Kentucky to calculate the cost for coverage for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage without provisions for deductibles, except that, for insurance policies or other evidence of coverage with provisions for deductibles effective on or after January 1, 1995, the calculated cost for coverage shall not include any schedule rating modifications, debits, or credits. The cost for coverage calculated under this paragraph by insurance companies that issue only deductible insurance policies in Kentucky shall be actuarially adequate to cover the entire liability of the employer for compensation under this chapter, including all expenses and allowances normally used to calculate the cost for coverage. For policies with provisions for deductibles with effective dates of May 6, 1993, through December 31, 1993, for which the insurance company did not report premiums and remit special fund assessments based on the calculated cost for coverage prior to the reduction for deductibles, "premium" includes the initial consideration plus any reimbursements invoiced for losses, expenses, or fees charged under the deductibles.

(d) "Return premiums" for insurance companies means amounts returned to insureds due to endorsements, retrospective adjustments, cancellations, dividends, or errors.

(26) "Insurance policy" for an insurance company or group self-insurer means the term of insurance coverage commencing from the date coverage is extended, whether a new policy or a renewal, through its expiration, not to exceed the anniversary date of the renewal for the following year.

(27) "Self-insurance year" for a group self-insurer means the annual period of certification of the group created pursuant to KRS 342.350(4).

(28) "Premium" for each employer carrying his own risk pursuant to KRS 342.340(1) shall be the projected value of the employer's workers' compensation claims for the next calendar year as calculated by the commissioner using generally-accepted actuarial methods as follows:

(a) The base period shall be the earliest three (3) calendar years of the five (5) calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which the calculation is made. The commissioner shall identify each claim of the employer which has an injury date or date of last injurious exposure to the cause of an occupational disease during each one (1) of the three (3) calendar years to be used as the base, and shall assign a value to each claim. The value shall be the total of the indemnity benefits paid to date and projected to be paid, adjusted to current benefit levels, plus the medical benefits paid to date and projected to be paid for the life of the claim, plus the cost of medical and vocational rehabilitation paid to date and projected to be paid. Adjustment to current benefit levels shall be done by multiplying the weekly indemnity benefit for each claim by the number obtained by dividing the statewide average weekly wage which will be in effect for the year for which the premium is being calculated by the statewide average weekly wage in effect during the year in which the injury or date of the last exposure occurred. The total value of the claims using the adjusted weekly benefit shall then be calculated by the commissioner. Values for claims in which awards have been made or settlements reached because of findings of permanent partial or permanent total disability shall be calculated using the mortality and interest discount assumptions used in the latest available statistical plan of the advisory rating organization defined in Subtitle 13 of KRS Chapter 304. The sum of all calculated values shall be computed for all claims in the base period.

(b) The commissioner shall obtain the annual payroll for each of the three (3) years in the base period for each employer carrying his own risk from records of the department and from the records of the Department for Employment Services, Cabinet for Workforce Development. The commissioner shall multiply each of the three (3) years of payroll by the number obtained by dividing the statewide average weekly wage which will be in effect for the year in which the premium is being calculated by the statewide average weekly wage in effect in each of the years of the base period.

(c) The commissioner shall divide the total of the adjusted claim values for the three (3) year base period by the total adjusted payroll for the same three (3) year period. The value so calculated shall be multiplied by 1.25 and shall then be multiplied by the employer's most recent annualized payroll, calculated using records of the department and the Department for Employment Services data which shall be made available for this purpose on a quarterly basis as reported, to obtain the premium for the next calendar year for assessment purposes under KRS 342.122.

(d) For November 1, 1987, through December 31, 1988, premium for each employer carrying his own risk shall be an amount calculated by the board pursuant to the provisions contained in this subsection and such premium shall be provided to each employer carrying his own risk and to the funding commission on or before January 1, 1988. Thereafter, the calculations set forth in this subsection shall be performed annually, at the time each employer applies or renews his application for certification to carry his own risk for the next twelve (12) month period and submits payroll and other data in support of the application. The employer and the funding commission shall be notified at the time of the certification or recertification of the premium calculated by the commissioner, which shall form the employer's basis for assessments pursuant to KRS 342.122 for the calendar year beginning on January 1 following the date of certification or recertification.

(e) If an employer having fewer than five (5) years of doing business in this state applies to carry his own risk and is so certified, his premium for the purposes of KRS 342.122 shall be based on the lesser number of years of experience as may be available including the two (2) most recent years if necessary to create a three (3) year base period. If the employer has less than two (2) years of operation in this state available for the premium calculation, then his premium shall be the greater of the value obtained by the calculation called for in this subsection or the amount of security required by the commissioner pursuant to KRS 342.340(1).

(f) If an employer is certified to carry his own risk after having previously insured the risk, his premium shall be calculated using values obtained from claims incurred while insured for as many of the years of the base period as may be necessary to create a full three (3) year base. After the employer is certified to carry his own risk and has paid all amounts due for assessments upon premiums paid while insured, he shall be assessed only upon the premium calculated under this subsection.

(g) "Premium" for each employer defined in KRS 342.630(2) shall be calculated as set forth in this subsection.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, the premium of any employer authorized to carry its own risk for purposes of assessments due under this chapter shall be no less than thirty cents ($0.30) per one hundred dollars ($100) of the employer's most recent annualized payroll for employees covered by this chapter.

(29) "SIC code" as used in this chapter means the Standard Industrial Classification Code contained in the latest edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the Federal Office of Management and Budget.

(30) "Investment interest" means any pecuniary or beneficial interest in a provider of medical services or treatment under this chapter, other than a provider in which that pecuniary or investment interest is obtained on terms equally available to the public through trading on a registered national securities exchange, such as the New York Stock Exchange or the American Stock Exchange, or on the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System.

(31) "Managed health care system" means a health care system that employs gatekeeper providers, performs utilization review, and does medical bill audits.

(32) "Physician" means physicians and surgeons, psychologists, optometrists, dentists, podiatrists, and osteopathic and chiropractic practitioners acting within the scope of their license issued by the Commonwealth.

(33) "Objective medical findings" means information gained through direct observation and testing of the patient applying objective or standardized methods.

(34) "Work" means providing services to another in return for remuneration on a regular and sustained basis in a competitive economy.

(35) "Permanent impairment rating" means percentage of whole body impairment caused by the injury or occupational disease as determined by "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment," American Medical Association, latest available edition.

(36) "Permanent disability rating" means the permanent impairment rating selected by an arbitrator or administrative law judge times the factor set forth in the table that appears at KRS 342.730(1)(b).

(37) "Miner" means any individual who is or was employed in the severance or processing of coal at a coal mine or coal processing facility.

Section 2. KRS 342.035 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Periodically, the commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations to adopt a schedule of fees for the purpose of ensuring that all fees, charges, and reimbursements under KRS 342.020 and this section shall be fair, current, and reasonable and shall be limited to such charges as are fair, current, and reasonable for similar treatment of injured persons in the same community for like services, where treatment is paid for by general health insurers. In determining what fees are reasonable, the commissioner may also consider the increased security of payment afforded by this chapter. On or before November 1, 1994, and on July 1 every two (2) years thereafter, the schedule of fees contained in administrative regulations promulgated pursuant to this section shall be reviewed and updated, if appropriate. Within ten (10) days of April 4, 1994, the commissioner shall execute a contract with an appropriately-qualified consultant pursuant to which each of the following elements within the workers' compensation system are evaluated; the methods of health care delivery; quality assurance and utilization mechanisms; type, frequency, and intensity of services; risk management programs; and the schedule of fees contained in administrative regulation. The consultant shall present recommendations based on its review to the commissioner not later than sixty (60) days following execution of the contract. The commissioner shall consider these recommendations and, not later than thirty (30) days after their receipt, promulgate a regulation which shall be effective on an emergency basis, to effect a twenty-five percent (25%) reduction in the total medical costs within the program.

(2) No provider of medical services or treatment required by this chapter, its agent, servant, employee, assignee, employer, or independent contractor acting on behalf of any medical provider, shall knowingly collect, attempt to collect, coerce, or attempt to coerce, directly or indirectly, the payment of any charge, for services covered by a workers' compensation insurance plan for the treatment of a work-related injury or occupational disease, in excess of that provided by a schedule of fees, or cause the credit of any employee to be impaired by reason of the employee's failure or refusal to pay the excess charge. In addition to the penalty imposed in KRS 342.990 for violations of this subsection, any individual who sustains damages by any act in violation of the provisions of this subsection shall have a civil cause of action in Circuit Court to enjoin further violations and to recover the actual damages sustained by the individual, together with the costs of the lawsuit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

(3) Where these requirements are furnished by a public hospital or other institution, payment thereof shall be made to the proper authorities conducting it. No compensation shall be payable for the death or disability of an employee if his death is caused, or if and insofar as his disability is aggravated, caused, or continued, by an unreasonable failure to submit to or follow any competent surgical treatment or medical aid or advice.

(4) The commissioner shall, by December 1, 1994, promulgate administrative regulations to adopt a schedule of fees for the purpose of regulating charges by medical providers and other health care professionals for testimony presented and medical reports furnished in the litigation of a claim by an injured employee against the employer. The workers' compensation medical fee schedule for physicians, 803 KAR 25:089, having an effective date of February 9, 1995, shall remain in effect until July 1, 1996, or until the effective date of any amendments promulgated by the commissioner, whichever occurs first, it being determined that this administrative regulation is within the statutory grant of authority, meets legislative intent, and is not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter. The medical fee schedule and amendments shall be fair, current, and reasonable and otherwise comply with this section.

(5) (a) To ensure compliance with subsections (1) and (4) of this section, the commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations by December 31, 1994, which require each insurance carrier, group self-insurer, and self-insured employer to certify to the commissioner the program or plan it has adopted to ensure compliance.

(b) In addition, the commissioner shall periodically have an independent audit conducted by a qualified independent person, firm, company, or other entity hired by the commissioner, in accordance with the personal service contract provisions contained in KRS 45A.690 to 45A.725, to ensure that the requirements of subsection (1) of this section are being met. The independent person, firm, company, or other entity selected by the commissioner to conduct the audit shall protect the confidentiality of any information it receives during the audit, shall divulge information received during the audit only to the commissioner, and shall use the information for no other purpose than the audit required by this paragraph.

(c) The commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations governing medical provider utilization review activities conducted by an insurance carrier, group self-insurer, or self-insured employer pursuant to this chapter. The commissioner may contract with a third party to conduct utilization review appeals or reconsiderations. Employers or carriers shall pay the costs associated with utilization review appeals or reconsiderations under this paragraph.

(d) Periodically, or upon request, the commissioner shall report to the Interim Joint Committee on Labor and Industry of the Legislative Research Commission or to the corresponding standing committees of the General Assembly, as appropriate, the degree of compliance or lack of compliance with the provisions of this section and make recommendations thereon.

(e) Except as set forth in subsection (5)(c) of this section, the cost of implementing and carrying out the requirements of this subsection shall be paid from funds collected pursuant to KRS 342.122.

(6) The commissioner may promulgate administrative regulations incorporating managed care or other concepts intended to reduce costs or to speed the delivery or payment of medical services to employees receiving medical and related benefits under this chapter.

(7) For purposes of this chapter, any medical provider shall charge only its customary fee for photocopying requested documents. However, in no event shall a photocopying fee of a medical provider or photocopying service exceed fifty cents ($0.50) per page. In addition, there shall be no charge for reviewing any records of a medical provider, during regular business hours, by any party who is authorized to review the records and who requests a review pursuant to this chapter.

(8) (a) The commissioner shall develop or adopt practice parameters or guidelines for clinical practice for use by medical providers under this chapter. The commissioner may adopt any parameters for clinical practice as developed and updated by the federal Agency for Health Care Policy Research, or the commissioner may adopt other parameters for clinical practice which are developed by qualified bodies, as determined by the commissioner, with periodic updating based on data collected during the application of the parameters.

(b) Any provider of medical services under this chapter who has followed the practice parameters or guidelines developed or adopted pursuant to this subsection shall be presumed to have met the appropriate legal standard of care in medical malpractice cases regardless of any unanticipated complication that may thereafter develop or be discovered.

Section 3. KRS 342.125 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon motion by any party or upon an arbitrator's or administrative law judge's own motion, an arbitrator or administrative law judge may reopen and review any award or order on any of the following grounds:

(a) Fraud;

(b) Newly-discovered evidence which could not have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence;

(c) Mistake; and

(d) Change of disability as shown by objective medical evidence of worsening or improvement of impairment due to a condition caused by the injury since the date of the award or order.

(2) No claim which has been previously dismissed or denied on the merits shall be reopened except upon the grounds set forth in this section.

(3) Except for reopening solely for the determination of the compensability of medical expenses, fraud, or conforming the award as set forth in subsection (1)(c)1. of Section 12 of this Act[~~KRS 342.730(1)(c)2.~~], or for reducing a permanent total disability award when an employee returns to work, or seeking temporary total disability benefits during the period of an award, no claim shall be reopened more than six (6)[~~four (4)~~] years following the date of the original award or order granting or denying benefits[~~, or within two (2) years of such award or order~~], and no party may file a motion to reopen within one (1) year[~~two (2) years~~] of any previous motion to reopen by the same party.

(4) Reopening and review under this section shall be had upon notice to the parties and in the same manner as provided for an initial proceeding under this chapter. Upon reopening, the arbitrator or administrative law judge may end, diminish, or increase compensation previously awarded, within the maximum and minimum provided in this chapter, or change or revoke a previous order. The arbitrator or administrative law judge shall immediately send all parties a copy of the subsequent order or award. Reopening shall not affect the previous order or award as to any sums already paid thereunder, and any change in the amount of compensation shall be ordered only from the date of filing the motion to reopen. No employer shall suspend benefits during pendency of any reopening procedures except upon order of the arbitrator or administrative law judge.

(5) (a) Upon the application of the affected employee, and a showing of progression of his previously-diagnosed occupational pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust and development of respiratory impairment due to that pneumoconiosis and two (2) additional years of employment in the Commonwealth wherein the employee was continuously exposed to the hazards of the disease, the arbitrator or administrative law judge may review an award or order for benefits attributable to coal-related pneumoconiosis under KRS 342.732. An application for review under this subsection shall be made within one (1) year of the date the employee knew or reasonably should have known that a progression of his disease and development or progression of respiratory impairment have occurred. Review under this subsection shall include a review of all evidence admitted in all prior proceedings.

(b) Benefits awarded as a result of a review under this subsection shall be reduced by the amount of retraining incentive benefits or income benefits previously awarded under KRS 342.732. The amount to be deducted shall be subtracted from the total amount awarded, and the remaining amount shall be divided by the number of weeks, for which the award was made, to arrive at the weekly benefit amount which shall be apportioned in accordance with the provisions of KRS 342.316.

(6) In a reopening or review proceeding where there has been additional permanent partial disability awarded, the increase shall not extend the original period, unless the combined prior disability and increased disability exceeds fifty percent (50%), but less than one hundred percent (100%), in which event the awarded period shall not exceed five hundred twenty (520) weeks, from commencement date of the original disability previously awarded. The law in effect on the date of the original injury controls the rights of the parties.

(7) Where an agreement has become an award by approval of the arbitrator or administrative law judge, and a reopening and review of that award is initiated, no statement contained in the agreement, whether as to jurisdiction, liability of the employer, nature and extent of disability, or as to any other matter, shall be considered by the arbitrator or the administrative law judge as an admission against the interests of any party. The parties may raise any issue upon reopening and review of this type of award which could have been considered upon an original application for benefits.

(8) The time limitation prescribed in this section is remedial and shall apply to all claims in which an award was entered or a settlement approved on or after December 12, 1996, except that subsection (3) of this section shall not be interpreted or construed to permit reopening of a claim on which the reopening period had expired on or before the effective date of this Act.[~~irrespective of when they were incurred, or when the award was entered, or the settlement approved. However,~~] Claims decided prior to December 12, 1996, may be reopened within four (4) years of the award or order or within four (4) years of December 12, 1996, whichever is later, provided that the exceptions to reopening established in subsections (1) and (3) of this section shall apply to these claims as well.

Section 4. KRS 342.215 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The Workers' Compensation Board is hereby created and established. The board shall rule on appeals of decisions rendered by administrative law judges under this chapter. The board shall rule on an appeal of a decision of an administrative law judge no later than sixty (60) days following the date on which the last appeal brief was filed.

(2) The Workers' Compensation Board shall consist of three (3) members appointed by the Governor. Each member shall hold no other public office and shall devote his full time to the duties of his office.

(3) Of the members of the board appointed under this section, one (1) shall serve a term which shall expire on January 4, 2002; one (1) shall serve a term which shall expire on January 4, 2003; and one (1) shall serve a term which shall expire on January 4, 2004, as designated by the Governor at the time of appointment. Thereafter, each term of a board member shall run for four (4) years from the date of expiration of the term for which the member's predecessor was appointed, except that a person appointed to fill a vacancy prior to the expiration of a term shall be appointed for the remainder of the term. The Governor shall not appoint a member of the board to fill the unexpired term of another board member, nor shall the Governor reappoint a member of the board who has been removed from his position prior to the expiration of his term. The members of the board shall have the qualifications required of appeals court judges, except for residence in a district, and shall receive the same salary and shall be subject to the same standards of conduct. The Governor shall designate a member of the board to serve as chairman. Any vacancy in the chairmanship shall be filled by the Governor. The Governor may at any time remove any member for cause after furnishing him with a written copy of the charges against him and giving him a public hearing if he requests it.

(4) A decision concurred in by any two (2) of the three (3) members shall constitute a decision of the board.

(5) Members of the Workers' Compensation Board, arbitrators, and the administrative law judges shall be members of the Kentucky Employees Retirement System.

[~~(6) The Workers' Compensation Board is abolished effective on July 1, 2000, and as of midnight, June 30, 2000, the terms of all Workers' Compensation Board members shall end. Thereafter, appeals from the final orders of administrative law judges shall be directed to the Court of Appeals under the same standards set forth in this chapter for appeals to the Workers' Compensation Board.~~]

Section 5. KRS 342.265 is amended to read as follows:

(1) If the employee and employer and special fund or any of them reach an agreement conforming to the provisions of this chapter in regard to compensation, a memorandum of the agreement signed by the parties or their representatives shall be filed with the commissioner, and, if approved by an arbitrator or administrative law judge, shall be enforceable pursuant to KRS 342.305. Where all parties have not joined in the settlement agreement, it shall not be approved unless it is certified that the party not participating in the settlement has been served with a copy of the agreement not less than ten (10) days prior to submission of the agreement for approval. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the voluntary payment of compensation for the periods and in the amounts prescribed by this chapter, but nothing shall operate as a final settlement except a memorandum of agreement filed with the commissioner and approved by the arbitrator or administrative law judge. Upon claims settled after December 12, 1996, the special fund shall have the option of settling its liability for income benefits on the same terms as those reached between the employee and employer. Notice of the special fund exercise of the option granted in this subsection shall be made by letter of the director of the special fund mailed to the parties within ten (10) days of receipt by the director of a copy of the agreement.

(2) Settlement agreements concluded after the effective date of this Act[~~March 31, 1997~~], providing for commuted lump-sum payment of future income benefits which would otherwise be payable in amounts greater than one hundred[~~ten~~] dollars ($100)[~~($10)~~] per week shall not be approved unless there is reasonable assurance that the worker will have an adequate source of income during disability. This subsection is remedial and applies to all pending and future claims.

(3) Upon lump-sum settlement of future periodic payments, the discount rate used in the calculation of the settlement amount shall not exceed a reasonable amount fixed by the commissioner. For settlements approved after December 12, 1996, until December 31, 1997, the true discount rate shall be six percent (6%) compounded annually on each payment. Before January 1 of each year commencing in 2001[~~1998~~], the commissioner shall fix the discount rate to be utilized in the succeeding year based at one-half of one percent (0.5%) below[~~upon~~] the interest rate paid upon ten (10) year United States Treasury Notes as of August[~~July~~] 1 of the preceding year.

(4) If the parties have previously filed an agreement which has been approved by the administrative law judge or arbitrator, and compensation has been paid or is due in accordance therewith and the parties thereafter disagree, either party may invoke the provisions of KRS 342.125, which remedy shall be exclusive.

(5) An application for resolution of claim shall be held in abeyance during any period voluntary payments of income benefits are being made under any benefit sections of this chapter to the maximum which the employee's wages shall entitle unless it shall be shown that the prosecution of the employee's claim would be prejudiced by delay.

Section 6. KRS 342.267 is amended to read as follows:

(1) If an insurance carrier, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer providing workers' compensation coverage engages in claims settlement practices in violation of this chapter, or the provisions of KRS 304.12-230, the commissioner of the Department of Workers' Claims shall fine the insurance company, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) to five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each violation and if they have a pattern of violations, the commissioner may revoke the certificate of self-insurance or request the commissioner of insurance to revoke the certificate of authority of the insurance carrier.

(2) In addition to the penalties provided in subsection (1) of this section, if an employee demonstrates in any claim before an arbitrator or administrative law judge that the insurance carrier, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer engaged in conduct proscribed in subsection (1) of this section, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall impose penalties to be paid to the employee in the manner required in KRS 342.040, and an additional penalty equal to fifteen percent (15%) of past due income benefits, as well as impose costs under KRS 342.310.

(3) In addition to the penalties set forth in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, if an employee demonstrates that the carrier, self-insurance group, or self-insured employer delayed the delivery of necessary medical services or denied liability for necessary medical services without reasonable grounds, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall impose a penalty to be paid to the employee not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), as well as impose costs under KRS 342.310.

Section 7. KRS 342.270 is amended to read as follows:

(1) If the parties fail to reach an agreement in regard to compensation under this chapter, either party may make written application for resolution of claim. The application must be filed within two (2) years after the accident, or, in case of death, within two (2) years after the death, or within two (2) years after the cessation of voluntary payments, if any have been made. When the application is filed by the employee or during the pendency of that claim, he shall join all causes of action against the named employer which have accrued and which are known, or should reasonably be known, to him. Failure to join all accrued causes of action will result in such claims being barred under this chapter as waived by the employee.

(2) ~~[Except with respect to claims for benefits by reason of coal workers' pneumoconiosis,]~~The commissioner shall issue notice of the filing to all parties and shall promptly assign all applications for resolution of claims for workers who have returned to work~~[the claim]~~ to an arbitrator, and all claims for workers who have not returned to work to an administrative law judge~~[for benefit review]~~. The arbitrator or administrative law judge shall facilitate the exchange of information pertinent to the claim pursuant to administrative regulations promulgated by the commissioner. Within forty-five (45) days of the date of issuance of the notice required by this section, the employer or carrier shall file notice of claim denial or acceptance, setting forth specifically those material matters which are admitted, those which are denied, and the basis of any denial of the claim.

(3) (a) The arbitrator or administrative law judge shall conduct proceedings as necessary to the resolution of the claim and may order the parties to appear for a benefit review conference, or submit medical reports and other information, or refer the employee for medical evaluation.

(b) If an arbitrator determines in his discretion that a pending claim presents factual issues best resolved through hearing before an administrative law judge, the arbitrator may enter an order transferring the claim to an administrative law judge for further proceedings.

(4) Except where compelling circumstances justify delay and except as provided in subsection (3)(b) of this section, the arbitrator shall render a written determination upon all matters at issue within ninety (90) days of the assignment of the claim. Through written order, the arbitrator may grant or deny any benefit afforded by this chapter, including interlocutory relief.

(5) Unless timely appeal is filed as set forth in KRS 342.275, the written determination of the arbitrator shall be a final order enforceable under the provisions of KRS 342.305.

(6) Benefit review conferences shall be held at a place designated by the commissioner, provided that the proceedings shall be held within the boundaries of the Commonwealth.

(7) In claims assigned to an administrative law judge provided in subsections (2) and (3)(b) of this section, the benefit review conference shall be conducted in accordance with KRS 342.275~~[Within one hundred twenty (120) days of December 12, 1996, the commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations establishing procedures for the resolution of claims, which shall include benefit review. The administrative regulations promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this subsection shall be effective on an emergency basis and be applied to all pending claims]~~.

Section 8. KRS 342.316 is amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) The employer liable for compensation for occupational disease shall be the employer in whose employment the employee was last exposed to the hazard of the occupational disease. During any period in which this section is applicable to a coal mine, an operator who acquired it or substantially all of its assets from a person who was its operator on and after January 1, 1973, shall be liable for, and secure the payment of, the benefits which would have been payable by the prior operator under this section with respect to miners previously employed in the mine if it had not been acquired by such later operator. At the same time, however, this subsection does not relieve the prior operator of any liability under this section. Also, it does not affect whatever rights the later operator might have against the prior operator; and

(b) The time of the beginning of compensation payments shall be the date of the employee's last injurious exposure to the cause of the disease, or the date of actual disability, whichever is later.

(2) The procedure with respect to the giving of notice and determination of claims in occupational disease cases and the compensation and medical benefits payable for disability or death due to the disease shall be the same as in cases of accidental injury or death under the general provisions of this chapter, except that notice of claim shall be given to the employer as soon as practicable after the employee first experiences a distinct manifestation of an occupational disease in the form of symptoms reasonably sufficient to apprise him that he has contracted the disease, or a diagnosis of the disease is first communicated to him, whichever shall first occur.

(3) The procedure for filing occupational disease claims shall be as follows:

(a) The application for resolution of claim shall set forth the complete work history of the employee with a concise description of injurious exposure to a specific occupational disease, together with the name and addresses of the employer or employers with the approximate dates of employment. The application shall also include at least one (1) written medical report supporting his claim. This medical report shall be made on the basis of clinical or X-ray examination performed in accordance with accepted medical standards and shall contain full and complete statements of all examinations performed and the results thereof. The report shall be made by a duly-licensed physician. The commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations which prescribe the format of the medical report required by this section and the manner in which the report shall be completed.

1. For coal-related occupational pneumoconiosis claims, each clinical examination shall include a chest X-ray examination as well as spirometric tests when pulmonary dysfunction is alleged.
2. For other compensable occupational pneumoconiosis claims, each clinical examination shall include a chest X-ray examination and appropriate pulmonary function tests.

(b) To be admissible, medical evidence offered in any proceeding under this chapter for determining a claim for occupational pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust shall comply with accepted medical standards as follows:

1. Chest X-rays shall be of acceptable quality with respect to exposure and development and shall be indelibly labeled with the date of the X-ray and the name and Social Security number of the claimant. Physicians' reports of X-ray interpretations shall: identify the claimant by name and Social Security number; include the date of the X-ray and the date of the report; classify the X-ray interpretation using the latest ILO Classification and be accompanied by a completed copy of the latest ILO Classification report.
2. Spirometric testing shall be conducted in accordance with the standards recommended in the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association and the 1978 ATS epidemiology standardization project with the exception that the predicted normal values for lung function shall not be adjusted based upon the race of the subject. The FVC or the FEV1 values shall represent the largest of such values obtained from three (3) acceptable forced expiratory volume maneuvers as corrected to BTPS (body temperature, ambient pressure and saturated with water vapor at these conditions) and the variance between the two (2) largest acceptable FVC values shall be either less than five percent (5%) of the largest FVC value or less than one hundred (100) milliliters, whichever is greater. The variance between the two (2) largest acceptable FEV1 values shall be either less than five percent (5%) of the largest FEV1 value or less than one hundred (100) milliliters, whichever is greater. Reports of spirometric testing shall include a description by the physician of the procedures utilized in conducting such spirometric testing and a copy of the spirometric chart and tracings from which spirometric values submitted as evidence were taken.
3. The commissioner shall promulgate administrative regulations pursuant to KRS Chapter 13A as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section. The commissioner shall periodically review the applicability of the spirometric test values contained in the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association and may by administrative regulation substitute other spirometric test values which are found to be more closely representative of the normal pulmonary function of the coal mining population.
4. The procedure for determination of occupational disease claims shall be as follows:
    a. Immediately upon receipt of an application for resolution of claim, the commissioner shall notify the responsible employer and all other interested parties and shall furnish them with a full and complete copy of the application.

    b. The commissioner shall assign the claim to an administrative law judge[~~arbitrator~~] and shall promptly refer the employee to such physician or medical facility as the commissioner may select for examination. The report from this examination shall be provided to all parties of record. The employee shall not be referred by the commissioner for examination within two (2) years following any prior referral for examination for the same disease.

    c. Within forty-five (45) days following the notice of filing an application for resolution of claim, the employer or carrier shall notify the commissioner and all parties of record of its acceptance or denial of the claim. A denial shall be in writing and shall state the specific basis for the denial.

    d. The administrative law judge[~~arbitrator~~] shall conduct such proceedings as are necessary to resolve the claim and shall have authority to grant or deny any relief, including interlocutory relief, to order additional proof, to conduct a benefit review conference, or to take such other action as may be appropriate to resolve the claim.

    e. Unless a voluntary settlement is reached by the parties, the administrative law judge shall render the award, order, or decision within sixty (60) days following the final hearing unless an extension is mutually agreed to by all parties. The award, order, or decision shall address all contested issues and shall be enforceable under KRS 342.305[~~arbitrator shall issue a written determination within ninety (90) days following assignment of the claim. The written determination shall address all contested issues and shall be enforceable under KRS 342.305~~].
5. The procedure for appeal from a determination of an administrative law judge[~~arbitrator~~] shall be as set forth in KRS 342.285[~~342.275~~].

(4) (a) The right to compensation under this chapter resulting from an occupational disease shall be forever barred unless a claim is filed with the commissioner within three (3) years after the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard or after the employee first experiences a distinct manifestation of an occupational disease in the form of symptoms reasonably sufficient to apprise him that he has contracted the disease, whichever shall last occur; and if death results from the occupational disease within that period, unless a claim therefor be filed with the commissioner within three (3) years after the death; but that notice of claim shall be deemed waived in case of disability or death where the employer, or his insurance carrier, voluntarily makes payment therefor, or if the incurrence of the disease or the death of the employee and its cause was known to the employer. However, the right to compensation for any occupational disease shall be forever barred, unless a claim is filed with the commissioner within five (5) years from the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard, except that, in cases of radiation disease or asbestos-related disease, a claim must be filed within twenty (20) years from the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard.

(b) Income benefits for the disease of pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust or death therefrom shall not be payable unless the employee has been exposed to the hazards of such pneumoconiosis in the Commonwealth of Kentucky over a continuous period of not less than two (2) years during the ten (10) years immediately preceding the date of his last exposure to such hazard, or for any five (5) of the fifteen (15) years immediately preceding the date of such last exposure.

(5) The amount of compensation payable for disability due to occupational disease or for death from the disease, and the time and manner of its payment, shall be as provided for under the general provisions of the Workers' Compensation Act, but:

(a) In no event shall the payment exceed the amounts that were in effect at the time of the last injurious exposure;

(b) The time of the beginning of compensation payments shall be the date of the employee's last injurious exposure to the cause of the disease, or the date of actual disability, whichever is later; and

(c) In case of death where the employee has been awarded compensation or made timely claim within the period provided for in this section, and an employee has suffered continuous disability to the date of his death occurring at any time within twenty (20) years from the date of disability, his dependents, if any, shall be awarded compensation for his death as provided for under the general provisions of the Workers' Compensation Act and in this section, except as provided in KRS 342.750(6).

(6) If an autopsy has been performed, no testimony relative thereto shall be admitted unless the employer or his representative has available findings and reports of the pathologist or doctor who performed the autopsy examination.

(7) No compensation shall be payable for occupational disease if the employee at the time of entering the employment of the employer by whom compensation would otherwise be payable, falsely represented himself, in writing, as not having been previously disabled, laid off, or compensated in damages or otherwise, because of the occupational disease, or failed or omitted truthfully to state to the best of his knowledge, in answer to written inquiry made by the employer, the place, duration, and nature of previous employment, or, to the best of his knowledge, the previous state of his health.

(8) No compensation for death from occupational disease shall be payable to any person whose relationship to the deceased, which under the provisions of this chapter would give right to compensation, arose subsequent to the beginning of the first compensable disability, except only for after-born children of a marriage existing at the beginning of such disability.

(9) Whenever any claimant misconceives his remedy and files an application for adjustment of claim under the general provisions of this chapter and it is subsequently discovered, at any time before the final disposition of the cause, that the claim for injury, disability, or death which was the basis for his application should properly have been made under the provisions of this section, then the application so filed may be amended in form or substance, or both, to assert a claim for injury, disability, or death under the provisions of this section, and it shall be deemed to have been so filed as amended on the date of the original filing thereof, and compensation may be awarded that is warranted by the whole evidence pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. When amendment of this type is submitted, further or additional evidence may be heard when deemed necessary. Nothing this section contains shall be construed to be or permit a waiver of any of the provisions of this chapter with reference to notice of time for filing of a claim, but notice of filing a claim, if given or done, shall be deemed to be a notice of filing of a claim under provisions of this chapter, if given or done within the time required by this subsection.

(10) When an employee has an occupational disease that is covered by this chapter, the employer in whose employment he was last injuriously exposed to the hazard of the disease, and the employer's insurance carrier, if any, at the time of the exposure, shall alone be liable therefor, without right to contribution from any prior employer or insurance carrier, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(11) (a) Income benefits for coal-related occupational pneumoconiosis shall be paid fifty percent (50%) by the Kentucky coal workers' pneumoconiosis fund as established in KRS 342.1242 and fifty percent (50%) by the employer in whose employment the employee was last exposed to the hazard of that occupational disease.

(b) Compensation for all other occupational disease shall be paid by the employer in whose employment the employee was last exposed to the hazards of the occupational disease.

(12) A concluded claim for benefits by reason of contraction of coal workers' pneumoconiosis in the severance or processing of coal shall bar any subsequent claim for benefits by reason of contraction of coal workers' pneumoconiosis, unless there has occurred in the interim between the conclusion of the first claim and the filing of the second claim at least two (2) years of employment wherein the employee was continuously exposed to the hazards of the disease in the Commonwealth.

Section 9. KRS 342.320 is amended to read as follows:

(1) All fees of attorneys and physicians, and all charges of hospitals under this chapter, shall be subject to the approval of an administrative law judge or arbitrator pursuant to the statutes and administrative regulations.

(2) In an original claim, attorney's fees for services under this chapter on behalf of an employee shall be subject to the following maximum limits:

(a) Twenty percent (20%) of the first twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) of the award, fifteen percent (15%) of the next ten thousand dollars ($10,000), and five percent (5%) of the remainder of the award, not to exceed a maximum fee of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000)[~~two thousand dollars ($2,000) for services performed up to and including the date of a written determination by the arbitrator~~]. This fee shall be paid by the employee from the proceeds of the award or settlement.

(b)[~~ Upon an appeal by an employee from a written determination of an arbitrator or an award or order of an administrative law judge, a fee to be fixed by the administrative law judge upon consideration of the extent, quality, and complexity of services not to exceed twenty percent (20%) of the first twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) of any increased income benefits awarded, ten percent (10%) of the next fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) of increased income benefits, and five percent (5%) of the remainder of the additional income benefits awarded and not to exceed in all ten thousand dollars ($10,000). This fee shall be paid by the employee from the proceeds of the award or settlement and shall be in addition to the fee, if any, awarded under paragraph (a) of this subsection.~~

~~(c)~~] Upon an appeal by an employer or carrier from a written determination of an arbitrator or an award or order of an administrative law judge, if the employer or carrier does not prevail upon appeal, the administrative law judge shall assess[~~fix~~] an attorney's fee to be paid by the employer or carrier for the employee's attorney upon consideration of the extent, quality, and complexity of the services rendered not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) per level of appeal. This attorney's fee shall be in addition to any fee awarded under paragraph (a)[~~paragraphs (a) and (b)~~] of this subsection. However, for legal representation before an administrative law judge, the fee assessed under this paragraph shall be considered by the administrative law judge in fixing the amount of the fee to be paid under paragraph (a) of this subsection.

(c)[~~(d)~~]Attorney-client employment contracts entered into and signed after the effective date of this Act[~~prior to December 12, 1996, for injuries or date of last exposure occurring prior to December 12, 1996~~], shall[~~ not~~] be subject to the conditions of paragraphs (a) and[~~,~~] (b)[~~, and (c)~~] of this subsection[~~, and the law existing at the date of the injury or last exposure to the hazards of an occupational disease shall apply~~].

(3) In approving an allowance of attorney's fees, the administrative law judge or arbitrator shall consider the extent, complexity, and quality of services rendered, and in the case of death, the Remarriage Tables of the Dutch Royal Insurance Institute. An attorney's fee may be denied or reduced upon proof of solicitation by the attorney. However, this provision shall not be construed to preclude advertising in conformity with standards prescribed by the Kentucky Supreme Court.[~~ The date of injury or last exposure shall control the applicable maximum attorney's fee.~~]

(4) No attorney's fee in any case involving benefits under this chapter shall be paid until the fee is approved by the arbitrator or administrative law judge, and any contract for the payment of attorney's fees otherwise than as provided in this section shall be void. The motion for approval of an attorney's fee shall be submitted within thirty (30) days following finality of the claim[~~written determination of an arbitrator or last appealable order of an administrative law judge~~]. Except when the attorney's fee is to be paid by the employer or carrier, the attorney's fee shall be paid in one (1) of the following ways:

(a) The employee may pay the attorney's fee out of his personal funds or from the proceeds of a lump-sum settlement; or

(b) The arbitrator or administrative law judge, upon request of the employee, may order the payment of the attorney's fee in a lump sum directly to the attorney of record and deduct the attorney's fee from the weekly benefits payable to the employee in equal installments over the duration of the award or until the attorney's fee has been paid, commuting sufficient sums to pay the fee.

(5) At the commencement of the attorney-client relationship, the attorney shall explain to the employee the methods by which this section provides for the payment of the attorney's fee, and the employee shall select the method in which his attorney's fee is to be paid. His selection and statement that he fully understands the method to be used shall be submitted by his attorney, on a notarized form signed by the employee, at the time the motion for approval of the attorney's fee is submitted. The commissioner shall develop the format and content of the form to be used pursuant to this section. The form to be used shall list on its face all options permitted in this section for the payment of an attorney's fees and contain an explanation in nontechnical language of each method.

(6) The General Assembly declares that by the enactment of KRS 342.316(3), it is the legislative intent to encourage settlement and prompt administrative handling of those claims and thereby reduce expenses to claimants for compensation under the provisions of KRS 342.316, and the administrative law judge and arbitrator shall give due regard to this legislative intent in the handling of uncontested claims and the allowance of attorney's fees therein.

(7) In a claim that has been reopened pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, an attorney's fee may be awarded by the arbitrator or administrative law judge subject to the limits set forth in subsection (2) of this section. In awarding the attorney's fee, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall consider the factors set forth in subsection (3) of this section. If no additional amount is recovered upon reopening, no attorney's fee shall be awarded. No attorney's fee shall be allowed or approved exceeding the amounts provided in subsection (2)(a)~~[(b)]~~ of this section applicable to any additional amount recovered.

(8) Attorney's fees for representing employers in proceedings under this chapter pursuant to contract with the employer shall be subject to approval of the administrative law judge or arbitrator in the same manner as prescribed for attorney representation of employees. Employer attorney's fees are subject to the limitation of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000)~~[same limitations as to]~~ maximum fees~~[at each level]~~ except that fees for~~[representation before administrative law judges shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) and fees for representation before arbitrators shall not exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000). All such approved fees shall be paid by the employer and in no event shall exceed the amount the employer agreed by contract to pay.

~~[(9) Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the provisions of this chapter shall not be construed or interpreted to prohibit nonattorney representation of injured workers covered by this chapter.]~~

Section 10. KRS 342.710 is amended to read as follows:

(1) One of the primary purposes of this chapter shall be restoration of the injured employee to gainful employment, and preference shall be given to returning the employee to employment with the same employer or to the same or similar employment.

(2) The commissioner shall continuously study the problems of rehabilitation, both physical and vocational, and shall investigate and maintain a directory of all rehabilitation facilities, both private and public.

(3) An employee who has suffered an injury covered by this chapter shall be entitled to prompt medical rehabilitation services for whatever period of time is necessary to accomplish physical rehabilitation goals which are feasible, practical, and justifiable. When as a result of the injury he is unable to perform work for which he has previous training or experience, he shall be entitled to such vocational rehabilitation services, including retraining and job placement, as may be reasonably necessary to restore him to suitable employment. In all such instances, the arbitrator or administrative law judge shall inquire whether such services have been voluntarily offered and accepted. The arbitrator or administrative law judge on his own motion, or upon application of any party or carrier, after affording the parties an opportunity to be heard, may refer the employee to a qualified physician or facility for evaluation of the practicability of, need for, and kind of service, treatment, or training necessary and appropriate to render him fit for a remunerative occupation. Upon receipt of such report, the arbitrator or administrative law judge may order that the services and treatment recommended in the report, or such other rehabilitation treatment or service likely to return the employee to suitable, gainful employment, be provided at the expense of the employer or his insurance carrier. Vocational rehabilitation training, treatment, or service shall not extend for a period of more than fifty-two (52) weeks, except in unusual cases when by special order of the arbitrator or administrative law judge, after hearing and upon a finding, determined by sound medical evidence which indicates such further rehabilitation is feasible, practical, and justifiable, the period may be extended for additional periods, except that enhanced income benefits for permanently partially disabled workers otherwise payable under Section 11 of this Act shall only be paid during fifty-two (52) weeks of vocational rehabilitation training.

(4) Where rehabilitation requires residence at or near the facility or institution, away from the employee's customary residence, reasonable cost of his board, lodging, or travel shall be paid for by the employer or his insurance carrier.

(5) Refusal to accept rehabilitation pursuant to an order of an arbitrator or administrative law judge shall result in a fifty percent (50%) loss of compensation for each week of the period of refusal.

(6) The commissioner shall cooperate on a reciprocal basis with the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Department for Employment Services of the Kentucky Cabinet for Workforce Development. In the event medical treatment, medical rehabilitation services, or vocational rehabilitation services are purchased for an injured employee by the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation or Department for Employment Services following the refusal by the employer or his insurance carrier to provide such services, the arbitrator or administrative law judge, after affording the parties an opportunity to be heard, may order reimbursement of the cost of such treatment or services by the employer or his insurance carrier as apportioned in the award. This section shall not be interpreted to require mandatory evaluation of employees based on length of disability. Any administrative regulations promulgated pursuant to this section that require mandatory referral to a qualified rehabilitation counselor shall expire on April 4, 1994.

(7) An employee who has completed a program of retraining and has accepted a bona fide offer of employment, at a location more than fifty (50) miles from the employee's usual residence, in the field for which the employee has been trained may elect to be paid from the balance of the award a lump sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) to be paid without discount but deducted in equal amounts from weekly payments otherwise due~~[is enrolled and participating in a program of rehabilitation training pursuant to this section may elect to receive an acceleration of benefits as awarded under KRS 342.730. Such acceleration shall be available to the employee during the period of retraining, but in no event shall be paid in a weekly amount greater than sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the average weekly wage upon which the award is based, not to exceed one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage. Upon successful completion of the rehabilitation program, the total of all accelerated benefits paid shall be deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis, without discount, from weekly benefits otherwise due the employee subject to the maximum amount of the award. Such remaining benefits, if any, shall then be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee. If a program of rehabilitation training is terminated by the employee prior to completion, all sums paid on an accelerated basis shall be discounted at the rate set forth in KRS 342.265 and then deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis from weekly benefits otherwise due the employee subject to the maximum amount of the award. Such remaining benefits, after the discount, shall be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee. In no event shall this subsection be construed as requiring payment of benefits in excess of the total of those benefits which would otherwise be payable]~~ under the award.

Section 11. KRS 342.715 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of KRS 342.730, during the period the employee is eligible for permanent~~[total]~~ disability benefits and is actively participating as a full-time student in a vocational~~[or physical]~~ rehabilitation program, pursuant to an order of the arbitrator or administrative law judge, the employee's benefits shall be calculated as follows:

(a) For partial disability, the employee shall receive the greater of the permanent partial disability award or fifty percent (50%) of seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage; or

(b) For total disability, the employee shall receive eighty percent (80%) of his average weekly wage, but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage.

(2) Income benefits received under subsection (1) of this section shall be credited on a week-by-week basis against the employee's award.

(3) An employee with a partial disability award under Section 12 of this Act who is participating as a full-time student in a rehabilitation program may elect to accelerate payment of an additional sixteen and two-thirds percent (16-2/3%) of his average weekly wage so that during rehabilitative training, partial disability payments equal sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage. The additional sixteen and two-thirds percent (16-2/3%) shall be deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis, without discount, from weekly benefits otherwise due to the employee following the period of rehabilitative training. The dollar-for-dollar credit shall apply only to the additional sixteen and two-thirds percent (16-2/3%) received under this subsection and does not apply to benefits received under subsection (1) of this section. The sum total of payments remaining due under the award, if any, shall then be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee. If a program of rehabilitation training is terminated by the employee prior to completion, all sums paid on an accelerated basis under this subsection shall be discounted at the rate set forth in Section 5 of this Act and deducted on a dollar-for-dollar basis from weekly benefits otherwise due the employee subject to the maximum amount of the award. The sum total remaining on the award shall be divided by the number of weeks remaining payable under the award, and that amount shall be the weekly benefit due the employee~~[by taking eighty percent (80%) of his average weekly wage, but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state's average weekly wage, times the permanent disability rating as determined in this chapter]~~.

Section 12. KRS 342.730 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in KRS 342.732, income benefits for disability shall be paid to the employee as follows:

(a) For temporary or permanent total disability, sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage and not less than twenty percent (20%) of the state average weekly wage as determined in KRS 342.740 during that disability. Nonwork-related impairment and conditions compensable under KRS 342.732 and hearing loss covered in KRS 342.7305 shall not be considered in determining whether the employee is totally disabled for purposes of this subsection.

(b) For permanent partial disability, sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not more than seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740, multiplied by the permanent impairment rating caused by the injury or occupational disease as determined by "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment," American Medical Association, latest edition available, times the factor set forth in the table that follows:

Any temporary total disability period within the maximum period for permanent, partial disability benefits shall extend the maximum period but shall not make payable a weekly benefit exceeding that determined in subsection (1)(a) of this section. Notwithstanding any section of this chapter, except as set forth in Section 11 of this Act~~[to the contrary]~~, there shall be no minimum weekly income benefit for permanent partial disability and medical benefits shall be paid for the duration of the disability.

(c) 1. a. If following an injury, an employee returns to the type of work at the same or greater wage as earned at the time of injury, the benefit for permanent partial disability shall be determined under paragraph (b) of this subsection. During any period of cessation of that employment, temporary or permanent, for any reason, with or without cause, payment of weekly income benefits for permanent partial disability during the period of cessation shall be two (2) times the amount otherwise payable under paragraph (b) of this subsection, unless the employee does not retain the physical capacity to return to the type of work performed at the time of injury in which event the benefit shall be three (3) times the amount otherwise payable under paragraph (b) of this subsection;

b. If following an injury, an employee does not return to work at the same or greater wage than earned at the time of the injury, the benefit for permanent partial disability shall be two (2) times the amount otherwise payable in paragraph (b) of this subsection. This provision shall not be construed so as to extend the duration of payments.

c. If, due to an injury, an employee does not retain the physical capacity to return to the type of work that the employee performed at the time of injury, the benefit for permanent partial disability shall be three (3)~~[one and one-half (1-1/2)]~~ times the amount otherwise determined under paragraph (b) of this subsection, but this provision shall not be construed so as to extend the duration of payments.

2. Recognizing that limited education and advancing age impact an employee's post-injury earning capacity, an education and age factor, when applicable, shall be added to the income benefit multiplier set forth in paragraph (c)1.c. of this subsection. If at the time of injury, the employee had less than eight (8) years of formal education, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.4; if the employee had less than twelve (12) years of education or a high school General Equivalency Diploma, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.2; if the employee was age sixty (60) or older, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.6; if the employee was age fifty-five (55) or older, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.4; and if the employee was age fifty (50) or older, the multiplier shall be increased by 0.2~~[If an employee returns to work at a weekly wage equal to or greater than the average weekly wage at the time of injury, the weekly benefit for permanent partial disability otherwise payable under paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be reduced by one-half (1/2) for each week during which that employment is sustained. During any period of cessation of that employment, temporary or permanent, for any reason, with or without cause, payment of weekly benefits for permanent partial disability during the period of cessation shall be restored to the rate prescribed in paragraph (b) of this subsection]~~.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of KRS 342.125, a claim may be reopened at any time during the period of permanent partial disability in order to conform the award payments with the requirements of paragraph (c)1.a. and b. of this subsection~~[subparagraph 2. of this paragraph]~~.

(d) For permanent partial disability, if an employee has a permanent impairment~~[disability]~~ rating of less than twenty-six percent (26%)~~[fifty percent (50%) or less]~~ as a result of a work-related injury, the compensable permanent partial disability period shall be four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, and if the permanent impairment~~[disability]~~ rating is greater than twenty-six percent (26%)~~[fifty percent (50%)]~~, the compensable permanent partial disability period shall be five hundred twenty (520) weeks~~[from the date the impairment or disability exceeding fifty percent (50%) arises]~~. Benefits payable for permanent partial disability shall not exceed~~[~~

~~ninety-nine percent (99%) of~~] sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage as determined under KRS 342.740 and shall not exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage[~~, except for benefits payable pursuant to paragraph (c)1. of this subsection, which shall not exceed one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage, nor shall benefits for permanent partial disability be payable for a period exceeding five hundred twenty (520) weeks, notwithstanding that multiplication of impairment times the factor set forth in paragraph (b) of this subsection would yield a greater percentage of disability~~].

(e) For permanent partial disability, impairment for nonwork-related disabilities, conditions previously compensated under this chapter, conditions covered by KRS 342.732, and hearing loss covered in KRS 342.7305 shall not be considered in determining the extent of disability or duration of benefits under this chapter.

(2) The period of any income benefits payable under this section on account of any injury shall be reduced by the period of income benefits paid or payable under this chapter on account of a prior injury if income benefits in both cases are for disability of the same member or function, or different parts of the same member or function, and the income benefits payable on account of the subsequent disability in whole or in part would duplicate the income benefits payable on account of the pre-existing disability.

(3) Subject to the limitations contained in subsection (4) of this section, when an employee, who has sustained disability compensable under this chapter, and who has filed, or could have timely filed, a valid claim in his lifetime, dies from causes other than the injury before the expiration of the compensable period specified, portions of the income benefits specified and unpaid at the individual's death, whether or not accrued or due at his death, shall be paid, under an award made before or after the death, for the period specified in this section, to and for the benefit of the persons within the classes at the time of death and in the proportions and upon the conditions specified in this section and in the order named:

(a) To the widow or widower, if there is no child under the age of eighteen (18) or incapable of self-support, benefits at fifty percent (50%) of the rate specified in the award; or

(b) If there are both a widow or widower and such a child or children, to the widow or widower, forty-five percent (45%) of the benefits specified in the award, or forty percent (40%) of those benefits if such a child or children are not living with the widow or widower; and, in addition thereto, fifteen percent (15%) of the benefits specified in the award to each child. Where there are more than two (2) such children, the indemnity benefits payable on account of two (2) children shall be divided among all the children, share and share alike; or

(c) If there is no widow or widower but such a child or children, then to the child or children, fifty percent (50%) of the benefits specified in the award to one (1) child, and fifteen percent (15%) of those benefits to a second child, to be shared equally. If there are more than two (2) such children, the indemnity benefits payable on account of two (2) children shall be divided equally among all the children; or

(d) If there is no survivor in the above classes, then the parent or parents wholly or partly actually dependent for support upon the decedent, or to other wholly or partly actually dependent relatives listed in paragraph (g) of subsection (1) of KRS 342.750, or to both, in proportions that the commissioner provides by administrative regulation.

(e) To the widow or widower upon remarriage, up to two (2) years, benefits as specified in the award and proportioned under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this subsection, if the proportioned benefits remain unpaid, to be paid in a lump sum.

(4) All income benefits payable pursuant to this chapter shall be reduced by twenty-five percent (25%)[~~terminate~~] as of the date upon which the employee qualifies for normal old-age Social Security retirement benefits under the United States Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. secs. 301 to 1397f; by an additional twenty-five percent (25%) of the original income benefit one (1) year thereafter; by an additional twenty-five percent (25%) of the original benefit at the beginning of the third year, and shall terminate entirely at the end of the employee's third year of receipt of old-age Social Security retirement benefits, except that the employee shall be paid full income benefits as set forth in the award for a period of[~~, or~~] two (2) years after the employee's injury or last exposure, and thereafter if the employee qualifies for normal old-age Social Security retirement, benefits shall be reduced at the rate of twenty-five percent (25%) per year over a period of three (3) years and terminate entirely at the end of the third year[~~whichever last occurs~~]. In like manner all income benefits payable pursuant to this chapter to spouses and dependents shall terminate when such spouses and dependents qualify for benefits under the United States Social Security Act by reason of the fact that the worker upon whose earnings entitlement is based would have qualified for normal old-age Social Security retirement benefits.

(5) All income benefits pursuant to this chapter otherwise payable for temporary total and permanent total disability shall be offset by unemployment insurance benefits paid for unemployment during the period of temporary total or permanent total disability.

(6) All income benefits otherwise payable pursuant to this chapter shall be offset by payments made under an exclusively employer-funded disability or sickness and accident plan which extends income benefits for the same disability covered by this chapter, except where the employer-funded plan contains an internal offset provision for workers' compensation benefits which is inconsistent with this provision.

(7) If an employee receiving a permanent total disability award returns to work, that employee shall notify the employer, payment obligor, insurance carrier, or special fund as applicable.

Section 13. KRS 342.732 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, income benefits and retraining incentive benefits for occupational pneumoconiosis resulting from exposure to coal dust in the severance or processing of coal shall be paid as follows:

(a) If an employee has a radiographic classification of category 1/0~~[1/1 or 1/2]~~, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, resulting from exposure to coal dust, which is validated by report of X-ray which conforms to the standards for X-rays contained in subsection (3) of KRS 342.316, and respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal-mine dust as evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" of the American Medical Association, or category 1/1 or 1/2 pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of eighty percent (80%) or more, the employee shall be awarded a one (1) time only retraining incentive benefit which shall be an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740 but not more than seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage, payable semimonthly for a period not to exceed one hundred four (104) weeks. These benefits shall be paid only while the employee is enrolled and actively and successfully participating as a full-time student taking twenty-four (24) or more instruction hours per week in a bona fide training or education program approved under administrative regulations to be promulgated by the commissioner. The employer shall also pay, directly to the institution conducting the training or education program, instruction, tuition, and material costs not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000). The benefit shall not be paid for a period in which the employee ceases to participate in the program. In no event shall the benefit be paid to the employee while the employee is working in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a). The period of one hundred four (104) weeks during which this benefit is payable shall begin no later than the one-hundred-eightieth day after the order awarding the benefit becomes final. If an employee completes an approved program of training in less than one hundred four (104) weeks and that employee has accepted a bona fide offer of employment at a location more than fifty (50) miles from the employee's usual residence in the field for which the employee has been trained, the employee shall be paid in a lump sum for relocation the lesser of the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) or the amount remaining in unpaid weekly training benefits as provided by this section.

(b) If an employee has a radiographic classification of category 1/0, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, resulting from exposure to coal dust, which is validated by a report of X-ray which conforms to the standards for X-rays contained in subsection (3) of Section 8 of this Act, and respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal-mine dust as evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" of the American Medical Association, or category 1/1 or 1/2 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values, or category 2/1, 2/2, or 2/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and spirometric test values of eighty percent (80%) or more of the predicted normal values, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee has a disability rating of twenty-five percent (25%) resulting from exposure to coal dust, and the employee shall be awarded an income benefit which shall be an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of twenty-five percent (25%). The award shall be payable for a period not to exceed four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance or processing of coal as defined in subsection (23)(a) of Section 1 of this Act.

(c) If it is determined that an employee has a radiographic classification of category 1/1 or 1/2, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics and respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal dust as evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association, or category 2/1, 2/2, or 2/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values, or category 3/2 or 3/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis and spirometric test values of eighty percent (80%) or more, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee has a~~[an occupational]~~ disability rating of fifty percent (50%) resulting from exposure to coal dust, and the employee shall be awarded an income benefit which shall be an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined in KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of fifty percent (50%)~~[but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as~~

~~determined by KRS 342.740~~]. The award shall be payable for a period not to exceed four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a).

(d)[~~(c)~~]If it is determined that an employee has a radiographic classification of category 2/1, 2/2, or 2/3 coal workers' pneumoconiosis, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, and respiratory impairment as evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the chapter on the respiratory system of the latest edition available of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" published by the American Medical Association or category 3/2 or 3/3 pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of fifty-five percent (55%) or more but less than eighty percent (80%) of the predicted normal values, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee has a[~~is~~] seventy-five percent (75%) disability rating[~~disabled~~] resulting from exposure to coal dust and the employee shall be awarded income benefits which shall be equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of seventy-five percent (75%)[~~ but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage and not less than twenty percent (20%) of the state average weekly wage as determined by KRS 342.740~~]. The award shall be payable for a period not to exceed five hundred twenty (520) weeks. Income benefits awarded under this paragraph shall be payable to the employee during the disability, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a).

(e)[~~(d)~~]If it is determined that an employee has radiographic classification of 3/2 or 3/3 occupational pneumoconiosis based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographs, and respiratory impairment evidenced by spirometric test values of less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the predicted normal values contained in the latest edition of the "Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment" of the American Medical Association, or progressive massive fibrosis, based on the latest ILO International Classification of Radiographics, there shall be an irrebuttable presumption that the employee is totally disabled resulting from exposure to coal dust, and the employee shall be awarded income benefits equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not more than one hundred percent (100%) of the state average weekly wage and not less than twenty percent (20%) of the average weekly wage of the state as determined by KRS 342.740. Income benefits awarded under this paragraph shall be payable to the employee during such disability, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in KRS 342.0011(23)(a).

(2) The presence of respiratory impairment resulting from exposure to coal dust shall be established by using the largest forced vital capacity (FVC) value or the largest forced expiratory volume in one second (FEV1) value determined from the totality of all such spirometric testing performed in compliance with accepted medical standards.

(3) When valid spirometric tests are not provided and a physician certifies to the administrative law judge or arbitrator that spirometric testing is not medically indicated because of the permanent physical condition of the employee, the administrative law judge or arbitrator shall make his decision on the basis of evidence admitted which establishes the existence of a diagnosis of occupational pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment due to the occupational pneumoconiosis. The evidence submitted by the employee shall include one (1) or more arterial blood gas studies performed in accordance with accepted medical standards. Income benefits shall not be awarded in the absence of valid spirometric tests if the claimant's PO2 arterial blood gas value is equal to or higher than one (1) standard deviation from the normal value obtained by the formula (103.5 - 0.42X), where X equals the claimant's age at the time of the arterial blood gas study.

(4) If a miner has fifteen (15) years or more of employment in coal mines or processing facilities as shown by Social Security records and has developed coal workers' pneumoconiosis and respiratory impairment criteria established in this section, it shall be rebuttably presumed that coal dust exposure was a significant contributing factor in the development of respiratory impairment.

(5) A miner who is age fifty-five (55) or older on the date of the last occupational exposure to coal dust who is otherwise entitled to an award of retraining incentive benefits provided in subsection (1)(a) of this section may elect to be awarded in lieu thereof an amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3%) of the employee's average weekly wage but not to exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the state average weekly wage as determined in KRS 342.740 multiplied by the disability rating of twenty-five percent (25%). The award shall be payable for a period of four hundred twenty-five (425) weeks, but in no event shall benefits be paid under this subsection while the employee continues to work in the mining industry in the severance and processing of coal as defined in subsection (23)(a) of Section 1 of this Act.

(6) In no event shall income benefits awarded under this section be stacked or added to income benefits awarded under KRS 342.730 to extend the period of disability.

(7) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 3 of this Act, all claims for benefits under this section, which were filed for the last injurious occupational exposure to coal dust occurring between December 12, 1996, and the effective date of this Act, shall be reconsidered under administrative regulations promulgated by the commissioner and may be reopened upon the existing record and benefits shall be awarded thereon as if the entitlement standards established by the amendments to this section were effective at the time of the last exposure. Any benefits previously granted by an award or settlement shall be credited against the reconsidered award or settlement. All additional benefits shall be paid from the Kentucky Coal Workers' Pneumoconiosis Fund, the provisions of KRS 342.1242 notwithstanding. Claims which were dismissed upon a finding that the miner had not proven development of coal workers' pneumoconiosis and claims which were dismissed for reasons other than failure to meet medical criteria shall not be reopened or reconsidered under this subsection.

(8) The claim of any miner last exposed to the occupational hazards of coal workers' pneumoconiosis between December 12, 1996, and the effective date of this Act, shall nonetheless be governed by the provisions of this section as amended on the effective date of this Act with any additional benefits awarded to the miner under this section to be paid from the Kentucky coal workers' pneumoconiosis fund, the provisions of KRS 342.1242 notwithstanding.

(9) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 8(4)(a) of this Act, the claim of any miner last exposed between December 12, 1996, and December 11, 1997, may be filed with the commissioner within four (4) years after the last exposure to the occupational hazard or after the employee first experiences a distinct manifestation of the occupational disease. The right to compensation shall be forever barred, however, unless a claim is filed within five (5) years from the last injurious exposure to the occupational hazard. Any additional benefits awarded to the miner under this section shall to be paid by the Kentucky Coal Workers' Fund, the provisions of KRS 342.1242 notwithstanding.

Section 14. KRS 342.750 is amended to read as follows:

If the injury causes death, income benefits shall be payable in the amount and to or for the benefit of the persons following, subject to the maximum limits specified in subsections (3) and (4) of this section:

(1) (a) If there is a widow or widower and no children of the deceased, to such widow or widower 50 percent of the average weekly wage of the deceased, during widowhood or widowerhood.

(b) To the widow or widower, if there is a child or children living with the widow or widower, 45 percent of the average weekly wage of the deceased, or 40 percent, if such child is not or such children are not living with a widow or widower, and in addition thereto, 15 percent for each child. Where there are more than two (2) such children, the indemnity benefits payable on account of such children shall be divided among such children, share and share alike.

(c) Two (2) years' indemnity benefits in one (1) lump sum shall be payable to a widow or widower upon remarriage.

(d) To the children, if there is no widow or widower, 50 percent of such wage for one (1) child, and 15 percent for each additional child, divided among such children, share and share alike.

(e) The income benefits payable on account of any child under this section shall cease when he dies, marries, or reaches the age of eighteen (18), or when a child over such age ceases to be physically or mentally incapable of self-support, or if actually dependent ceases to be actually dependent, or, if enrolled as a full-time student in any accredited educational institution, ceases to be so enrolled or reaches the age of 22. A child who originally qualified as a dependent by virtue of being less than 18 years of age may, upon reaching age 18, continue to qualify if he satisfies the tests of being physically or mentally incapable of self-support, actual dependency, or enrollment in an educational institution.

(f) To each parent, if actually dependent, 25 percent.

(g) To the brothers, sisters, grandparents, and grandchildren, if actually dependent, 25 percent to each such dependent. If there should be more than one (1) of such dependents, the total income benefits payable on account of such dependents shall be divided share and share alike.

(h) The income benefits of each beneficiary under paragraphs (f) and (g) above shall be paid until he, if a parent or grandparent, dies, marries, or ceases to be actually dependent, or, if a brother, sister, or grandchild, dies, marries, or reaches the age of eighteen (18) or if over that age ceases to be physically or mentally incapable of self-support, or ceases to be actually dependent.

(i) A person ceases to be actually dependent when his income from all sources exclusive of workers' compensation income benefits is such that, if it had existed at the time as of which the original determination of actual dependency was made, it would not have supported a finding of dependency. In any event, if the present annual income of an actual dependent person including workers' compensation income benefits at any time exceeds the total annual support received by the person from the deceased employee, the workers' compensation benefits shall be reduced so that the total annual income is no greater than such amount of annual support received from the deceased employee. In all cases, a person found to be actually dependent shall be presumed to be no longer actually dependent three (3) years after each time as of which the person was found to be actually dependent. This presumption may be overcome by proof of continued actual dependency as defined in this subsection, but full payments shall not be suspended during the pendency of any proceeding to determine dependency.

(2) Upon the cessation of income benefits under this section to or on account of any person, the income benefits of the remaining persons entitled to income benefits for the unexpired part of the period during which their income benefits are payable shall be that which such persons would have received if they had been the only persons entitled to income benefits at the time of the decedent's death.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the average weekly wage of the employee shall be taken as not more than the average weekly wage of the state as determined in KRS 342.740. In no case shall the aggregate weekly income benefits payable to all beneficiaries under this section exceed the maximum income benefit that was or would have been payable for total disability to the deceased, including benefits to his dependents.

(4) The maximum weekly income benefits payable for all beneficiaries in case of death shall not exceed 75 percent of the average weekly wage of the deceased as calculated under KRS 342.140, subject to the maximum limits in subsection (3) above. The maximum aggregate limitation shall not operate in case of payment of two (2) years' income benefits to the widow or widower upon remarriage as provided under paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section, to prevent the immediate recalculation and payments of benefits to the remaining beneficiaries as provided under subsection (2) of this section, but the weekly income benefits as to such remaining beneficiaries shall not exceed the weekly income benefit that was or would have been payable for total disability to the deceased. The classes of beneficiaries specified in paragraphs (a), (b), and (d) of subsection (1) of this section shall have priority over all other beneficiaries in the apportionment of income benefits. If the provisions of this subsection should prevent payment to other beneficiaries of the income benefits to the full extent otherwise provided for by this section, the gross remaining amount of income benefits payable to such other beneficiaries shall be apportioned by class, proportionate to the interest of each class in the remaining amount. Parents shall be considered to be in one class and those specified in paragraph (f) of subsection (1) in another class.

(b) A district board of education that provides a sick-leave program for teachers shall provide the same, or similar, sick-leave program for the board's other employees.

(3) Days of sick leave not taken by an employee or a teacher during any school year shall accumulate without limitation and be credited to that employee or teacher. Any accumulated sick leave days credited to an employee or a teacher shall remain so credited in the event he transfers his place of employment from one (1) school district to another within the state or to the Kentucky Department of Education or transfers from the Department of Education to a school district[~~ after June 30, 1985~~].

(4) Accumulated days of sick leave shall be granted to a teacher if, prior to the opening day of the school year, an affidavit or a certificate of a physician is presented to the district board of education, stating that the teacher is unable to commence his duties on the opening day of the school year, but will be able to assume his duties within a period of time that the board determines to be reasonable.

The sick leave bank shall be administered in accordance with a policy adopted by the board of education.

(7) (a) A district board of education shall establish a sick leave donation program to permit teachers to voluntarily contribute sick leave to teachers in the same school district who are in need of an extended absence from school. A teacher may not request an amount of sick leave be donated that reduces his or her sick leave balance to less than fifteen (15) days.

(b) A teacher may receive donations of sick leave if:

1. The teacher or a member of his or her immediate family suffers from a medically certified illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that has caused or is likely to cause the teacher to be absent for at least ten (10) days;

The rate of compensation for each unused sick leave day shall be based on a percentage of the daily salary rate calculated from the employee's or teacher's last annual salary, not to exceed thirty percent (30%). Payment for unused sick leave days shall be incorporated into the annual salary of the final year of service; provided that the member makes the regular retirement contribution for members on the sick leave payment. The accumulation of these days includes unused sick leave days held by the employee or teacher at the time of implementation of the program.

(10) Any statute to the contrary notwithstanding, employees and teachers who transferred from the Department of Education to a school district, from a school district to the Department of Education, or from one (1) school district to another school district after July 15, 1981, shall receive credit for any unused sick leave to which the employee or teacher was entitled on the date of transfer. The election to participate shall be made by the governing authority of the participating employer and shall be certified in writing to the system on forms prescribed by the board. The certification shall provide for equal treatment of all employees participating under this section;

(b) A school board that provides a sick-leave program for certified employees shall provide the same or similar sick-leave program for its noncertified employees and shall purchase service credit with the retirement system for each retiring employee's unused sick leave not in excess of six (6) months, which shall be treated as specified in subsection (3)(a) of this section. Sick leave in excess of six (6) months shall be treated as specified in subsection (3)(b) of this section.

(3) (a) Upon the member's notification of retirement as prescribed in KRS 61.590, the employer shall certify the retiring employee's unused, accumulated sick-leave balance to the system. The member's sick-leave balance, expressed in days, shall be divided by the average number of working days per month in county service and rounded to the nearest number of whole months. A maximum of six (6) months of the member's sick-leave balance, expressed in months, shall be added to his service credit for the purpose of determining his annual retirement allowance under KRS 78.510 to 78.852 and for the purpose of determining whether the member is eligible to receive a retirement allowance under KRS 78.510 to 78.852. Accumulated sick-leave in excess of six (6) months shall be added to the member's service credit if the member or employer pays to the retirement system the value of the additional service credit based on the formula adopted by the board.

(b) The employer may elect to pay fifty percent (50%) of the cost of the sick leave in excess of six (6) months on behalf of its employees. The employee shall pay the remaining fifty percent (50%). The payment by the employer shall not be deposited to the member's account. Service credit shall not be credited to the member's account until both the employer's and employee's payments are received by the retirement system.

(c) Once the employer elects to pay all or fifty percent (50%) of the cost on behalf of its employees, it shall continue to pay the same portion of the cost.

(4) The system shall compute the cost of the sick-leave credit of each retiring employee and bill the employer accordingly. The employer shall remit payment within thirty (30) days from receipt of the bill.

(5) (a) As an alternative to subsections (1), (2)(b), (3), (4), and (6) of this section, any agency participating in the County Employees Retirement System which has formally adopted a sick-leave program that is universally administered to its employees, or administered to a majority of eligible employees in accordance with subsection (6) of this section, shall, at the time of termination, compensate the employee for unused sick-leave days the employee has accumulated which it is the uniform policy of the agency to allow. The rate of compensation for each unused sick-leave day shall be based on the daily salary rate calculated from the employee's current rate of pay. Payment for unused sick-leave days shall be incorporated into the employee's final compensation if the employee and employer make the regular employee and employer contributions, respectively, on the sick-leave payment. The number of sick-leave days for which the employee is compensated shall be divided by the average number of working days per month in county service and rounded to the nearest number of whole months. This number of months shall be added to the employee's total service credit and to the number of months used to determine creditable compensation, pursuant to KRS 78.510, but no more than sixty (60) months shall be used to determine final compensation; or

(b) As an alternative to subsection (2)(b) of this Section, any school board that has adopted a sick-leave program that is the same, or similar, to its sick-leave program for teachers, may compensate its employees, at the time of termination, for unused sick-leave days as provided in subsection (9) of Section 1 of this Act.

(6) Any city of the first class that has two (2) or more sick-leave programs for its employees may purchase service credit with the retirement system for up to six (6) months of unused sick leave for each retiring employee who participates in the sick-leave program administered to a majority of the eligible employees of the city. An employee participating in a sick-leave program administered to a minority of the eligible employees shall become eligible for the purchase of service credit under this subsection when the employee commences participating in the sick-leave program that is administered to a majority of the eligible employees of the city.

The board shall seek the advice of the Office of Education Accountability; the School Curriculum, Assessment, and Accountability Council; and the National Technical Advisory Panel on Assessment and Accountability in the development of the program. The statewide assessment program shall not include measurement of a student's ability to become a self-sufficient individual or to become a responsible member of a family, work group, or community.

(2) The assessment program shall include the following components:

(a) A customized or commercially available norm-referenced test that measures, to the extent possible, the core content for assessment. The test shall provide valid and reliable results for individual students;

These assessments shall measure, to the extent possible, the core content for assessment;

(c) Writing portfolios consisting of samples of student work. After receiving the advice of the Writing Advisory Committee, the Kentucky Board of Education shall, by September 1 following April 14, 1998, file a notice of intent to promulgate an administrative regulation which reduces the teacher and student time involved in preparing a writing portfolio. Time reduction strategies included in the administrative regulation may include, but are not limited to, limiting the time spent on a single portfolio entry, limiting the number of revisions, or collecting entries at different grade levels;

(d) Performance assessment events for schools that have students enrolled in performing arts organizations sponsoring sanctioned events with an established protocol for adjudication; and

(e) A technically sound longitudinal comparison of the assessment results for the same students.

(3) Kentucky teachers shall have a significant role in the design of the assessments. The assessments shall be designed to:

(b) Provide valid and reliable scores for schools. If scores are reported for students individually, they shall be valid and reliable; and

(c) Minimize the time spent by teachers and students on assessment.

(4) Results from the state assessment under this section shall be reported to the school districts and schools no later than

September 15 of the following school year.

(5) The Department of Education shall gather information to establish the validity of the assessment and accountability program. It shall develop a biennial plan for validation studies that shall include, but not be limited to, the consistency of student results across multiple measures, the congruence of school scores with documented improvements in instructional practice and the school learning environment, and the potential for all scores to yield fair, consistent, and accurate student performance level and school accountability decisions. Validation activities shall take place in a timely manner and shall include a review of the accuracy of scores assigned to students and schools, as well as of the testing materials. The plan shall be submitted to the Commission by July 1 of the first year of each biennium. A summary of the findings shall be submitted to the Legislative Research Commission by September 1 of the second year of the biennium.

(6) In addition to statewide testing for the purpose of determining school success, the board shall have the responsibility of assisting local school districts and schools in developing and using continuous assessment strategies needed to assure student progress. The continuous assessment shall provide diagnostic information to improve instruction to meet the needs of individual students.

HB 756, AN ACT relating to special wastes.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 224.50-760 is amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) For purposes of this section and KRS 224.46-580(7), special wastes are those wastes of high volume and low hazard which include but are not limited to mining wastes, utility wastes (fly ash, bottom ash, scrubber sludge), sludge from water treatment facilities and wastewater treatment facilities, cement kiln dust, gas and oil drilling muds, and oil production brines. Other wastes may be designated special wastes by the cabinet;

(b) Disposal sites or facilities for special wastes shall be exempt from the provisions of KRS 224.46-520 and the provisions of KRS 224.43-810, 224.43-815, and 224.46-820 to 224.46-870 but may be regulated by the cabinet consistent with the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended (Public Law 94-580), and regulations issued pursuant thereto, unless the special waste received is listed or meets the criteria of a hazardous waste in regulations pursuant to KRS 224.46-510(3). If the special waste is a hazardous waste as specified in regulations pursuant to KRS 224.46-510(3), the site or facility shall be required by the cabinet to comply with the provisions of KRS 224.46-520 but shall not be subject to the requirements of KRS 224.40-310(6);

(c) Generators of special wastes shall register with the cabinet and be subject to the provisions of KRS 224.46-510, except for generators of coal mining wastes which shall be regulated pursuant to the provisions of KRS Chapter 350;

(d) The cabinet shall, when promulgating regulations affecting special waste, recognize special waste as a separate and distinct indivisible category and shall recognize the distinct differences between the category of special wastes and other hazardous wastes and solid wastes as defined in KRS 224.01-010(31)(a) and KRS 109.012(9) due to the fact that special wastes have large volume but low hazardousness. The cabinet's regulations for the generation, transport, recordkeeping, reporting, treatment, storage, and disposal shall reflect those distinct differences. The cabinet's regulations shall recognize and incorporate, where appropriate, and if consistent with the policies of KRS 224.46-510 to 224.46-570, any deadline extensions, studies, and specialized requirements for specific kinds of special wastes that are or may be undertaken at the federal or other levels of government; and

(e) It is the intent of the General Assembly that the processing of sludge from water treatment facilities and wastewater treatment facilities by composting shall be considered an industrial process. The cabinet shall, when promulgating administrative regulations affecting sludge from water treatment facilities and wastewater treatment facilities, consider the treatment of this sludge by composting as an industrial process. The provisions of this paragraph and subsection (3) of this section shall not apply to a city, county, urban-county government, charter county government, or special district as defined in KRS Chapter 65, or to a public or private college or university that processes its own water treatment or wastewater treatment sludge by composting on property owned or leased by the city, county, urban-county government, charter county government,[~~or~~] special district, or public or private college or university.

(2) Generators of waste oil shall be exempt from the provisions of KRS 224.46-510 and 224.46-520 so long as waste oil is not specified as a hazardous waste in regulations pursuant to KRS 224.46-510(3) but may be regulated by the cabinet consistent with the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended (Public Law 94-580), and regulations issued pursuant thereto.

(3) A permit application to establish, operate, or modify a composting site or composting facility for the processing of water treatment sludge or wastewater treatment sludge, shall require immediately the general public notice provided for in KRS 224.40-310(4) and (5). If a hearing is requested, no permit to establish, operate, or modify a composting site or facility shall be issued prior to the public hearing. The hearing shall be held within the county where the composting site or facility is located or proposed. Composting of this sludge shall be considered an industrial process.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 151.230 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The cabinet may establish minimum standards by administrative regulation for floodplain management. Except in local governments containing a city of the first class, local governments may establish their own standards by ordinance.

(2) In counties containing a city of the first class that have adopted a floodplain ordinance, standards relating to substantial improvements to a structure damaged by flood waters shall not be more restrictive than that prescribed by the cabinet. For purposes of administrative regulations and ordinances relating to floodplain management, "substantial improvement" shall mean any combination of repairs, reconstruction, alteration, or improvements to a structure taking place during a one (1) year period in which the cumulative cost equals or exceeds fifty percent (50%) of the market value of the structure.

(3) On the effective date of this Act, for purposes of floodplain management, all property shall be assessed by the property valuation administrator at one hundred percent (100%) of its fair market value with no loss of value to land or structures incurred as a result of any previous flood damage prior to the effective date of this Act. The fair market value of a structure shall be reestablished as that value calculated by the property valuation administrator on or before December 30 of each year.~~[Whenever the cabinet prescribes a standard by rule or regulation, such rule or regulation shall establish a minimum requirement concerning the matter covered thereby and shall be construed in relation to a local law, rule or regulation.]~~

Section 2. Whereas recent flood damage combined with restrictive floodplain management practices are making it nearly impossible for citizens of the Commonwealth to make necessary and affordable improvements to their homes, an emergency is declared to exist, and this Act takes effect upon its passage and approval by the Governor or upon its otherwise becoming a law.

The Committee Substitute No. 1 to HB 957 is as follows:

(4) On the effective date of this Act, for purposes of floodplain management, all property shall be assessed by the property valuation administrator at one hundred percent (100%) of its fair market value with no loss of value to land or structures incurred as a result of any previous flood damage prior to the effective date of this Act. The fair market value of a structure shall be reestablished as that value calculated by the property valuation administrator on or before December 30 of each year.~~[Whenever the cabinet prescribes a standard by rule or regulation, such rule or regulation shall establish a minimum requirement concerning the matter covered thereby and shall be construed in relation to a local law, rule or regulation.]~~

(5) The provisions of subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall expire on December 31, 2002, unless reenacted by the local governing body. Nothing in this section, shall prohibit a county containing a city of the first class from amending its own floodplain ordinance at any time.

(1) "Hazardous position" means*:*

(a) Any position whose principal duties involve active law enforcement, including the positions of probation and parole officer and Commonwealth detective, active fire suppression or prevention, or other positions, including, but not limited to, pilots of the Transportation Cabinet and paramedics and emergency medical technicians, with duties that require frequent exposure to a high degree of danger or peril and also require a high degree of physical conditioning*;*~~[.]~~

(b) ~~[Hazardous positions shall include]~~Positions in the Department of Corrections in state correctional institutions and the Kentucky Correctional Psychiatric Center with duties that regularly and routinely require face-to-face contact with inmates*;*

(c) Alcoholic Beverage Control officers, as of July 1, 1998, the date of Kentucky Retirement Systems board approval. Notwithstanding the actual date of board approval, for purposes of determining benefits for an Alcoholic Beverage Control officer killed in the line of duty between April 1, 1998, and July 1, 1998, the agency participation date in the hazardous duty retirement program shall be considered to be April 1, 1998. Any Alcoholic Beverage Control officer killed in the line of duty after April 1, 1998, shall receive benefits as provided in KRS 16.601, 61.640, and 61.702.

(2) Each employer may request of the board hazardous duty coverage for those positions as defined in subsection (1) of this section, but a county, narrowly defined as one (1) of Kentucky's one hundred and twenty (120) counties, the provisions of KRS 78.510(3) notwithstanding, shall request hazardous duty coverage for its full-time paid firefighters. Upon request, each employer shall certify to the system, in the manner prescribed by the board, the names of all employees working in a hazardous position as defined in subsection (1) of this section for which coverage is requested. The certification of the employer shall bear the approval of the agent or agency responsible for the budget of the department or county indicating that the required employer contributions have been provided for in the budget of the employing department or county. The system shall determine whether the employees whose names have been certified by the employer are working in positions meeting the definition of a hazardous position as provided by subsection (1) of this section.

(3) (a) An employee participating in the Kentucky Employees Retirement System who is determined by the system to be working in a hazardous position in accordance with subsection (2) of this section shall contribute, for each pay period for which he receives compensation, seven percent (7%) of his creditable compensation. An employee participating in the County Employees Retirement System who is determined by the system to be working in a hazardous duty position in accordance with subsection (2) of this section shall contribute, for each pay period for which he receives compensation, eight percent (8%) of his creditable compensation;

(b) Each employer shall pay employer contributions based on the creditable compensation of the employees determined by the system to be working in a hazardous position at the employer contribution rate as determined by the board. The rate shall be determined by actuarial methods consistent with the provisions of KRS 61.565;

(c) If the employer participated in the system prior to electing hazardous duty coverage, the employer may pay to the system the cost in order that the nonhazardous service be credited as hazardous service, or the employer may establish a payment schedule for payment of the cost of the hazardous service above that which would be funded within the existing employer contribution rate. The employer may extend the payment schedule to a maximum of thirty (30) years. Payments made by the employer under this subsection shall be deposited to the retirement allowance account of the proper retirement system and these funds shall not be considered accumulated contributions of the individual members. If the employer elects not to make the additional payment, the employee may make the lump-sum payment in his own behalf or may pay by increments. Payments made by the employee under this subsection shall not be picked up, as described in KRS 61.560(4), by the employer. If neither the employer nor employee makes the payment, the service prior to hazardous coverage shall remain nonhazardous.

(4) Except for the employee contribution by members of the Kentucky Employees Retirement System, the normal retirement age, retirement allowance, other benefits, eligibility requirements, rights, and responsibilities of a member in a hazardous position, as prescribed by subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section, and the responsibilities, rights, and requirements of his employer shall be as prescribed for a member and employer participating in the State Police Retirement System as provided for by KRS 16.510 to 16.652. The employee contribution for a member of the Kentucky Employees Retirement System shall be seven percent (7%).

(5) Any person employed in a hazardous position after July 1, 1972, shall be required to undergo a thorough medical examination by a licensed physician, and a copy of the medical report of the physician shall be retained on file by the employee's department or county and made available to the system upon request.

(6) If doubt exists regarding the benefits payable to a hazardous position employee under this section, the board shall determine the benefits payable under KRS 61.515 to 61.705, or 78.520 to 78.852, or 16.510 to 16.652.

Premium rates for a health benefit plan issued or renewed to an individual, a small group, or an association on or after April 10, 1998, shall be subject to the following provisions:

(1) The premium rates charged during a rating period to an individual with similar case characteristics for the same coverage, or the rates that could be charged to that individual under the rating system for that class of business, shall not vary from the index rate by more than thirty-five percent (35%) of the index rate.

(2) The percentage increase in the premium rate charged to an individual for a new rating period shall not exceed the sum of the following:

(a) The percentage change in the new business premium rate measured from the first day of the prior rating period to the first day of the new rating period. In the case of a class of business for which the insurer is not issuing new policies, the insurer shall use the percentage change in the base premium rate;

(b) Any adjustment, not to exceed ten percent (10%) annually and adjusted pro rata for rating periods of less than one (1) year, due to the claim experience, mental and physical condition, including medical condition, medical history, and health service utilization, or duration of coverage of the individual and dependents as determined from the insurer's rate manual for the class of business; and

(c) Any adjustment due to change in coverage or change in the case characteristics of the individual as determined from the insurer's rate manual for the class of business.

(3) (a) Notwithstanding subsection (2) of this section, at renewal the insurer may replace modified community rates with rates determined in accordance with subsection (1) of this section.

(b) Within the limitations set out in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, the premium rate for health benefit plans issued to high-risk individuals under modified community rating who at the time of issue had a high-cost condition during the period from July 15, 1995, until April 10, 1998, for a new rating period:

1. Shall not be increased by more than twenty-five percent (25%) on either of the first two (2) renewal dates after April 10, 1998. The total increase shall not result in a rate that exceeds thirty-five percent (35%) of the index rate. Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section, the program established under KRS 304.17A-400 shall reimburse the insurer for any premium loss incurred under this subsection to the extent that funds are available;

2. May be increased without restriction to the applicable rate as determined by the insurer's rate manual on the third renewal date after April 10, 1998; and

3. Shall be subject to subsection (2) of this section on the fourth renewal date after April 10, 1998, and thereafter.

(4) The premium rates charged during a rating period to a small group or to an association member with similar case characteristics for the same coverage, or the rates that could be charged to that small group or that association member under the rating system for that class of business, shall not vary from the index rate by more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the index rate.

(5) The percentage increase in the premium rate charged to a small group or to an association member for a new rating period shall not exceed the sum of the following:

(a) The percentage change in the new business premium rate measured from the first day of the prior rating period to the first day of the new rating period. In the case of a class of business for which the insurer is not issuing new policies, the insurer shall use the percentage change in the base premium rate;

(b) Any adjustment, not to exceed fifteen percent (15%) annually and adjusted pro rata for rating periods of less than one (1) year, due to the claims experience, mental and physical condition, including medical condition, medical history, and health service utilization, or duration of coverage of the employee, association member, or dependents as determined from the insurer's rate manual for the class of business; and

(c) Any adjustment due to change in coverage or change in the case characteristics of the small group or association member as determined from the insurer's rate manual for the class of business.

(7) Adjustments in rates for claims experience, mental and physical condition, including medical condition, medical history, and health service utilization, health status, and duration of coverage shall not be charged to an individual group member or the member's dependents. Any adjustment shall be applied uniformly to the rates charged for all individuals and dependents of the small group.

(8) The commissioner may approve establishment of additional classes of business upon application to the commissioner and a finding by the commissioner that the additional class would enhance the efficiency and fairness for the applicable market segment.

(a) The index rate for a rating period for any class of business shall not exceed the index rate for any other class of business in that market segment by more than ten percent (10%).

(b) An insurer may establish a separate class of business only to reflect substantial differences in expected claims experience or administrative cost related to the following reasons:

1. The insurer uses more than one (1) type of system for the marketing and sale of the health benefit plans; or

2. The insurer has acquired a class of business from another insurer.

(9) For the purpose of this section, a health benefit plan that utilizes a restricted provider network shall not be considered similar coverage to a health benefit plan that does not utilize a restricted provider network if utilization of the restricted provider network results in substantial differences in claims costs.

(10) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, an insurer shall not be required to utilize the experience of those individuals with high-cost conditions who enrolled in its plans between July 15, 1995, and April 10, 1998, to develop the insurer's index rate for its individual policies.

(11) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent an insurer from offering incentives to participate in a program of disease prevention or health improvement.

(12) Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to any health benefit plan issued or renewed to an employer-organized association or to any health benefit plan providing benefits to an individual, employer, small group, or other person on account of that person's status as a member of an employer-organized association.

Section 10. KRS 304.17A-0954 is amended to read as follows:

(d) "Index rate" means, for each class of business as to a rating period, the arithmetic average of the applicable base premium rate and the corresponding premium rate. Where an employer-organized association has some members who are not employers, the employer-organized association may establish a separate index rate for its members who are not employers and that separate index rate shall comply with this section ~~[has the meaning provided in KRS 304.17A-005]~~.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, including but not limited to KRS 304.17A-0952, the amount or rate of premiums for an employer-organized association health plan may be determined, subject to the restrictions of subsection (3) of this section and the exemption of subsection (6) of this section, based upon the experience or projected experience of the employer-organized associations whose employers or other members obtain group coverage under the plan. Without the written consent of the employer-organized association filed with the commissioner, the index rate for the employer-organized association shall be calculated solely with respect to that employer-organized association and shall not be tied to, linked to, or otherwise adversely affected by any other index rate used by the issuing insurer.

(3) The following restrictions shall be applied in calculating the permissible amount or rate of premiums for an employer-organized health insurance plan:

(a) The premium rates charged during a rating period to members of the employer-organized association with similar characteristics for the same or similar coverage, or the premium rates that could be charged to a member of the employer-organized association under the rating system for that class of business, shall not vary from its own index rate:

1. By more than thirty-five percent (35%) of the index rate for its own members who are not employers if the employer-organized association elects to establish a separate index rate for the non-employer members;

(b) The percentage increase in the premium rate charged to an employer or other member of an employer-organized association for a new rating period shall not exceed the sum of the following:

1. The percentage change in the new business premium rate for the employer-organized association measured from the first day of the prior rating period to the first day of the new rating period;

2. Any adjustment, not to exceed fifteen percent (15%) annually and adjusted pro rata for rating period of less than one (1) year, due to the claims experience, mental and physical condition, including medical condition, medical history, and health service utilization, or duration of coverage of the member as determined from the insurer's rate manual; and

3. Any adjustment due to change in coverage or change in the case characteristics of the member as determined by the insurer's rate manual.

(c) An employer-organized association that has established a separate index rate for its own members who are not employers may calculate a separate maximum percentage increase in the premium rate under paragraph (b) of this subsection for members who are not employers.

(4) In utilizing case characteristics, the ratio of the highest rate factor to the lowest rate factor within a class of business shall not exceed five to one (5:1). For purpose of this limitation, case characteristics include age, gender, occupation or industry, and geographic area.

(5) For the purpose of this section, a health insurance contract that utilizes a restricted provider network shall not be considered similar coverage to a health insurance contract that does not utilize a restricted provider network if utilization of the restricted provider network results in measurable differences in claims costs.

(6) The restrictions of subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall not apply to an employer member of an employer-organized association health plan that has more than fifty (50) employees within the state in each of twenty (20) or more calendar weeks in the current or preceding calendar year.".
